New Deal Backs Solon Who Voted Just Like George

ACON ACCORDS DUNLAP ACCOLADE

eorge Denounces Ouster f RFC Attorney; Calls ction a 'Challenge.'

By ED BRIDGES.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—ing what he termed administran intervention in Connecticut, ator George charged inconsisy to New Deal opposition to fight for re-election.

He told an audience stirred by "old south" spirit that Attor- General Homer Cummings re- tly went into Connecticut and ed re-election of Democratic ator Lonergan "whose record voting on New Deal legislation, near as I can recall it, was ntical to my own."

Again avoiding any direct at- k on the President, the senior ator called him by name for first time since the chief exitive indorsed United States trict Attorney Lawrence S. mp as his successor-choice at rnesville last week.

Should Go Into Every State.

"If President Roosevelt can me into Georgia and ask you to ct any one person as your repentative," said the gray-haired ator, "then it is his duty to go o every state and select the n he wants to come to conss."

Paying tribute to Lonergan as fine man, who I hope will come k to the senate," George said this senator "with the same rec- d as mine, in a doubtful New gland state, is entitled to the te of the administration, then I se the question that I also am titled to it."

Appearance of Edgar Dunlap, utenant of the George camign who resigned "by request" sterday as Georgia attorney for e Reconstruction Finance Corration, drew an accolade from e audience. Confederate flags furled and a band drummed out ixie" as he was called to the ge beside George.

Martins Crow As Owl Army Goes Corrigan

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 19.—Page Douglas Corrigan!

A scheduled war between the martins and the owls was postponed tonight because the owls landed in Marietta, Ohio, instead of Marietta, Ga.

News of the wrong-way owls arrived as scores of persons stood in and around the city park, while overhead the hosts of martins chirped bird language "razzberries" at their "lost" enemies.

The more cynical martins "hooted" in derision, and called attention to the much-publicized wisdom of the owl, gleefully pointing out "the wise old birds couldn't even find their way here."

Councilman Explains.

Frank B. Wellons, councilman, in charge of owls, explained:

"As you know, city council appropriated $50 to buy owls to get rid of the martins. They're pests. Owls were ordered, and shipment was supposed to arrive this morning from Sarasota, Fla.

"Somebody made a mistake somewhere along the line, and the owls went to the Ohio town. But we'll get 'em in the morning—three to four dozen of the finest, fightin'est owls that ever hooted a hoot."

As dusk settled over the park and scores of martins flew from tree to tree, the spectators on the ground were distinctly "agin 'em." Someone fired a torpedo, temporarily routing the birds. Their reappearance was met with loud handclapping, but these efforts failed to either rout or rile the martins.

Mayor Pro Tem. Present.

John W. Lewis, mayor pro tem., in the absence of Mayor T. M. Brumby, who is in Florida, was among those standing on the courthouse steps, eyes martinward.

"Martins are funny birds," he said. "They go out in the country early in the morning, and then come back here around twilight. They're afraid to stay out in the country at night, because the hawks and owls might get 'em. Martins and owls just don't seem to get along."

Lewis also explained that perches for the owls will be placed in all the big oaks in the park.

"If they're not," he said, "the martins will just fly over to a tree where there are no owls and just laugh."

Runciman Announces Czech Concessions

PRAHA, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Announcement by Viscount Runciman, British unofficial mediator, that Premier Hodza has agreed to turn over several important government posts to Sudeten Germans tonight revived hope that a deadlock in the Czechoslovak minority negotiations may be broken.

Lord Runciman's mission revealed, in a communique, that seven postoffice positions will be given to the followers of Konrad Henlein, the "Czechoslovak Hitler," within two weeks and that shortly afterward Germans will be installed as governors in four districts.

DOWNTOWN STORE IS ROBBED OF $300 BY LONE BANDIT

MAKES HIS ESCAPE IN WAITING AUTO

Girl Employe of Establishment Faints After Handing Over Money.

Atlanta's wave of banditry and downtown holdups gained additional momentum early last night with the $300 holdup of a Jacobs drug store at Broad and Alabama streets. As in previous holdups of recent weeks the gunmen-robbers escaped.

Policemen arrived on the scene after being summoned by telephone by store employes following the raid. At a late hour last night detectives and policemen had made no arrests and were without clues as to the identity of the robbers.

Scores were attracted to the scene by the presence of a number of police squad cars and other policemen swarming in and around the store several minutes after the robbers had made their get-away.

"Hands Over Dough."

Approaching Miss Helen Gentry, 17, of 736 Grant street, cashier of the drug store, the bandit explained he didn't "want to be bothered with small change." She complied with his request "to hand over the dough." She promptly fainted as the gunman left the store with his $300 loot. She was revived by other store employes.

"He told me it was a holdup," Miss Gentry said, "but he did not draw a pistol. He threw a small sack on the counter and ordered me to fill it with nothing but big bills." Patrons and persons on the street said they saw the bandit fleeing and that he had a gun in his hand.

Miss Gentry described the bandit as being about 30 years old, weighing 145 pounds and 5 feet 10 inches tall. The bandit was seen to escape in a waiting automobile with a pal at the wheel. The holdup was swiftly executed. It occurred shortly before the store's closing time.

Unaware of Holdup.

Sam E. Caudell, 28, assistant manager, said the $300 loot included $40 belonging to the Georgia Power Company, representing streetcar tokens sold at the store. Caudell and four other employes were in the store when the holdup took place, but were unaware anything was amiss until Miss Gentry fainted.

Last night's robbery follows in the wake of a series of downtown and business district bandit forays in which the robbers have escaped with untold amounts of cash and merchandise. Gunplay has featured several of these daring raids. Police have been baffled in their attempts to capture the gunmen or to obtain clues as to their identities. Many believe a "rob-

Lawmakers Are Accused as Communist at Un-American Hearing

Abram Sobel, former soldier of the Loyalist forces in Spain, shown in the lower left insert, demonstrated to a house committee investigating un-American activities, the "Soviet salute"—the raised clenched fist—which another witness, Alvin I. Halpern, testified that Representative O'Connell, Montana Democrat, and Representative Bernard, Farmer-Laborite, of Minnesota, gave when they were in Spain recently addressing the Loyalist troops. In the larger picture O'Connell (center left) and Bernard (center right) are shown upon their arrival in New York city being greeted by supporters after Mayor Hague had barred them from Jersey City because of "Communist activities." Mayor Hague listed Congressman O'Connell as one of the "ten leading Communists in the United States." Last month in a campaign speech in Montana, where he was seeking reelection, Congressman O'Connell said: "President Roosevelt wants me re-elected to beat the political machine of Senator Wheeler." Senator Wheeler was a bitter opponent of the President's court plan.

Woman Witness Charges All Federal Theater Projects of WPA Are Dominated by Radicals.

U. S. ASKS PROBE OF WAR ACTIVITIES

Committee Told That 'Workers' Alliance' and Players Are Connected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Two veterans of the war in Spain testified in positive terms before the house committee on un-American activities today that two United States representatives, Jerry J. O'Connell, Montana Democrat, and John T. Bernard, Farmer-Laborite, Minnesota, repeatedly used the "Soviet salute"—the raised clinched fist—when addressing members of the Spanish government army while on a visit to that country.

Alvin I. Halpern, who told the committee yesterday about his experiences in the Spanish loyalist army, said today the house members spoke at a dedication of pillars at a hospital at Benicasim,

"They told us we were fighting for a great cause—democracy—to wipe out Fascism,' Halpern said. "They gave the regular Soviet salute—a clenched fist in an upright position.

"They told us if we wanted anything after we returned to this country to let them know."

Abraham Sobel, another youth who had related his experiences in Spain yesterday, told the committee today under questioning by Representative Starnes, Democrat, Alabama, that speakers for the Roxbury Workers' Club and the American League Against War and Fascism, of which he was a member, solicited his enlistment in the Spanish fighting forces.

Investigation Asked.

And on the basis of the veterans' testimony that Communists had recruited them for the war in Spain, the committee asked the Justice Department to investigate the question of whether there had been any violation of a law forbidding the enlistment of American citizens for duty in foreign armies. At the department, it was said, the request would be given careful attention.

In addition, Mrs. Hazel Huffman, of New York city, testified that the Federal Theater Project

SALARY INCREASES VETOED BY MAYOR

$50 a Month Raise for Airport Manager Only Boost Given Approval.

Mayor Hartsfield vetoed proposed salary increases for 27 city employes yesterday but approved a $50-a-month raise for Jack Gray, manager of the municipal airport.

The mayor explained he vetoed the increases in the interest of economy, pointing out that salary restorations during his administration had already amounted to several hundred thousand dollars.

City employes affected by the mayor's veto were 10 window tellers in the tax assessor's office, who would have been raised from $175 to $200 a month, and 17 men in the water department, whose increases would have averaged approximately $10 per month. The pay increases were voted Monday by city council.

Mayor Hartsfield said he signed the paper raising Gray's salary from $250 to $300 a month "because Gray is in charge of a very responsible department of government and investigation discloses that, considering the size

BRITISH OFFICIAL SEIZED BY NAZIS

Berlin Refuses Demand To Free Passport Officer; Declines to Explain.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Annoyed and puzzled, the British foreign office today demanded that Germany release Captain Thomas Kendrick, British passport officer in Vienna, who was arrested by German secret police, and explain the detention.

Tonight, however, Germany had done neither, despite the fact the British government informed Berlin it takes "a serious view" of the incident.

Acting on instructions from the foreign office, the ambassador to Germany, Sir Nevile Henderson, asked the German government for "a full and speedy explanation" of Kendrick's arrest.

Kendrick, for 13 years passport control officer in Vienna, did not have diplomatic immunity, and consequently Germany was within her rights in arresting him, and was under no obligation to speed her explanation.

Wife Released.

Kendrick was arrested Wednesday at Freilassing, Bavaria, where he and his wife expected to cross the border into Switzerland en route to England for a vacation. Mrs. Kendrick was permitted to return to her home in Vienna while Kendrick was taken to Vienna's Metropole hotel.

One theory of the arrest was that the Nazis thought Kendrick had issued too many passport visas to refugees. He has kept his passport office open 12 hours a day and is reported to have issued as many as 200 visas a day since the annexation of Austria.

Other theories were that he was suspected of being a spy, or was suspected of evading the German currency laws.

Kendrick was said to be under strict, but "honorary confinement." Nobody was permitted to see him, but his wife was allowed to send him food.

It was learned reliably that no

Hines Is Linked to Racket By Harlem Policy Bankers

Two Negro Lottery Ex-Principals Testify to Payments for Election Campaigns and Weekly "Protection" Payments; Schultz Organization Methods Described.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Two thick-chested, chocolate-colored former policy bankers of Harlem calmly told a supreme court jury today Dutch Schultz, founder of the numbers racket to which Tammany Boss Jimmy Hines is charged with giving political protection, contributed thousands of dollars from racket funds to election campaigns here.

Well-dressed, dignified Alexander Pompez, who once defied—but not for long—the Dutchman's orders to surrender his bank to the racket, testified $10,000 was taken from his treasury in the fall of 1933.

Money for Campaign.

"George Weinberg say that they was going to use this money for a campaign," Pompez said. "He say that every bank in this combination was going to donate money for this particular campaign."

Another former policy magnate whose business was taken over by the Schultz strong-arm gang in 1931, "Big Joe" Ison, linked the contributions more directly to Hines, against whom Weinberg, who was indicted with him, already has testified.

Every week, Ison said, $125 was deducted from the profit sheet of his bank as an expense item.

"They said to me," he testified, "that $125 is going to Jimmy Hines' club."

Campaign Funds.

A little later, with the same cool detachment, he related he was told that two deductions of $2,500 were for "campaign funds" to help elect a "Democratic mayor and the Democratic district attorney."

That was in 1933 when Fiorello LaGuardia was Republican mayoral candidate opposing Joseph V. McKee, on the "recovery" party ticket, and John P. O'Brien, Democrat. LaGuardia won.

The Democratic candidate for district attorney was William Copeland Dodge, a former magistrate, and one of the three men named by District Attorney Dewey as having been "intimidated, bribed or influenced" by Hines in his alleged role as conspirator with Schultz and the others to provide protection for the racket.

Dewey, in his opening statement to the jury, charged Hines received $500 a week in cash from the Schultz mob, and that the gangster further contributed to Dodge's campaign fund and aided him through the use of "floaters" at the polls.

"Big Joe," known familiarly to

Wife of Philharmonic Conductor Critically Wounded in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Emita Krueger, 38, wife of Karl Krueger, conductor of the Kansas City philharmonic orchestra, was shot and critically wounded as she left her automobile on Hollywood boulevard today and police later arrested for questioning the husband of a woman formerly employed in the Krueger household.

Mrs. Krueger was shot in the chest and side by a man who had followed her machine in another car. Although scores of persons witnessed the shooting, he escaped.

Detective Lieutenant George Whaley said Mrs. Krueger told officers: "Frances' husband shot me. He's been following me for three days. I hope he left my little girl alone."

The lieutenant said Mrs. Frances McDonald, wife of Charles E. McDonald, the man taken in custody for questioning, telephoned police and asked that a guard be placed about her home.

Lieutenant Whaley, to whom McDonald surrendered, quoted him as blaming Mrs. Krueger for causing an estrangement between himself and his wife.

McDonald started divorce proceedings against his wife a week ago and, according to his attorney, had planned to charge that Mrs. Krueger exercised undue influence over Mrs. McDonald.

of WPA was dominated by radicals and using public funds to spread the doctrine of Communism.

Explaining she had obtained her information from an extended personal investigation, she asserted that "propaganda plays were the rule," that employes of the project were compelled to join Communist organizations and that the project was violating the law which created it by employing aliens.

Mrs. Huffman, plump and matronly, a registered nurse who said she also had had 26 weeks' experience in the theater, told the committee her first contact with the theater project was as an "undercover investigator" for the city relief administration in New York. Later, she said, she continued her studies as the representative of 900 professional actors who objected to theater project methods.

Organizations Linked.

Her testimony repeatedly linked the "Workers' Alliance," which she called a Communist organization, with the project. Actors and other employes were forced to become members and contribute to it if they were to keep their jobs, she said.

"They are told," she said, "'if you don't join you are going to get the pink slip,' which is a dismissal slip."

In addition, she asserted that literature of the Workers' Alliance and of many more radical organizations was distributed throughout the projects "on government property," that bulletin boards were "cluttered up with it."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—(AP) Representative Jerry O'Connell, of Montana, declared today that testimony "by two cheap soldiers of fortune" before the Dies house committee on un-American activities that he had used the Communist salute while in Spain was "completely false."

O'Connell said "these simple, silly, idiotic charges" were the answer of Representative Harold Mosier, member of the committee, "to my participation in his overwhelming defeat" in the Ohio primaries.

"Dies and Mosier have continually given the Fascist salute on the floor of the house of representatives during the last congress," O'Connell charged in a statement.

Solution of Georgia's Problems Is Held Dependent on Counties

Difficulties Cannot Be Erased Without Their Resurgence, Raisty Declares.

Solution of the social and economic problems which confront Georgia is definitely dependent upon a resurgence on the part of county governments, Dr. Lloyd B. Raisty, professor of business and commerce at the University of Georgia, declared last night in an address before the Georgia Academy of Social Sciences.

Reviewing fiscal difficulties which beset the counties, Dr. Raisty declared there could be no real contribution to progress in the state on the part of the local governments until the people as a whole can be shocked out of their lethargic attitude.

Real Challenge.

"Here we have a real challenge to our democracy," he declared. "Our counties can assist in meeting that challenge only when the democracy of property gives way to the democracy of people. So long as we permit our traditional attitude toward functions and county taxation to prevail, little can be accomplished in attempting to put our local governmental organizations in step with the national and state programs for economic and social betterment."

Dr. Raisty said: "We in Georgia are in the happy position of having both our national and state administrations pledged to the humanizing of our social and economic relationships. Whatever may be the personalities involved in our political struggles, we in Georgia must, of necessity, if we are to see an acceleration of the gains we have already made, accept the implication of liberalism as opposed to conservatism," the speaker declared.

The speaker said the county fiscal problems were an important issue in the question of rehabilitation in Georgia in that the counties must be prepared to meet certain obligations imposed upon them if they are to assume their just share in the strenuous attempt for social and economic betterment.

Fund Restrictions.

He touched on changes in fiscal organization and practices which, he said, have tended to restrict the flow of funds into the county treasuries, citing specifically tax exemptions on personal property and homesteads and the adoption of the tax on intangibles. These, however, are offset to some extent by the direct allocation to the counties of funds derived from the discounting of the Western & Atlantic railroad rentals, he said.

Dr. Raisty cited statistics to show the amount of taxable valuations removed by the homestead and personal property exemptions, listing 144 counties in his survey, but declared that none of these counties can possibly be hurt by the exemptions, as the money received from the distribution of the railroad rentals exceeds any possible loss.

"In advocating increased taxation on the part of our counties," he continued, "I do not mean we should go wild on old age pensions and aid to the poor and dependent. Actually the demand for old age pensions and unemployment benefits is the symptom of an unbalanced economic and social structure. Given a proper balance, our people should be able to take care of themselves."

Dr. Cullen Gosnell, chairman of the academy, announced at the conclusion of the address that Ralph McGill, of The Constitution, would be the principal speaker at the September meeting of the organization. He also announced the appointment of an executive committee, required under a change in the constitution, composed of Hinton Longino, chairman; Judge Blanton Fortson, of Athens; Richard Courts, Mrs. Frances Dwyer and Colonel W. C. Hinson.

"As to the others, I regret very much the necessity of vetoing the paper, and if I were to consider the dictates of my heart I would like to see all employes get as much money as possible," he added. "While I sympathize with the employes I don't think further salary increases are wise at this time."

He called attention to the fact that while his administration had restored salaries and removed the necessity of paying them in script, at the same time it was pledged to maintain solvent government and remain within the revenue.

1,500,000 Tests Show Men Not Best Drivers

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Women are just as good automobile drivers as men, the highway safety educational department of the Aetna Life Insurance Company reported today.

"Men react a little more quickly than women when it comes to steering and braking," Barnett L. Golub, of Hartford, Conn., in charge of the department's driving tests, told a company meeting here. "But the women even the score by being better night drivers. They are not bothered as much by headlight glare we find. In addition, women are better at reading light signals. They are not color blind."

Golub based his report on examination of the driving habits of 1,500,000 persons throughout the country in the last two years.

HALEY CHALLENGES RFC HEAD ON LOANS

Ratio of Lending to Deposits on Increase, He Asserts.

CUMMING, Ga., Aug. 19.—By way of answering the challenge of Chairman Jesse Jones, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, that the banks of the country are doing less than their duty in supplying the credit needs of their communities, President Joel T. Haley, of the Georgia Bankers' Association, in addressing a zone meeting of bankers in Cumming today, asserted this indictment could not be laid at the doors of southern banks.

In every southern state from which figures were obtainable, in comparison of bank lending on June 30 with the same date a year earlier, he showed loans are up and deposits are down from a year ago. In Georgia loans have increased $4,000,000; in Mississippi, $7,000,000; North Carolina, $6,000,000; South Carolina, $4,000,000, and in Florida $3,000,000. With the shrinkage that has been experienced in deposits, the ratio of bank lending has accordingly shown a very substantial increase.

Liberal Policy.

"Our loans are fairly well distributed—commercial, commodity, monthly repayment, real estate and agricultural," he said.

"Our loan policy has always been rather liberal and we feel that it has paid our bank and the community to have had that policy. Now, don't misunderstand me—I do not mean foolishly liberal. We realize that a bank's first duty is to its depositors and, secondly, to its stockholders, but we also realize that its real service is to the community in which it is located.

"We find that our customers for the most part prefer doing business with the bank rather than through government agencies and it has been our policy, where we could safely do so, to take care of the farmers' needs through the bank, so it would not be necessary for them to call on the government. In fact, I think banks in various communities are, for the most part, taking care of the needs of their communities and the government is not being called on to make so many loans as it formerly did.

No Complaints.

"The attitude of loan committees is as liberal as circumstances will permit, and all banks are willing to serve their communities in a well-rounded way in the best possible manner.

"In fact, I do not think you will be able to find a just complaint from borrowers as to their not being able to obtain loans on which they are able to give fairly good security.

"The banks throughout the state of Georgia are doing a splendid job and I do not know of any line of business that is doing its work more conscientiously and more effectively than the banks of Georgia at this time."

Haley is executive vice president of the City National Bank of Albany. Other speakers were H. G. Hutchinson, vice president of Commercial & Savings Bank, Griffin, on bank earnings, and J. S. Speer, vice president Bank of Dahlonega, on banker-farmer co-operation.

ber-gang" is conducting and planning the operations. The series of holdups began early in the year. On April 2, two bandits obtained $1,500 from the Atlanta Oak Flooring Company. It was a pay roll and the holdup was staged about the noon hour.

Bandits Are Active.

In January trolley bandits were active. On January 14 trolley bandits escaped police in a gun battle after walking into a trap set by police. In this holdup $21 was obtained.

Another major raid was that of the Lee Baking Company's plant in which $538 was obtained. This was also at the noon hour.

Death has also figured in several holdups here this year. Tom Watson Adcock, a grocer, was shot to death by robbers in a West End store holdup. Ben Lahman, another grocer, was shot when he resisted bandits at his store on Irwin street.

Two holdups were staged on August 16. Nearly $100 was obtained in these two raids. A merchant on Georgia avenue and a truck driver were the victims.

On August 7 two bandits obtained $450 in cash in an oil company foray. Six employes were held prisoners. This holdup was also staged about noon.

A few days ago a night watchman was slain by safecrackers who failed to blow the safe. No less than a dozen safe jobs have been perpetrated in the city this year.

The largest haul was made a few weeks ago when a bandit gang robbed a downtown department store of several thousand dollars in cash and checks. Last night's holdup was just across the street from this establishment.

4 YOUTHS CAPTURED IN 2-WAY RADIO TRAP

Four youths, captured at Confederate and Moreland avenues when police arranged a trap by means of two-way radio communication, were charged with suspicion of robbery last night.

They were listed as James Smith, 16, of 305 Loomis avenue; Frank Burnett, 17, and James Pressley, 19, both of 730 Molley street, and Clay Newton, 19, of 305 Boulevard.

BRITISH OFFICIAL SEIZED BY NAZIS

formal charge had been placed against him.

The number of Jewish refugees coming to Britain from German Austria is beginning to alarm some British officials. A London magistrate, Herbert Metcalfe, sentenced three persons accused of landing without permission from Germany to six months at hard labor and recommended their deportation.

Metcalfe described the entry of "stateless" Jews into Britain as "outrageous."

Inquiry Promised.

The British ambassador to Berlin yesterday asked the German foreign office for full particulars of the charge against Kendrick, and he was promised a full inquiry would be made.

A special messenger rushed Sir Nevile Henderson's first report to Viscount Halifax, British foreign minister, at his Yorkshire home.

Some quarters believed Kendrick may have been arrested as a result of his passport description as a captain, his war-time rank, and that he failed to prove he was not on the active list.

British reserve officers were warned last week that they had to have special certificates to "avoid trouble" in traveling through German border regions.

(This theory was much discussed in foreign quarters in Berlin, where it was pointed out foreign reserve officers had been cautioned against entering certain border districts during the current army maneuvers.

(The theory Kendrick was held on a currency regulation was discounted by German officials, who said this was unlikely in view of the fact he was detained at the Hotel Metropole in Vienna, the secret police headquarters. Currency law violators, they said, are taken to headquarters of the economic police.

POWERS STRIVE TO STOP "UNDERGROUND RAILWAY"

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 19.—(AP)—France and Switzerland strengthened their border patrols today to block an increasing flow of refugees from Germany and German Austria along a secret "underground railway" through Nazi territory.

The Swiss mobilized all available police in the northern cantons and the central council at Berne promised to send additional troops to the frontier if necessary to reinforce 300 guards already there.

French border guards were reinforced at all points of entry from Switzerland and Germany. Credentials of all train passengers from Switzerland and Germany were carefully checked.

Swiss detectives questioned 400 refugees who made themselves known to the authorities at Basel after crossing the frontier. They pieced together an amazing tale showing existence of a 20th century combination of the "Scarlet Pimpernel" of the French revolution and the "underground railway" of American Civil War days.

The flood of refugees, most of whom are Jews, is not a chance migration, the detectives learned, but the result of operations by a secret organization among Germans and German Austrians who feared for their future under the Nazi regime.

Cash came from refugees who left Germany and Austria before the Nazi regime, and from various underground sources in Germany and German Austria.

The means came from German families sympathetic to refugees in all parts of Nazidom. They provided regular shelter for the refugees on their way to the frontier.

From Austria, the Swiss police said, many refugees went through Bavaria not far from the Berchtesgaden mountain retreat of Chancellor Hitler, and then into Switzerland or France from Baden.

The refugees explained that the route of the "underground railway" went through Bavaria because control in Bavaria and Baden was less strict than in newly-Nazified Austria.

TEXTILE WAGE BODY PLAN IS DRAWN UP

Administrator Tentatively Committed to Establishment Within a Week.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP) The textile industry definitely became the No. 1 job for Wage-Hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews today in the government's latest effort to establish minimum wages and maximum hours for interstate industry.

Andrews emerged from a three-hour conference with a dozen textile experts, tentatively committed to a plan to set up within a week an industry wage committee for the textile field that will cover silk, rayon and cotton activities.

Under present plans the textile committee will be the first practical demonstration of the wage-hour law, and experts said they expected its operations would go far to establish precedents and a pattern for the broad scale efforts to establish the highest minimum wages commensurate with economic and employment conditions.

Donald Nelson, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Company, Chicago, who will be chairman of the textile committee, estimated after the conference that 600,000 workers would be affected by the committee's wage determination.

The wage-hour law, which becomes operative October 24, will impose automatically a 25-cent-an-hour minimum on all interstate industry, rising to 30 cents the second year and 40 cents at the end of seven years.

But in the interim, industry wage committees may determine a higher minimum than the law calls for up to 40 cents an hour.

Wage cutting before the law starts operating was described by Andrews as "economically unsound and very unfair to labor."

He said he hoped it would not be done, although department experts reported wage cutting in some sections of the southern textile industry.

WAR IS CONTINUED ON CHICAGO BOOKIES

Blackboard in 'Sneak Joint' Is Chopped Up by Attorney's Axmen.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. — (AP) — State's Attorney Courtney's axmen chopped up another handbook today and threw the horse race bookies into the jitters.

None knew where the lightning would strike next since Courtney turned from the courts to axes to wreck the handbook industry here. Many folded up quietly or moved, awaiting better days.

It was the third successive day the prosecutor's choppers swung lustily. Today they reduced blackboards and a blackjack table to junk in a "sneak joint"—a room rented for $10 a day on the second floor of a West Side lodge and club building. The manager and doorman were arrested.

Two of the big town's toniest handbooks were ruined yesterday and Wednesday—one on Randolph street in the Loop, where Hymie (Loud Mouth) Levin and Frank (Chew Tobacco) Ryan held forth, the other on Superior street, fringing the Gold Coast.

Not even a junkman could get enthusiastic over what the axmen left of upholstery, chromium chairs, race charts, scratch sheets, ticket windows and payoff counters.

THE PURGE IN ACTION

Even after the Roosevelt speech at Barnesville the people of Georgia could not bring themselves to believe that the New Deal administration, headed by the President, would stoop to the infamous tactics of the "purge," to gain their poltical ends.

Yet, the ousting of Edgar Dunlap from an office he has filled with distinction for five years, brought emphatic proof that the forces of the New Deal will not hesitate to use any power, any pressure, at their command to defeat Senator Walter F. George for re-election.

When it was first charged that the federal administration would use federal funds to compel political obedience at the polls, the nation could not believe in the possibility of such a misuse of power and of tax moneys.

Yet, if a distinguished lawyer, in important office, can be turned out of that job because his political support is given to a candidate not pleasing to the President and his New Deal advisers, who can doubt that humbler men, even those who depend upon WPA checks for subsistence, have been told, "vote right, or get out."

The tragic ruthlessness of the Dunlap case is emphasized by the well-known fact that other federal officeholders are working with all their effort on behalf of Lawrence Camp, on whom the Presidential benediction has fallen, in complete immunity from loss of their jobs.

In fact, federal officeholders at Washington have been sent to Georgia for the specific purpose of aiding the Camp candidacy.

The President himself, by his Barnesville speech, set the precedent. By that speech he established the rule that the recipient of the gift of office from the Democratic party is justified in injecting himself into what should be a purely state issue.

President Roosevelt claimed that right because he is a part-time resident of Georgia.

Edgar Dunlap is a native of Georgia and has lived all his life in this state save for those years when he was serving the nation, in the army, during the World War.

In theoretic analysis it may not be well for a federal officeholder to be politically active.

If this be true, however, it is true for all, regardless of what candidate they support. It is true, even, for the President of the United States himself.

It is true for every federal official in Georgia, whether his support be given to George, Camp, Talmadge or McRae.

What is sauce for the goose is, or should be, sauce for the gander.

AIRPORT CRISIS

The award of an airmail contract to Eastern Air Lines, extending service from Houston to Brownsville, Texas, again emphasizes the need to extend the limits of the Atlanta municipal airport, Candler field.

The extension of the airline makes Atlanta a vital link in a major international air route into Mexico, Central and South America, with connections at Brownsville with Pan-American planes in the Latin-American service. It will require the use of larger passenger planes than those now in service on the southern route but these cannot, with safety, be placed in operation unless and until the runways at Candler field have been lengthened to provide adequate landing and take-off area.

If this is not done, Atlanta will lose its status as a major air line hub and be relegated to the position of an intermediate stop for "local" air liners.

The time has arrived when further delay will endanger the value to the city of the airport. The cost of improvement is as nothing in comparison to the value of the services now provided and to be extended in the near future.

Air-minded civic leaders have long predicted the city would face a crisis of this nature. It has now developed, and now is the time for city officials to heed the warning and act quickly.

THE SOUTH MUST ACT

It is generally accepted that the answer to the south's problems lies chiefly in action by southerners to speed the processes that have proved corrective. The facilities exist, but require correlation for their maximum utilization. In isolated instances this has been secured, notably in the freight rate fight. Yet, generally speaking, while southerners are agreed on the necessity for action and the method of attack, there has been no concerted, organized movement to attain on a southwide basis the goal to which southern leaders have aspired.

It becomes daily more apparent that the south must unite these forces and speed the processes of growth in a healthy manner or must face the invasion of elements alien to southern problems to impose a "planned" economic regimentation throughout the region. This "planned" system has been seen in operation in other fields, and the result has not been one which the south could term successful or in any manner desirable. It calls for expanded "relief" expenditures, suppression of initiative, the weakening of the moral fibre of a people, a limitation of the ultimate income potentialities and, in the final analysis, totalitarian direction of all economic factors. It means a second and more devastating reconstruction government. It means continued bondage for the south.

There is an abundance of human and natural resources available for the working out of these problems, but only if the fight is organized and given impetus by a drafting of southern leadership. There must be an awakening and a correlation of the factors that can arouse all southerners to action in a common cause. Southern capital should need little encouragement to invest in southern progress. Southern brains need little urging to concentrate on the development of the region. Southern youth can be taught that in the south lies a bountiful future; that in this south is progress and happiness.

But these aims cannot be reached if the south remains a grouping of heterologous elements each seeking a common goal without a community of interests to yield the necessary strength.

With the report of the National Emergency Council before the south, summarizing the problems that confront the region, a challenge has been given. The report suggests no remedies; they have been left for the south or, in event of the failure of the south to take concerted action, for the federal government.

From this, it appears imperative that the leaders of labor, of agriculture, of capital, of industry, of business, of education, of journalism, of health and of government throughout the section be brought together in a regional conference as soon as possible to plan intelligent action and to effect a co-ordination of all the facilities necessary for attainment of a practical goal over a reasonable period of years. This would be a democratic approach to regional planning in which all factors of an economy would have a voice and a part to play. It cannot be left to the federal government if the south is to retain the independence characteristic of its people.

The machinery for this regional congress rests in the existing Governor's conference. The delegates should be selected by the governors, but the selections must be non-political and made from those persons in each state who have been leaders in progress and whose activities would be given impetus by a knowledge that throughout the section the work is going on toward a common goal. They must be practical men and women who can carry the message of the conference to the smaller groups within each state, enlisting the help of the humblest as well as the well-endowed.

CALL FOR GEORGIA MINNOWS

Prolific Georgia has been called to the aid of Massachusetts, to save residents of the cod state from the annoyance of their full-grown buzz saws, known under the name of mosquitoes.

Along the coastal regions of this state grow a variety of minnows that dotes on mosquito larvae. They thrive and grow fat on it. So that health authorities in Brookline, faced with a serious problem of potential nibblers on human flesh, sent in a hurry call for Georgia assistance.

The minnows were sent north by mail, placed in the stagnant waters about the Boston suburb and at last reports were carrying forward the good fight.

Is this the start of a thriving industry? The slogan could be: "Protect your home—use Georgia minnows, unmatched for ferocity in the battle against the man-eaters."

A DEBT-FREE CITY.

(From the Columbia State.)

The city of Kalamazoo, Michigan, has, we believe, paved streets, police protection, a fire department, health department, garbage removal, street cleaners and all the other usual features of municipal government. We have not been there, but we have heard people say it is a bang-up sort of place. It has, somehow, taken adequate care of its people, and yet it now is advertising as "America's only debt-free city of 50,000 population and over." That's good advertising. In years to come, as taxes rise, it may become even better advertising. Debt-free states and debt-free cities may prove to be the tortoises in the race with the borrowing and spending hares.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

HONEST "GO-BETWEENS" WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The "go-betweens," who make a profession of bridging the gap between business and government, are different from the fixers and chiselers. It would be unjust to them to deny that remarkably talented fixers and chiselers may be found in their ranks. But so may honest men. In any case, they operate somewhat more publicly, and on a different plane from the ordinary lobbyists.

The great era of the go-betweens was in the dawn of the New Deal, when an impression got 'round that the United States government was owned by three Democratic national committeemen—Arthur Mullen, of Nebraska; Robert Jackson, of New Hampshire, and J. Bruce Kremer, of Montana. That era ended when the President commanded them to stop being national committeemen, or stop representing businessmen before the government. By now, it is all but forgotten. Arthur Mullen is dead. Jackson (not to be confused with Solicitor General Bob Jackson) is in a small way of business. Only Kremer still flourishes.

Kremer is a first-class example of the go-between. Besides being a former national committeeman, he is a "man who knows somebody." An intimate friend of Homer S. Cummings, he actually housed the attorney general when the latter first came to Washington. Kremer does much business with the Justice Department. O. Max Gardiner, former Governor of North Carolina, is also conspicuous now in the same way Mullen used to be.

THE CZARS AND THEIR COUSINS The "czars" and their first cousins, the political executives of large businesses, are an important class of go-betweens. The classic example, of course, was the late W. Forbes Morgan. He was treasurer of the Democratic national committee and Mrs. Roosevelt's former uncle-in-law.

The liquor business hired him, at an extremely comfortable salary, to handle its relations with the government. And, before that, although he had been expelled from exchange membership, he was offered a well-paid place as liaison man between the government and the New York Stock Exchange. A specimen of the political executive is Leo Sack, a shrewd, ornate little man whom Schenley hired as public relations man when he left his New Deal place as minister to Costa Rica.

Persons with close White House connections are always at a premium. One of these is Basil O'Connor, who is simultaneously the President's former law partner and the brother of the hated John O'Connor, chairman of the house rules committee, whom the New Dealers are now attempting to destroy. Recently, the fact that the President's relations with John have not disturbed his friendship for Basil was re-emphasized, by Basil O'Connor's presence as a guest on the great fishing and purging trip. At the time of the utilities holding company fight, Basil O'Connor represented H. C. Hopson, of the Associated Gas & Electric. He still has a considerable government law practice.

PECULIAR LAWYERS Lawyers like Basil O'Connor are, indeed, the commonest of all kinds of go-between. In type they range from big and little fixers, who shelter themselves behind their bar association memberships, to perfectly honest, thoroughly well-equiped lawyers whose experience in the government makes government business their natural specialty. At one end of the range, one might put the elderly fixer who was called before the Black lobbying committee to explain some of his doings. At one point, he had hired a younger man to prepare a brief for him. He was asked why.

"Well, senator," he replied, "I am a lawyer, but my business isn't usually what you'd call legal business. So when I need any law, I just get someone else to look it up for me."

Businessmen are ridiculously childish about the ability of lawyers with government connections to procure them special consideration. For instance, one very big utilities company has a huge tax judgment standing against it. It has been trying for more than a year to arrange a too-favorable settlement. In the course of its efforts, it has retained more than a score of lawyers, each in the hope that he could "put the fix" on the treasury of the United States. Though each new lawyer has failed as badly as the last, the company goes right on hoping.

THE LEGITIMATES As for the legitimate lawyers, there is no need to list them here. Businessmen may go to them because they once held government posts, but they are as well equipped to handle their clients' problems as any partner in a large New York law office. And, since they know the ways of the government, they can give their clients practical advice. The truth is that these men, who don't deal in influence or mystery, have the hardest time of all. The businessmen insist on ignoring them for their more expensive, and much more foolish counselors.

To See the Things We Used to Like.

They dug 'way back into the canned entertainment files for a picture which is showing this week at a local theater. It is "The Son of the Sheik," starring the late Rudolph Valentino. Not so old, by some five years, as the sensational—in those days—"Sheik," but still intrigueing because of the revelation of the changes that have come about in the making of pictures since 1925 or thereabouts.

Of course, the big change is the coming of sound. In those days the screen was silent. There was no dialogue. Pure pantomime was the mode of story telling, with the aid of an occasional "title" or "sub-title."

To the generation which never saw Valentino on the screen, there is something strangely fascinating in seeing a performance by this man who, as a filmdom matinee idol, exceeded in popularity any who came before, or since.

And there is the added fascination of taking a look at the sort of entertainment we thought "hot stuff" more than a decade ago.

The Urge To Rhyme.

It is strange what events will touch the poetic springs in many human breasts.

Since the Georgia political situation got so hot there have been scores of rhymed effusions sent to this desk about the senatorial race. They have come from almost every state in the Union. Illustrating, at least, how Georgia is this year in the very central focus of the national spotlight. Some are not so bad, one or two are excellent, and others—well, less said the better.

However, none of them are going to be published in this column.

There are some things which Silhouette readers must be spared. And one of the first on the list is politically-inspired verse.

Canine Alarm Clock.

Since the son of the Jones family has been home, for the interim between forestry camp life and the return to school at Athens, the household dog, Bootsie, has taken upon herself a new duty.

Why, or how come, no one knows. There was no attempt at training, no thought of suggestion in any manner.

But in the mornings, now, the little dog gravely trots upstairs, runs into the boy's bedroom and starts pawing at the bedclothes. If that doesn't arouse him, she'll jump onto the bed and, then, is always successful.

He doesn't always appreciate it. His ambitions to sleep rather late o'mornings, now there is no special duty to call him from bed.

But Bootsie says "No." And Bootsie has, you see, effective ways of gaining her own ends.

Speaking of the gaining of canine ends, you ought to see the dog when a flea makes its presence known on the end of her tail. Or thereabouts.

Repressed Desire.

Wonder how many folks have some ridiculous, absurd and utterly impossible desire, repressed and hidden from the world?

Knew a man once who broke down the repression, at a stag party given just before his wedding. He stuck his hand into a revolving electric fan. Was married with a bandaged hand.

Myself, I've always wanted to jump into a crate containing five or six gross of loose eggs. Fully clothed. Just to enjoy the squish and the smash and the mess. Silly, isn't it?

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

"Will V. Zimmer will entertain at an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue this afternoon at 1 o'clock at Kimballville in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hassler, Mrs. Mabel Leys, of Detroit, Mich., and the Atlanta Hotel Men's Association."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From The Constitution of Monday, August 20, 1888:

"Colonel Adolph Brandt says that the only close call he ever had was when the iron cornice dropped off the Augusta courthouse and fell at his feet. It weighed over two hundred pounds, and had it struck him would have mashed him flat."

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Four Times A Stowaway NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Bobby Stap, the 13-year-old son of a sea cook, has just finished his fourth cruise as a stowaway and his now in the hands of the law as a parole violator. He stowed away to Europe twice, then to Savannah and this time to the Caribbean on a 16-day cruise of the Santa Elena. His father follows the sea as ship's cook, and a keen psychologist might judge from the boy's conduct that he wants to be a sailor of some kind himself. It is just an idea, but worth exploring.

Now, it would be easy enough to sneer it through, sarcastic to the bottom of this space, but I think I will change needles and remark that it is, in words of one syllable, a hell of a note when the law assumes that a kid is somehow crazy and wayward because at the age of 13 he has decided what he wants to do in life and reveals impatience to get started. The British merchant marine takes younger boys than Bobby Stap into training ships for brief preliminary teaching in the manners and languages of the sea, and soon has them aboard sea boats bound just everywhere. The British navy, too, accepts, or did accept up to the time of the big war, children who wanted to make a career of the sea.

Childish Heroism Just how useful boys may be on men-of-war, whether they get in the way or need babying, I have no knowledge beyond a recollection of one conspicuous case of childish heroism in the battle of Jutland in which a powder-monkey named Jack Cornwell, holding the rate of boy, stood to the gun which he was helping to serve after a German shell had blown up the gun and most of the men working the piece. Some brass-hat, Jellico or Beatty, saw him there, mortally wounded himself but waiting to carry on, gave him a paragraph in the official report and put him up for a Victoria Cross, which the boy never saw, because he died of his injuries. The Cornwell V. C. and the story of the youngster's courage made great patriotic propaganda in Britain—and the government of a nation which knows more than a few odds and ends about seafaring certainly drummed up the idea that when a boy is big enough he's old enough for the sea.

But the Stap boy was marked for queer when he returned from his second voyage to Europe and was turned over to a psychiatrist to have his head felt, on the assumption that a boy with a definite ambition needed curing. Now he is in the hands of the children's court, and as a parole breaker at that, and would seem to be nicely on his way to immurement with a lot of little thieves and slobbering sex-queeries who might exert a wholesome influence and correct his abnormal yearning to ride boats.

Is Bright, Polite, Fluent He has a good report in all other respects, being bright, polite and fluent in two languages, and although it might be rather hard on his mother to lose him to the sea so soon, this country is crowded with the proud descendants of boys who ran away to sea at about the same age a few generations ago. It seems that there are some boys who feel the call so strongly that they just can't stand it off.

The irony of the case is that in all our schools educators put in their time year after year splashing education over hundreds of thousands of intelligent and amiable young drifters who haven't the faintest idea what they expect to try to do for a living after the meter readings say they have been educated up to the mark and are ready to go out and try. The pedagogues use cunning wiles to draw them out, and special boards of yen-detectives call in rather well-grown pupils—still in school at an age when their grandparents were raising families—to tickle their imagination and search their responses for clues to their aptitudes.

And so every year thousands of them are dumped out of school, too highly taught for strong-back jobs but with no preference between one line of work and another, just so the hours aren't too long and the pay is enough to permit of early marriage. This is not to ridicule the misfortune of the poor graduates who never give a thought to the future or who think of it but can't concentrate on one ambition. But there is hardly any need to hear ridicule on a mental habit of those who are supposed to know something about youth who hold that a boy with a craving for a particular calling must be loaded to the plimsoll with useless lessons and branded incorrigible for a show of adventurous initiative.

Another Letter From a Bal Headed Dad to His Red-Headed Daughter

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

My Dear Louise:

As the distinguished lady lecturer told you girls last night, th is a moral for all in the Richard Whitney tragedy; but the unus and important moral isn't the one that gave her so much pleasu

When a man like Whitney falls, all the envious little souls light in kicking him. They feel no sympathy, as they might a poorer man who faced the same punishment, but rejoice that can no longer have the good things they are denied.

I grant you that a thief and a liar has hit bottom, for a ma integrity and veracity are all that keep him above the beasts. Wh a man's honor is untarnished and incorruptible, and his word dependable and binding as a bond, he can do nothing that debase him; but when honor and truth are gone, nothing else can do will make him respectable.

Yet the moral in Whitney's case is not that "honesty is the b policy," nor is it "better safe than sorry."

Since self-respect is required to make life endurable, it is nature to feel superior to the imperfect people around us. It lows logically that we judge ourselves more generously than judge others. If, then, we have some reason to be conceited, go further and believe that wrong isn't as wrong as usual if d by fine people like us. That seems ridiculous, but is none the l true.

The great Henry Ward Beecher, most famous preacher of time, convinced his best friend's wife that sin wasn't sinful in th case, since they were so good.

I once knew a pious old fellow who was caught dodging income tax, and for weeks thereafter lived in such terror of pri that the final settlement, which included a 50 per cent pen seemed like a pardon. He said later: "I pay my tithe and do much church work, I knew the Lord wouldn't let me suffer l that." He didn't repent of his lying. He merely felt better sat fied since the Lord had been wise enough not to waste such a g man.

That feeling is a product of conceit, whether based on piety wealth or family name, and it is very dangerous, for it destr one of the safeguards of honor.

When a little girl gets that think-who-I-am feeling, she is to feel like a privileged character. And then, while scorning co mon girls who do wrong, she is apt to think it merely an in cent prank when done by a fine person like her.

Love, DAD.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH McGILL.

This Is War, And Not Just A State Fight! Let's not for a moment believe this senatorial campaign in Georgia to be merely a state primary.

Don't imagine for a moment that the speech of August 11 at Barnesville will be left to musty files and memories. It is quite possible that speech will become a famous one.

The issue is plain. The Democratic party as we know it is going from the political scene.

The President of the United States deliberately is driving from the party all its conservative elements. Carter Glass, of Virginia; even Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, are being listed with Bailey, of North Carolina; Tydings, of Maryland; Byrd, of Virginia; Smith, of South Carolina, and others who have been and who believe themselves now to be stalwarts of the Democratic party.

There are others on the list. All conservative elements are being driven from the party they have served all their political lives. They no longer are wanted.

To the front come the new elements; names strange to politics and to the Democratic party. To the front come spectacular methods of government and experiments of tremendous cost and effect. Social legislation; the inevitable centralization of power in Washington were a part of it.

It has become a crusade and a purge. There is not the slightest doubt the President intends to create out of the present Democratic party a new party, a New Deal Democratic party. He has said so. He even now is doing so.

This fight will not end on September 14. This fight will not end in 1940. This is the opening battle in the great political warfare to create a new alignment of parties and men. No matter who wins in Georgia—this is the first great battle. There will be others. The terrain is mapped, the forces are gathered, the bugles have blown.

This is war—the beginning of war—and do not believe it to be anything else.

'New Dealers' And the 'Jeffersonians' Out of it will come a conservative party to receive all those from the Republican and Democratic parties who think conservatively and who do not agree with all the plans and procedures of the New Deal party.

A Democrat such as Carter Glass, for instance cannot believe the party he has served for so many years and with such distinction, is to be supplanted by any other party. He and men who think as he does, will never go into anything called the Republican party.

It is not impossible or improbable the call may come from them. They may seek to reorganize the party. They do not care for many of the President's closest advisers in the New Deal party. There was a hint of this in Senator George's peroration at Macon yesterday when he gested the south assist in ganizing the party and throw out of it those who are anath to the conservatives.

Out of all this may come New Deal Democrats and the fersonian Democrats and the mise of the Republican party one of major importance.

The war is on—this is the big battle—do not make the take of viewing it as merel state primary or as just an e by the President to elect sena friendly to him.

This is a national campaign drive from the Democratic p all those who are conservativ thought and action. It is a c paign to end once and for all last vestige of states' rights campaign to finally and at centralize power in Washingto

Georgia sees the first big tle of a war which will go on years. The "Marne" of this will be fought in 1940.

Some New Phrases Badly Needed! It may be both cam have th minds so m up they see no other argument save t own.

The same old phrases are b employed. Some of the new D ocrats are writing in attac newspapers and all those in s port of Senator George as "s ing the special interests" and neglecting the real Democrats. George supporters are aro over what they honestly bel to be an attempt to dictate t suffrage, to abolish what is lef state's rights, and to make judiciary and the legisla branches of the government s servient to the man who now h and who may in the future h the office of President.

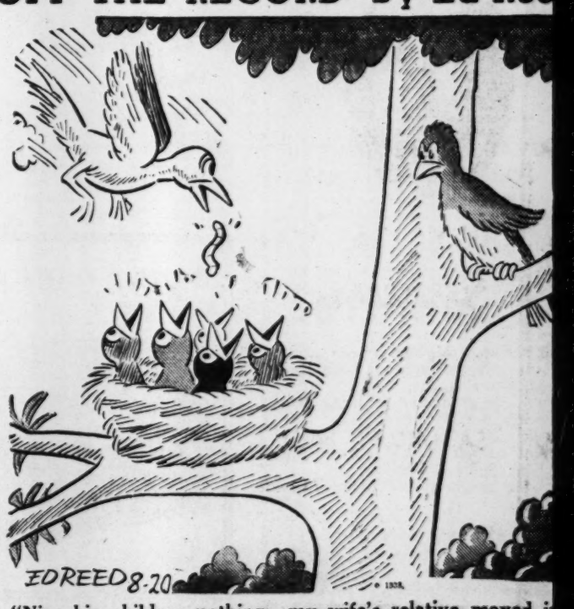

The "New Dealer" Democ refuse to admit the newspa and the thousands of people support Senator George are a thing but servants of vested terests, big business and so This, of course, is quite with foundation. There ought to enough calmness left to res opinion so long as it is hon The nation is going on no ma what happens in the primary.

As a New Dealer who belie in the Presidential measures, e to the supreme court bill, I m insist on a right to have an opi on this campaign. What we n is some new phrases, some c minds and less effort to mak class war of what is nothing at except a political campaign the beginning of a political wa control the Democratic party to realign its membership.

Editor Constitution: Why wait y longer in America to refer farm problem to the "dirt rmers"? In the long run they ld the solution and they are the ks who will have to get their ads together as to what the real oblems are and aid in working m out.

President Roosevelt will get me place for votes in his New al when he sits on the porches of the "dirt farmers" instead of in pink marbled walls talking to white-collared agriculturists and politicians.

Such information as the following (secured from men who really farm) is not found in government bulletins: "The problem in the south is (1) high tariff, making it impossible for foreign markets to buy more than a small portion of our produce (cotton, etc.); (2) the cost of what a farmer has to buy, such as farm tools, wagons, mowers, is so far out of balance with what he gets for his produce that it has practically bankrupted all the farmers. . . . They are not making a living . . . they borrow money every year and have just about come to the end of their way. The labor condition on the farm is getting serious. The negroes are leaving the farm and huddling into the cities . . . to go on the WPA rolls, etc.; (3) the unfairness to the landlord in having to hold the bag for the tenant."

The papers always mention the millions of dollars taken in from farm sales but do not mention what was paid out to produce it. The late beloved Georgia woman, Corra Harris, told me that growing her valleys of corn was her luxury paid for by articles written for the Saturday Evening Post—she simply loved to see corn growing.

Young college-bred fellows are wanting to take dad's place on the farm but they are staggered by the lack of common sense in this government business of really helping the farmers. A few seeds to plant are more practical than all these young libraries of government pamphlets distributed by Uncle Sam's experts who, after all, do not know which end of a turnip grows in the ground.

Why do the dirt farmers keep standing for this sort of spurious thing? Why don't they get together and go after the right kind of help for the right kind of thing? As long as they work all day and go to bed at night and say nothing it will be pulled on them. They can write letters, shoulder convictions, ask for their rights, speak up and say what their real problems are. They are the salt of this earth. Why waste so much of life becoming articulate? We are to blame after all for the injustice we let others do to us. The farmer deserves the very best of all modern conveniences and luxuries. He is doing the higher-ups a great wrong by letting them pull such idiotic capers in the name of help for the farmers. Why don't farmers write out these things and get them into Washington? It is better to do that than to overwork, complain and to feel injustice. The voice of the people is the voice of God—so why drown out the voice of God?

Somebody is going to have to go back onto the farms. I want to go back on a farm. You want to go back on a farm. Young college boys and girls want to go back onto farms—so why not demand the right to go back on farms (with as many opportunities there as in crowded cities)? A good clean dirt farmer is just the man to pay an honest call on his good neighbor in the White House. Well, why doesn't he go? President Roosevelt has a listening ear. Why isn't it used to the good of the south?

MRS. ELTON CHAPMAN.
Atlanta.

BROAD VISION SEEN BY PHYSICIAN

Editor Constitution: I have just read your editorial of August 8, "Prosecuting the Doctors." I want to compliment you on your broad vision and substantial judgment.

"Rome was not built in a day," neither were the ethics and standards of the medical profession reached in a day. The road was often hard, progress slow, but the art and science of our profession has been continuously progressing. For this reason I appreciate such public expressions as conveyed in your editorial.

"FIRST" PRO-ROOSEVELT SAYS "ELECT GEORGE"

Editor Constitution: President Roosevelt's attack on Senator Walter F. George completely convinces me that our chief executive is now America's greatest threat of a dictatorship.

Every red-blooded voter of Georgia should rise up in protest to this attack on one of the south's greatest statesmen and Democrat.

America needs more men like Mr. George, and woe betide us if they should all be taken from public life and thrown into the abyss.

No decent person can uphold the President's unfair attack on Senator George. Senator George must be returned to the United States senate for the good of Georgia and America.

If the time ever comes that we must choose between Franklin Roosevelt and America, let us be on the side of the Stars and Stripes forever!

ROOSEVELT HELPS POOR AND NEEDY

Editor Constitution: If Christ should come to earth today and this question be asked Him, Please, Lord, tell us who is the earthly man that is a real, true and loyal friend to America, and all nations throughout all the world. Deep down in our hearts we hear the answer now, if we will listen to the truth and be guided by the truth—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the greatest President who ever served the United States, is that man.

He has marched into the cities; he has marched out into the highways and hedges, and helped the poor and needy, and he has cried out with money, saying to the poor, come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you food, clothing and shelter, and keep you and your loved ones from starving to death.

All we people that have good jobs throughout these depression years, many of us have overlooked these facts, but in the very beginning he started out to help the poor and needy.

I plead with you, O American people, God help us to get away from self and look the truth square in the face, and search the Scripture, the Word of God, and see for ourselves how Franklin Delano Roosevelt, our President of the great United States, has carried out the word of God for the relief for the poor and needy. There is so much he has done I cannot in this writing mention them all.

If he had had a true, loyal congress and senate to help him, we would today have one of the most prosperous nations the world ever knew.

Now, we have got time yet to help him win the victory for God and man. Let's go to the polls and vote and get our loved ones to go and vote for men that will help our President carry out his plans to free the great American people from bondage and slavery.

P. H. DORSEY.

Violets Are Blue--- But Not to These 2

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Pimiento peppers are supposed to be bright red when plucked for canning, so George Hollingshead couldn't believe his eyes when a crew of pickers began sending in an abnormal number of bright green ones.

Investigation showed two of the pickers couldn't believe their eyes, either. They were color blind.

MRS. J. M. MARSHALL JR. SERVICES CONDUCTED

Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Mills Marshall Jr., 50, of 71 Standish avenue, N. W., resident of Atlanta for 15 years, who died Thursday morning in a private hospital, were held yesterday morning in Sacred Heart church, conducted by the Rev. Father John A. Emmerth. The body was taken to New York city for burial.

A native of New York city, she lived all of her life there before coming to Atlanta. Her husband was district engineer for the Portland Cement Corporation before resigning recently. She was a member of the Church of Christ the King.

FUTURE FARMERS INSTALL OFFICERS

Al A. Fowler, of Douglasville, Named New President.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Election and installation of officers, and an address by L. M. Sheffer, state supervisor of agricultural education, featured today's session of the annual state convention of the Future Farmers of America, being held at Camp Wilkins.

Officers elected for the coming year are Al A. Fowler, of Douglasville, president; Robert Padgette, of Quitman, first vice president; Elmer F. Fry, of Rabun Gap, second vice president; Willard Bazemore, of Sylvania, third vice president; Emmett Ferguson, of Union High, secretary; Virgil Webb, of Graymont-Summit, treasurer, and Roy A. Bailey, of Dawsonville, reporter.

Closing ceremony of the convention was held this afternoon and tonight the tri-state public speaking contest was held with addresses by state winners from Alabama, Florida and Georgia. Ellis Herrin, of Tignall, represented Georgia in the contest.

CALVIN E. CARDELL FINAL RITES HELD

Funeral services for Calvin E. Cardell, 69, of Mableton, Ga., widely-known real estate agent who died unexpectedly Wednesday in a private hospital here, were held yesterday afternoon in the Shadydale (Ga.) Baptist church, with burial in the churchyard.

Born in Jasper county, Mr. Cardell had resided in Social Circle for a number of years, where he was a member of the Masonic lodge. He was in Atlanta on a business trip when he was stricken.

HUNT FOR CINDERELLA.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 19. Police Chief Frank Broome was walking about the city today seeking the foot that lost a pink baby shoe which he picked up Tuesday. Despite a diligent search for a partly shod child, the chief said the owner has not yet been located.

BARGE LINE STARTS SERVICE AUGUST 25

Fleet Will Steam Into Bainbridge as 200 Negroes Raise Voices in Song.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Blasting whistles, blaring bands and singing negroes will greet two huge barges and a fleet of vessels as they glide into this southwest Georgia city on the Flint river Thursday, August 25.

It will celebrate the inauguration of the Bainbridge-New Orleans barge line.

As the fleet steams up the river, 200 negroes on the river bank will sing songs of the old steamboat days. After the vessels dock, formal greetings will be extended by Mayor Max Kwilecki, Chairman John E. Drake, of the county commissioners, and Ruben M. Reynolds, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

More than 5,000 persons are expected for the celebration. Mayors and presidents of Chambers of Commerce have been invited from Quincy, Tallahassee, Pensacola and Panama City, Fla.; Dothan and Mobile, Ala.; New Orleans, and Atlanta, Cairo, Thomasville, Quitman, Meigs, Moultrie, Sylvester, Tifton Camilla, Pelham Albany, Americus, Arlington, Blakely, Colquitt and Donalsonville, Ga.

The new line is owned and operated by Charles J. King, of Defuniak Springs, Fla., and Dothan, Ala. All its barges are steel. Steel Diesel towboats will be used for river work and Diesel screw tugs for coastwise operations.

Terminals at Bainbridge now have gasoline storage facilities and a general freight warehouse. All terminal facilities, with the exception of those for molasses, will be doubled after inauguration of the line.

The Bainbridge terminal is the third constructed by the company and the first to engage in general freight service.

CATTLE DEALER KILLED.

UNION, S. C., Aug. 19.—(AP)—William Henry Bramlett, 55-year-old cattle dealer, was killed late today when struck by a Southern railway passenger train at a street crossing here.

THIS MORNING

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II.

"My castles are my king's alone,
From turret to foundation stone
The hand of Douglas is his own
And never shall in friendship's clasp
The hand of such as Marmion grasp."

If Senator George does win, we, for one, shall not take it as an anti-New Deal victory but rather as a victory for those who believe that keeping America safe for democracy is more important at this time than going on with a New Deal already well dealt. Senator George voted for the most radical things attempted under the whole New Deal—the NRA. It was so radical that then Senator Hugo Black, who is looked upon as the complete New Dealer, voted against it. Senator George voted also for the AAA and the TVA, the abrogation of the gold clause, the Bankhead cotton act, the SEC, the reciprocal tariff act, the Wagner labor relations act, the tax-the-wealth bill, the work relief bill, the soil conservation act. He voted for this year's pump-priming plan, the new farm plan and the new taxes proposed for payment of farm bounties. It is simply impossible to look upon him as the reactionary he has been painted by the President.

But we are for him because of the principle involved, the principle of keeping politics and public spending and employing separate. We believe that principle is violated when the President comes into Senator George's state and asks his fellow citizens to defeat him, while the President's subordinates release announcements of federal monies allocated to Georgia. It may be all as innocent as young love but the principle is wrong. So dangerously wrong that nothing is so important as to repudiate it. That a victory for Senator George will be hailed as a great defeat for the New Deal, we understand quite well, and we are sorry, because we think Senator George is going to win and ought to win and we do not consider him an anti-New Dealer at all.

President Roosevelt has made Georgia's senatorial campaign a national free-for-all. Having invited himself in he has given cue to others to come in. From the whole country long-distance stump speeches for one candidate or another are going to be made between now and September, and the editorial pages of out-state papers are as happily in the fight as those of Atlanta, Savannah, Macon, etc.

After a pleasant afternoon with some Memphians in Tennessee recently we are informed that even though Ed Crump is in the insurance business he makes only a moderate amount of money out of it, and that a great many Memphis people who once hated his system and were prepared to fight him are persuaded now that his rule is both efficient and honest We believe it is, but we can't help thinking that when Fascism happens here it is much more likely to happen in Ed Crump's way than in Sinclair Lewis's. There is something vaguely familiar about the enormous number of votes that are gotten out in Shelby county and the more-than-90 per cent that go to the leader. In Nashville, Knoxville and Chattanooga a vote of 25,000 is better than normal, but Memphis feels disgraced with less than 65,000.

Tom Stewart, Tennessee's new senator-designate, was the prosecutor in the Scopes trial, but they are saying he didn't really mean it or put his heart into his work.

They are saying, too, that he is one of the finest-looking men in American politics. "He looks like a senator," one gentleman expressed it, but that was only the gentleman's mistaken way of calling him fine looking.

Thermometer Is 96 --And Ice on Street!

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Despite a thermometer reading of 96, there was ice and firewood on the city streets yesterday.

An ice truck overturned in a traffic accident, spilling both ice and firewood to the pavement.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR R. ELBERT STACY

Funeral services for R. Elbert Stacy, 77, retired jeweler, who died Thursday night at his home, 6 Third street, N. W., will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of Sam R. Greenberg & Company. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

A resident of Atlanta since 1920, Mr. Stacy was engaged in the jewelry business until his retirement two years ago. He was formerly a jeweler in Social Circle and in Madison before coming here.

LILIENTHAL HINTS LIBEL SUIT AGAINST OUSTED DR. MORGAN

Director Declares Investigation Obtained by 'False Pretenses.'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—(AP)—TVA Director David E. Lilienthal charged today the congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority was obtained "through false pretenses."

A few minutes before he had told the committee the investigation was forced by charges made by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, ousted TVA chariman.

Lilienthal ripped open the old TVA feud by charging the former chairman with "vindictive resentment" and trying to embarrass President Roosevelt during his 1936 campaign because he had reappointed Lilienthal as a TVA director, and refused Morgan the power of veto.

Hints at Libel Suit.

Lilienthal hinted broadly at a possible libel suit against Arthur Morgan, after saying Dr. Morgan had charged him with personal corruption.

As Representative Jenkins, Republican, Ohio, questioned him about "personal corruption," Lilienthal said: "Civil liberty is involved here and I don't want to waive anything."

Later when Jenkins remarked "I find no place where he (Arthur Morgan) charged you with personal corruption," Lilienthal said: "A jury in Knox county may take a different view." After the hearing, Lilienthal told reporters he planned no immediate action.

Lilienthal did not elaborate on his statement the TVA investigation had been obtained "through false pretenses."

Went to Roosevelt.

Referring back to Arthur Morgan's relations with President Roosevelt, Lilienthal said Dr. Morgan indicated his resentment to the President himself May 20, 1936, but added he thought it "improper" to say what went between the President and Morgan.

The witness questioned Dr. Morgan's "good motives" in wanting to have the marble claims of Senator George L. Berry, Democrat, Tennessee, called before the President, adding it "might have been a move to bother and embarrass the President."

Taking the Berry case to the President, Lilienthal said, would have been "administrative blackmail" as described by Edwin C. Eckel, TVA geologist.

Plans Are Outlined To Observe Movies' Best Year

Freight Rate Basis Cotton Loans Are Opposed by Senator George

By the Associated Press.

Approval of federal price pegging for cotton at 12 cents a pound, peanuts at $100 a ton and opposition to cotton loans on the basis of present freight rates to ports were expressed in telegrams to Washington today by three Georgia political candidates.

United States Senator George said he wired Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Treasurer G. E. Rathell of the Commodity Credit Corporation protesting a reported plan of the corporation to make cotton loans with freight rate differences to ports.

George said such loans would discriminate against producers, warehouses and compress operators in the interior of Georgia in favor of those growers so situated as to be able to transport their cotton into port.

W. J. Crowe, of Sylvester, candidate against Representative Cox, of Camilla, in the second district, said he wired President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace and the Commodity Credit Corporation, urging pegging of cotton at 12 cents, Spanish peanuts at $100 a ton and "immediate adjustment of tobacco allotments and removal of the tax on Georgia tobacco farmers."

Representative Brown, of Elberton, wired Secretary Wallace that rains and boll weevil infestation had seriously damaged the Georgia crop and proposed that the cotton loan be "at least 12 cents per pound."

At Wrightsville, a group of Johnson county farmers, meeting Thursday, adopted a resolution urging Governor Rivers, Senators George and Russell, and Representative Vinson to appeal to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for maximum loans on cotton.

The resolution said the reported minimum loan of 8.25 and 8.30 cents proposed by Wallace would "force 50 per cent of Georgia farmers to resort to relief rolls."

'Pink Disease,' First in Fulton, Kills Baby Boy

Donald James Kell, 9-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Kell, of Alpharetta, Ga., died early yesterday morning at Grady hospital of the dread "pink disease," a rare malady of children. It results invariably in death.

The case was believed by physicians to be the first on record in Fulton county and specialists have sought since August 1, when the child was admitted to the hospital, to check the ravages of the disease. It derives its name from the fact that perspiration of the victim stains its clothing pink.

The body was taken to Roswell, where last rites and burial were held yesterday.

WAR ON ALL TRUSTS SOUGHT BY ARNOLD

Agency Big Enough To Prosecute Every Violation Is Demanded.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, declared tonight America's competitive system could be saved only by the creation of an enforcement organization large enough to investigate and prosecute "all" violations of the anti-trust laws.

Apparently laying the groundwork for a request to the next congress for funds to expand his anti-trust staff, the federal prosecutor told a radio audience:

"The thousands of price-fixing agreements and instances of coercion of small businesses which are now unprosecuted are gradually changing this country into an industrial autocracy. Attempts to clarify the law in the abstract while violations go uncurbed are useless.

"The question before the American people is whether they want to save their competitive system. If so, it will not be done by attacking the morals of the businessmen who have been thrown into a 'free for all' fight without enough referees present at the battles.

"It will be done only if an enforcement organization is built up, with regional offices and a personnel sufficient to investigate and prosecute all violations instead of some of them."

SOUTH AWAKENING, DECLARES DANIELS

Raleigh Editor Tells Auburn Graduates That New England Is Afraid.

AUBURN, Ala., Aug. 19.—(AP)—An "awakening south" was depicted tonight by Jonathan Daniels, North Carolina editor, as "at last escaping from the economic occupation which succeeded the military occupation" after the War Between the States.

The editor of the Raleigh News and Observer and author of the widely discussed book, "A Southerner Discovers the South," addressed Auburn's summer commencement, at which 205 degrees were awarded. He said:

"Perhaps the south, as New England seems now fearing, may be able to escape its single slavery to cotton and advance to a diverse industrial and agricultural development despite the imperial advantages which New England took as its loot after the War Between the States. There was some sort of bargain then, now dimly seen. The negroes were sold down the river again after emancipation, and the price paid was a fixed economic differentiation and the matter left the whole south in slavery to New England instead of some of the south in slavery to other southerners.

"But I mean to start no new war; though there are evidences that undeclared war already exists; the south is at last escaping from the economic occupation which succeeded the military occupation. The south is at last escaping from the more destructive reconstruction which economically continued the south as captive.

"And New England is afraid. The terrible danger is that it is about to lose at last the slavery from which it profited long after Lincoln in a manner of speaking set the negroes free. . . .

"Planning in the south must begin at the bottom where so many of the people are. . . ."

ADRIAN ORGANIZES HUNT FOR WOMAN

Matron Disappears From Her Home.

ADRIAN, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Searching parties spread over a wide area today in the hunt for Mrs. Mabelle Price, 40, missing from her home here.

Police Chief Lennie Sandifer, of Adrian, was joined by Sheriff P. L. Youmans, of Emanuel county, and Sheriff G. R. Barwick, of Treutlen county, in directing the search.

Friends reported the woman missing shortly after she had purchased groceries at a store here. The groceries were found unopened on a kitchen table at her home.

The three officers formed the searching parties when friends expressed fear Mrs. Price had met with foul play.

COUGHLIN BACKS O'CONNOR ELECTION

New Yorker Once Threatened To Boot Priest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(UP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest who two years ago was the object of Representative's O'Connor's threat to kick him from the Capitol to the White House, today aligned himself politically with O'Connor.

Coughlin, who had urged his followers to line up 12 votes each against O'Connor, expressed the hope the congressman would win against President Roosevelt's effort to retire him to private life.

The priest at first brushed aside intimations he ever had been in conflict with O'Connor. Eventually, he remarked the congressman has "learned a great deal since then."

SACRED HEART SINGERS MEET AT COURTHOUSE

Members of the B. F. White Sacred Harp Singing Convention lifted voices in the opening of their 94th annual session yesterday at the Fulton county courthouse.

Sacred hymns sung in the old-time "fa-sol-la" fashion echoed from basement to the ninth-floor attic as the singers began warming up vocal chords for three days of singing.

They sang all day yesterday and for two hours last night. They will carry on today and tomorrow, with night sessions beginning at 7:30 o'clock each night. W. E. Gloer, of Atlanta, is president of the convention, and J. F. Cook is in charge of the program. Basket lunches are served at noon.

ACCUSED OF SLAYING.

CROCKETT, Texas, Aug. 19.—(UP)—The Houston county grand jury today refused to indict Robert Parker, keeper of the bloodhounds at Eastham prison, on a charge filed by Sheriff Maples that Parker killed a fugitive convict who tried to surrender.

Mother of Dahl Asks His Release To See Her Wed

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Ida Dahl, mother of Lieutenant Harold Dahl, American pilot who has been held in custody by Spanish Insurgents since July, 1937, will be married to C. W. Harmison, Champaign, Ill., contractor, September 3, she said today.

Mrs. Dahl made the announcement at her home in Champaign. She said the wedding would take place at the home of Herbert Harmison, son of C. W. Harmison, here.

Mrs. Dahl said she had asked Generalissimo Franco, commander of Spanish Insurgents, to permit her son to return to the United States in time for the wedding.

"But I don't suppose he'll be able to come," she added.

Babs Wags 'Nay' To Pleading Count

VENICE, Italy, Aug. 19.—(UP)—The former Barbara Hutton today sat on the sun-bathed Lido sands with her estranged husband, Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, and shook her blond head with decision as he talked appealingly for more than an hour.

The handsome Danish count appeared to be doing most of the talking and, whatever he was saying, it seemed to have scant effect on the Woolworth five-and-ten-cent store heiress, for she just kept on shaking her head.

After her talk with the count the American heiress appeared to be "very much shaken up," according to come beachcombers of Lido gossip. "He's still madly in love with her," said one of his professed friends.

RUDOLPH DENICKE DIES IN 69TH YEAR

Was Clerk for Southern Railway System.

Rudolph C. Denicke, 68, of 1559 Montreat place, S. W., clerk for the Southern Railway System for many years, died yesterday morning in a private hospital after a lengthy illness.

A native of Macon, Ga., Mr. Denicke had lived in Atlanta for more than 20 years. His son is Rudolph W. Denicke, electrician.

Surviving, besides the son, are the wife; two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Benor, of Macon, and Mrs. Dan Bullard, of Bullard, Ga.; two brothers, C. H. Denicke, of Macon, and Rupert Denicke, of Jacksonville, Fla.; one stepson, Carl Vinson, and one stepdaughter, Miss Denny Lene Vinson, both of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock this morning in the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes. Burial will be in Macon, Ga.

Blows Off His Sweetheart's Head, Gets Priest To Help Tell Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(UP)—A slim, young Englishman walked into an East Side police station today, accompanied by a Catholic priest, and told the desk sergeant he had just blown off the back of his sweetheart's head with a sawed-off shotgun because she refused to marry him.

Talking in precise, clipped accents, the young man said his name was John Bellinger, gave the police an address where he said they would find the girl's body, and added:

"I prefer to die. I hope they put me in the electric chair."

The clergyman, the Rev. Joseph Sheehan, nodded as the young man told his story and said he believed it to be true. He said Bellinger came into his rectory at about 2 a. m. and told him what had happened.

Police found the body of the girl, Miss Marie Joyce, a pretty, 25-year-old brunette, sprawled in the corridor of the apartment house where she lived. They knocked at the door and Miss Marie Townsend, the slain girl's roommate, appeared. She took one look at the body, screamed and fainted.

THEATERS TO STAGE GALA PARADE HERE

Mayor Calls on City To Aid in Observance of Record Year.

A gala parade in true Hollywood style will wind through downtown Atlanta September 1 as the city inaugurates its celebration of motion pictures' greatest year, local theater officials revealed yesterday.

A delegation of 11 theater managers and representatives of distributors called on Mayor Hartsfield yesterday and explained their plans for the celebration.

The mayor signed a proclamation setting aside September 1 for the special observance and urged citizens of Atlanta to co-operate in making it a success.

E. E. Whitaker, spokesman for the group, explained the entire motion picture industry was uniting in the campaign and that $250,000 would be offered as prizes in a quiz contest.

The parade will include a number of floats and hundreds of employes will march in uniform. There will be plenty of music and color, officials promised.

The mayor teased the theater men by telling them he would have to have at least 100 passes before he could sign such a proclamation. His comment drew a laugh from the group.

The proclamation said in part: "I do officially urge the citizens of Atlanta to participate in fullest measure in this fall celebration and presentation of the splendid pictures which have been prepared by the motion picture studios in their avowed purpose of demonstrating that motion pictures are your best entertainment."

NAZI 'GAMES' ROB INDUSTRY OF MEN

Germany Scraps Tenet in Radio Appeals to Women To Take Jobs.

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—(AP)—While Reichsfuehrer Hitler is hurrying from training ground to training ground to see whether all is in readiness for the autumn divisional maneuvers, Germany's industrialists are hard put to find enough men to keep factories and plants going.

Today Hitler went to the Grossborn training grounds and watched troops of the second army corps engage in thunderous sham battle.

Dire Labor Shortage.

The mobilization of practically every able-bodied man for military purposes has created a dire shortage of labor.

The government's sudden decision to speed up construction of fortifications at a rate probably unparalleled in history has meant a further drain on the manpower available for the ordinary pursuits of life.

So great are the military exigencies that Naziism has been compelled even to throw into the discard one of its principal tenets, namely that of keeping women out of industry.

Already 6,000,000 women have re-entered economic life of the nation since spring, according to a German correspondence service, and at present there is a big drive on for married women who were once stenographers to resume that work.

Appeal to Women.

In radio broadcasts the government promises such women that their babies will be cared for and their households kept running and their working hours arranged conveniently if only they will turn out.

In addition, Germany has imported 100,000 farmhands, chiefly from Italy, this summer.

Even Hitler's personal "pet projects"—such as new construction in Berlin—must yield to the precedence of German rearmament.

STATE DEPARTMENT ADDS NEW SERVICE

Communications Division To Handle International Questions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Secretary Hull established in the State Department today a new division on international communications, which was expected to devote considerable attention to development of trade relations with Latin America.

It was announced the division of international communications would handle international questions connected with radio, cable, telegraph and telephone communications, motion pictures, aviation and shipping.

Hull appointed Thomas Burke, chief of the specialties division of the Commerce Department, to head the new division. He also named Jesse E. Saugstad, who has been an adviser to the State Department on shipping matters, as assistant chief.

ATTEMPT TO OUST HORNSBY CHARGED

Millican Pledges Opposition to Alter Atlanta Police Setup.

A charge that his opponents are attempting to change the Atlanta police setup through a city charter revision which would result in ousting Chief Hornsby was made last night by State Senator G. Everett Millican.

Millican, speaking in behalf of his candidacy for re-election from the 52d district, told an audience of about 400 persons atop a downtown hotel that he would "fight to the last inch" any change in the police department.

"I will not see a return to the old regime which protected bootleggers and the underworld," he said, praising Chief Hornsby's administration as one of the "best periods of law enforcement in Atlanta's history."

Citing his record in city council and in the state legislature, Millican asserted he would seek "honesty and decency in government as opposed to graft and corruption."

Millican asserted he plans to sponsor three bills in the next session of the legislature—removal of the number from the ballots in county elections, a retirement system for all county employes, and dissolution of the State Boxing Commission.

Candidates for other state offices and judgeships in Fulton county were special guests at the rally. Millican was introduced by Frank Garrison, Atlanta insurance man, and F. C. Garrard, Hapeville city councilman, cochairmen of his county campaign committee.

Pi K. A. Brothers Find Jax Shrimp Is Not Fraternal

Severe pains in the midsection that "mowed down" 40 delegates to the national meeting of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity in Jacksonville, Fla., apparently didn't bother James W. Setze, of 155 The Prado.

Setze served as toastmaster at the banquet which last night closed the 19th supreme chapter meeting.

Convention officers said it was suspected that a shrimp dinner was back of the food poisoning, John H. McCann, of Richmond, Va., executive secretary, said.

The shrimp was served at a beach outing Wednesday night, he said.

Gilchrist B. Stockton, of Jacksonville, former United States minister to Austria, spoke at the banquet. Setze is expected to return to Atlanta today. The 1939 meeting of the fraternity will be held in Chicago.

MRS. J. C. PARHAM DIES IN 85TH YEAR

Heart Attack Fatal to Native of Troup.

Mrs. Nannie Swanson Parham, 84, died early last night at the home of her son, Dr. L. G. Parham, of 245 Bolling road, N. E., after suffering a heart attack yesterday afternoon.

A native of Troup county, Mrs. Parham was the widow of the late John C. Parham, a widely known farmer there. She was a member of the Odessa Dale Methodist church and came to Atlanta about 15 years ago.

Surviving, besides the son with whom she lived, are three other sons, Dr. J. B. Parham, of Calhoun, Ga.; V. S. Parham, of Miami, Fla., and C. L. Parham, of Griffin, Ga., and two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Zachery and Mrs. W. H. Boozer, both of Hogansville, Ga., and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

PRISONER KILLED AT BERRIEN CAMP

Bullet in Neck Stops Fleeing Alabaman.

NASHVILLE, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—County Warden E. J. Nix said a prisoner identified as Jack Smith, 26, of Phenix City, Ala., was shot and killed by a guard today when he sought to escape from the Berrien county prison camp near here.

He said the guard was Perry Mixon.

A coroner's jury, he added, returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Nix asserted the prisoner dashed from the dining room, disregarded the guard's command to halt, and jumped into a near-by cornfield. He was shot in the back of the neck.

The warden said Smith was transferred from Tattnall state prison 17 days ago, and had served two years of a four to 20-year sentence on a felony charge.

'Midget Sun' Developed; Is But Size of Cigaret

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A water-cooled "midget sun," in the form of a 1,000-watt mercury lamp no larger than a cigaret and yet designed to attain a brilliancy equivalent to about a fifth that of the sun's surface, was announced today by General Electric laboratories.

Since the light source, an arc, is highly concentrated and approximately 12 times as brilliant as the incandescent filament of a 1,000-watt standard projection lamp, engineers believe the midget sun will change lighting practice in numerous fields.

The new lamp consists of a little quartz tube. Within a tiny bore inside the tube is a globule of mercury and a trace of argon gas. Each end of the quartz tube is furnished with a brass ferrule which provides electrical contact.

F.D.R. News Reels Booed, Applauded

News reels of President Roosevelt's Barnesville speech were greeted yesterday in leading Atlanta motion picture theaters by hurrahs, hisses, applause and boos, while "shots" of Senator George delivering his Waycross speech drew applause only.

Audience reaction to the President's speech was divided principally when he was heard to say, "If I were able to vote in this state, I most assuredly would cast my vote for Lawrence Camp."

Pictures of Senator George brought light applause in some theaters, and heavy applause in others. At one theater, an usher, referring to the news reel of the President's Barnesville speech, said "F. D. R. got the worst of it all day, by a margin of 70 per cent boos and 30 per cent applause."

Gullible Gulls: Story of An Egg With No Future

CAMBRIDGE, England, Aug. 19. (AP)—Lessons taught by a 250,000-year-old skull, the gullibility of a gull trying to hatch a rubber ball and the opinions of a scientist descendant of Charles Darwin commanded scientific attention today.

These were among the things to come before the annual convention of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

A report presented by Professor W. E. LeGros Clark and Dr. G. M. Morant, of Oxford University, based on discovery of the famous Swanscombe skull in England, indicated that "Englishmen" of a quarter-million years ago "could hardly have differed markedly from modern man."

"Their brains at this early date already had acquired states comparable to that of homo sapiens," the scientists found.

The skull is a relic of life in the middle Acheulian period which is believed to correspond to the interglacial period between the Mindel and Riss glaciations, Le Griss Clark and Morant reported.

This, according to geological calculations, was at least 250,000 years ago. Parts of the skull were found in 1935 and 1936 in a gravel pit at Swanscombe, Kent, which once was the bed of a river flowing near the Thames.

A London ornithologist, F. B. Kirkman, told the psychological section of a painstaking study of feathered frustration. He spent weeks watching birds sit on rubber balls, golf balls, camphor balls and cotton reels.

A black-headed gull sat for 22 days trying to hatch a rubber ball.

Dr. C. G. Darwin, of Cambridge University, urged reforms in education to heal "the deep schism between professional philosophers and the scientists."

"This is not the place to describe a revised scheme of education," he said. "I would only say that it is not new courses that are needed, but rather a change in the spirit of our old courses."

BRITONS STRUGGLE WITH ARAB TROOPS

60 Natives Slain in Hand-to-Hand Battle.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 19.—(AP)—British troops struggled hand-to-hand tonight with Arab detachments fighting against a Jewish influx into the Holy Land.

The Arabs, reports said, have suffered heavy reverses, with 60 dead and hundreds wounded. British troops, with the advantage of aircraft, suffered six dead and 12 wounded.

Northern Palestine hills echoed with rifle and machine-gun fire. Aircraft dived and circled, machine-gunning retreating Arabs who for days had sought shelter in orange groves, rocks and caves.

Fighting yesterday on the outskirts or Acre and today on the Plain of Sharon was the heaviest the Holy Land has seen in the current wave of disorders, which became serious July 5.

COAL RATE EXTENSION ASKED BY RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The nation's railroads petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission today to continue temporary increases in freight rates on bituminous coal because their financial condition was "highly critical."

The higher rates produce about $1,500,000 more revenue monthly than those they replaced. They were granted by the I. C. C. on October 19, 1937, and expire next December 31, unless the commission grants an extension. The carriers said their expenses were higher than in 1937 and their traffic was smaller.

NDREWS OPPOSES CUTCLIFFE PARDON

emency Would Be 'At Sacrifice of Public Interest,' He Says.

A statement that a pardon for alter Cutcliffe, under a five-year spended sentence for lottery erations, would be "at the sacfice of the public interest" has en placed before the State Pris- and Parole Commission by Astant Solicitor General E. E. Anews, it was revealed yesterday. Cutcliffe has an application for ll pardon pending with the pris- commission.

Andrews, who conducted a 60- y probe into the lottery racket re last fall which resulted in dictment of 23 so-called "big ot" lottery operators, pointed out ere are three indictments pend- g against Cutcliffe now—one arging assault and battery, one arging assault with intent to rder and one charging use of scene and opprobrious language.

Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, who esided when 21 of the indicted ttery leaders were given sus- nded sentences and fines on en- ring pleas of guilty, early this ek revealed he had notified the ison commission of his opposi- n to a pardon for Cutcliffe.

Pointing out that Cutcliffe was ven a year's sentence and assed a $1,000 fine for lottery erations in 1933, Andrews letter id in part:

"This suspended sentence has questionably been a tremendous rce in deterring Cutcliffe from olating the penal statutes of this ate and has encouraged a life of ctitude. Is he prompted in seekg executive clemency by a dere to re-engage in crime? What al motive could he have which ould justify the nullification of e deterrent effect of this sennce? At the time he was given e suspended sentence he was ven every consideration to which was entitled and any benefit at he might now receive by a rdon would be at the sacrifice the public interest."

ITALY IS SEEKING MEDIATION IN CHINA

Fascists Would Include Revised Government in Anti-Communist Pact.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(UP)—Italy secretly is attempting to mediate the Chinese-Japanese war and has reached a tentative understanding with former Premier Wang Ching-wei, of China, that he will head a revised Chinese central government and make peace with Japan after her armies capture China's present provisional capital in Hankow, the United Press was told tonight by a non-British diplomat.

The information came immediately after Britain had informed Japan she can reach no agreement with regard to China until Japan gives air-tight assurances British rights in China will be respected.

The diplomat described Wang as "now virtually second in command to Chiang Kai-shek in Hankow" and said Italian agents, who have been working in Shanghai, Hankow and Hongkong since June, have obtained his agreement to these suggestions:

1. Wang, who represents a considerable peace faction among the right wing conservatives of the Chinese nationalist (Kuomintang) party, will send a representative to Tokyo to discuss terms with Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye.

2. Wang will press for leniency for Chiang Kai-shew, whom the Japanese have sworn to crush, in view of the fact that his consent will be necessary to effect a "peace" government under Wang.

3. If Wang does come into power his government will adhere to the German-Japanese-Italian declaration against communism.

JAPAN IS PREPARING FULL MOBILIZATION

SHANGHAI, Saturday, Aug. 20, (UP)—Japan today prepared to mobilize more than 1,000,000 additional men and to go forward with her conquest of China regardless of increasing foreign opposition.

A series of moves, following this week's decisions by Japanese Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye and his associates in Tokyo, indicated the Japanese are confident of their ability to crush Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and to carry the war through to a successful conclusion. The moves included:

In Tokyo the cabinet decided to invoke new sections of the drastic imperial mobilization law, which makes every subject of Emperor Hirohito and his possessions subject to military service, and to require immediate registration of physicians, pharmacists and technical school graduates. After imperial assent, ordinances will be promulgated and registrants will be conscripted as needed.

Meanwhile, terrific land, water and air attacks were launched on an estimated 500,000 Chinese soldiers southeast of Hankow; Chinese armies in southeast Shansi province were smashed and the important railway terminal at Puchow was captured, opening the way for a drive in Sian-fu, capital of Shansi province.

CLOUDY AND BREEZY FORECAST FOR TODAY

Cool weather will continue in Atlanta today, the United States Weather Bureau forecast yesterday said. Normal temperatures are expected to prevail, the extremes ranging between 68 degrees this morning to 88 degrees in the afternoon. The range yesterday was 69 to 86.

The skies will be partly cloudy a greater part of the day, George W. Mindling, meteorologist, said, with breezes continuing from the west and northwest.

You Can Win Free Trip to Paris In 'Marie Antoinette' Essay Contest

Just Put One Little Word After Another 300 Times and Send Them to The Constitution—Three Weeks in Gay Paree!

Lavish as the court of Louis the Fifteenth, which furnishes its locale, stately as the minuet his courtiers walked, dramatic as the revolution which their callous, sybaritic indulgences precipitated, tragic as the guillotine which doled its bloody vengeance—that's "Marie Antoinette," signaling the triumphant return to the screen of Norma Shearer, in one of the most spectacular film offerings ever made.

For the first time, permission was obtained from the French government to photograph the Palace of Versailles as the background for a picture. Thousands of photographs were obtained of the palace and other historically prominent buildings and streets in Paris.

All May Be Yours.

All these scenes as they really appear, and all the other wonders of Paris may be yours—not merely through photography, but as you stand face to face with the "Country of Marie Antoinette."

The Constitution and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer are offering all-expense trips from your home to France and return, together with 25 francs a day as spending money, to writers of the best essays of 300 words or less, on the subject, "Why I Should Like to Visit the Country of Marie Antoinette."

You have an equal chance with everyone else to win one of these trips in this contest which will be conducted in M-G-M's key cities of the United States. You don't have to spend all your time in Paris, but may divide the three weeks among the four French provinces.

Just think of the grand ocean voyage on the Normandie, the Ile de France, or one of the other magnificent French liners!

In addition to the trips to France, The Constitution and Loew's Grand, where "Marie Antoinette," with Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power, will open next Friday, are offering $50 in cash prizes and 50 pairs of guest tickets to essay writers in the territory of The Atlanta Constitution.

Can you afford to let a little effort stand between you and this chance-of-a-lifetime all-expense trip to "Gay Paree"—the home of Marie Antoinette, the Queen of France? Don't forget! All you have to do is write the best essay of which you are capable on the subject, "Why I Should Like to Visit the Country of Marie Antoinette," in not more than 300 words. Get busy today, for you must have your story in by next Friday morning.

Do your best. Let's have an Atlantan take one of these wonderful trips! And, Atlantans, Georgians and other Constitution readers are sure to win the $50 in cash, as well as the 50 pairs of guest tickets to see Norma Shearer, first lady of the screen, in her greatest triumph, opening next Friday at Loew's Grand.

PWA OKAYS $96,169 FOR FIVE PROJECTS

Dalton Allotted $51,750 for School Construction Program.

Approval of five projects in Georgia by the Public Works Administration, which allocated $96,169 in federal grants to aid in their completion, was announced yesterday by H. T. Cole, regional PWA administrator. Estimated cost of the projects was placed at $213,599.

Dalton was allotted $51,700 for additions, alterations and improvements to schools, the project expected to cost $115,000. Included in the program is the erection of a new six-room school, complete with laboratories and a bookkeeping department; a six-room addition to the North Dalton school; a four-room addition to City Park school; repairs to Emery Street and Fort Hill schools, and the enlargement of facilities of the library at Dalton High school.

A grant of $20,250 was approved for Dawson toward the construction of a new jail at a cost of $45,000, the building to replace the present jail, which is termed obsolete.

Waterworks improvements were approved for Dudley with a grant of $7,772. Plans call for the erection of a 60,000-gallon tank to provide adequate fire protection.

Lithia Spring was granted $10,620 for construction of a six-room school with an auditorium. The building will be a one-story brick veneer structure.

Active in church work, he was a deacon in the Morningside Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Miss Emmie Mae Barton; a son, Charles C. Barton Jr.; his father, W. F. Barton Sr.; a sister, Mrs. A. M. O'Neal, of Washington, D. C., and two brothers, T. R. and W. F. Barton Jr., of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

METHODIST BODY ENDS ITS SESSIONS

Mission Work Group Holds Report Secret.

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., Aug. 19. (AP)—A committee considering phases of a proposed merger of the three branches of the Methodist church ended a three-day closed session today and forwarded recommendations to a joint unification commission.

The committee, comprising 25 delegates from the Methodist Episcopal church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church, discussed the field of home and foreign missions, church extension, hospitals, evangelistic work, temperance and social service.

The committee's report was not made public. After being considered by the joint commission, it will be forwarded to a conference of the three churches next April.

5 MILLION IN AIRCRAFT TO BE SENT TO FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The State Department issued licenses during July for the export of $5,003,000 worth of aircraft to France.

The department announced tonight the licenses called for $5,000,000 to be expended on military aircraft and $3,000 on civil aircraft, probably parts. France is buying a total of 100 warplanes here, mostly light bombers.

CHARLES A. NICHOLS, CONTRACTOR, DIES

Funeral Services Will Be Held at 2 O'Clock This Afternoon.

Charles A. Nichols, 65, Atlanta contractor, died yesterday morning at his home, 1351 Euclid avenue, N. E.

He has been critically ill three weeks ago when physicians were forced to ampute his left leg. He returned to his home from a hospital several days ago.

A native of Acworth, Mr. Nichols has lived in Atlanta since his childhood. He and his father, the late David Nichols, and two brothers, W. M. and the late John M. Nichols, founded the D. Nichols & Son Contracting Company many years ago. He continued to operate it as the Nichols Construction Company after the death of his father.

Surviving are a brother, William M. Nichols, of Decatur; three nieces, Mrs. Ralph E. Paris and Mrs. T. J. Judge, both of Atlanta, and Mrs. Emory Miller, of Largo, Fla., and four nephews, John M., Frank D. and Charles W. Nichols, and W. L. McEver, all of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill, conducted by Dr. Ellis A. Fuller. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Boys, Aroused by Death of Friend, Volunteer for Safety Campaign

Write Mayor for Authorization To Punish Young Traffic Law Violators and for Badges; He Refers Them to Chief Hornsby.

A group of West End youngsters wrote Mayor Hartsfield yesterday and volunteered their services in the prevention of traffic accidents.

Six weeks ago one of their playmates, Francis Burger, was killed when his bicycle was struck by a bus. Since then the boys have been thinking. They figured there was some way they could aid.

They decided to organize a boys' safety patrol. Their leader, Jimmie Medlock, of 1240 Gordon street, S. W., sat down and wrote the mayor about their plans. Here is the letter:

"Dear Mr. Mayor: We have organized a safety patrol. We have seen many wrecks in the past few months. One of our members was killed six weeks ago. His name was Francis Burger. We think if the boys of the city of Atlanta had lights and would enforce the license tags it would be a lot better.

"We think that there should be more members in our safety patrol, so we have started getting new members.

"Will you please send us a signed letter that gives us the authority to punish children who break the law by crossing a red light or riding at night without a light or reflector? Please send us eight badges."

The mayor praised the boys for their interest and said he would request Chief Hornsby to have Captain Jack Malcolm, head of the traffic bureau, confer with the boys.

"I think these youngsters are showing the right spirit," the mayor commented. "I only wish more of our adults were as civic-minded as these boys."

Americus Rotary Club Holds Two Charters

AMERICUS, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Americus Rotary Club is well chartered.

Members of the club several weeks ago looked around for the club's original charter, granted 20 years ago. They couldn't find it. A hurried meeting of the board of directors was called and a copy ordered from Rotary International headquarters.

The charter arrived and some of the Rotarians gathered in a hotel to discuss where to place it. A janitor overheard them. A few minutes later he approached the officials with the original charter.

He explained he had been keeping it for the club for "years and years."

LANIER TO BE RETRIED IN DAUGHTRY SLAYING

SYLVANIA, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP) Solicitor General W. G. Neville said today he would place Lonnie Lanier on trial for the second time next Monday in the slaying of Charlie Daughtry, Screven county planter.

A mistrial was ordered when Lanier was tried recently. Two men have been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in the case, John Burns and Osborne Newton, and several others, Albert Cobb, Savannah attorney; Joe Newton, Bloomingdale merchant; Ralph Newton, son of Joe Newton, and Aaron Nelson, a negro, are under indictment.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The stock market resumed its rising stride today, but top gains running to 3 or more points were chipped down substantially at the close.

Wall Street's wishful thinkers climbed aboard the rails in the afternoon on word from Washington the Association of American Railroads would have an "important" announcement about 2:30 p. m. First thoughts had to do with the possibility a wage cut compromise might have been effected. Most, though, were doubtful of this and the result was that buying volumes, while picking up considerably over yesterday's smallest turnover in more than two months, never was sufficient to put the ticker tape behind.

Slower Trade Pace.

There was a quick let-down in sentiment when it was eventually learned from the capital that the "important' 'tidings from the A. A. R. was merely the disclosure that a petition had been filed for an extension of coal freight rate increases due to expire at the end of the year.

The trading pace then slowed appreciably and the buoyant rails dropped about half their best advances. While industrials stepped down from their peaks, most finished well ahead.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .7 of a point at 48.6, the best performance of the week. Transfers of 825,680 shares compared with 446,610 the day before.

Motors and steels, lagging in the forenoon, came back to finish well in front. General Motors touched a new year's high. Both this issue and Chrysler retained gains of 1 1-2 points each, the former at 47 7-8 and the latter at 72 5-8.

Tire Shares Gain.

Tire company shares were popular throughout, reflecting inventory appreciation and a better sales outlook.

A secondary influence favoring recovery were advices from abroad that the Sudeten German-Czechoslovak controversy, which has been causing some uneasiness both in America and Europe, might be peacefully settled by an offer of the Czechs to turn over pivotal government posts to German nationals.

The curb market closed indecisively. Aluminum Company gained 3 3-8 and Detroit Steel Products 2, while fractional upturns were registered by Lake Shore, Electric Bond & Share and American Cyanamid "B." On the minus side for a point or more were Newmont Mining, Fruehauf Trailer, Dominion Steel & Coal and American Potash & Chemical. Turnover was 98,000 shares, against 83,000 yesterday.

NEW FINANCING SHOWS LARGE GAIN OVER 1937

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—New financing this week topped the comparable 1937 period by a substantial margin, although dropping behind the previous week.

Stock and bond flotations, exclusive of federal issues, totaled $39,313,990, according to a survey by Poor's Publishing Company, compared with $92,158,000 last week and $28,779,586 a year ago.

For the second week, public utility issues accounted for more than half the total.

The break-down follows:

| | This Wk. | Prev. Wk. | Year Ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Municipal | $10,531,150 | $ 7,784,000 | $18,704,500 |

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Bonds developed recovery momentum today, with the cream of the gains going to the rails.

Trading activity broadened a little, with the total at $5,041,250, face value, compared with $3,996,525 on Thursday.

Bonds of New York city traction companies continued to meet demand at rising prices, based on expectations of early realization of the long proposed unification scheme.

Interborough Rapid Transit 7s certificates blazed the way with a rise of 5 1-4 points at 59. Other Interborough and Brooklyn-Manhattan transit loans pushed up 1 to 2 1-2.

Rails stiffened after some erratic swings in early trading.

The carrier issues started to forge ahead early when financial circles heard the Association of American Railroads would have an "important" announcement to make in the afternoon. However, when the "important" announcement came a half hour before the close of the market, it proved to be only that the association had asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to extend freight rate advances on bituminous coal granted last October, which are due to expire December 31 of this year. Consequently, rail bonds sold off slightly in the final hour of trading, but eventually closed close to the day's highs.

Trading sentiment affecting the rails seemed more favorable in connection with recent progress in the realms of reorganization and consolidation.

United States governments continued in an uneven range, ending 4-32ds down to 2-32ds higher. Foreign dollar loans felt a downward pull from weakness in Italian and Polish obligations.

PLAUCHE'S WEEKLY COTTON STATEMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19.—Secretary Plauche's weekly New Orleans Cotton Exchange statement issued today showed that the amount brought into sight for the week was 147,484 bales against 219,897 for seven days last year, and for the 19 days of August it was 298,199 against 454,954 last year.

The movement since August 1 showed receipts at all United States ports 181,745 bales against 301,764 last year; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 23,412 against 11,445; interior stocks decreased under those held at the close of the commercial year 49,858 against a decrease of 49,255; southern mill takings net 143,000 against 191,000.

These made the total movement for the season from August 1 to date 298,199 bales against 454,954 last year.

Foreign exports including Canada for the week were 62,148 bales against 61,299 last year, making the total thus far for the season 145,526 against 145,312 last year, an increase of 214 bales.

World's spinners takings of American cotton during the week were 156,000 bales against 164,000 last year, distributed as follows:

North and Canada 20,000 against 13,000; south 76,000 against 79,000; foreign exclusive of Canada and orient 50,000 against 53,000; orient 10,000 against 19,000.

Total takings of American cotton for the season 426,000 bales against 474,000 last year, of which north and Canada 42,000 against 31,000; south 174,000 against 202,000; foreign exclusive of Canada and orient 179,000 against 172,000; orient 31,000 against 69,000.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 102 leading southern interior centers have decreased during the week 8,451 bales against a decrease during the corresponding period last season of 69,448 and are now 2,857,594 larger than at this date in 1937.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Raw sugar was firmer in tone today. Buyers appeared more willing to pay the last price of 2.75, but offerings were light and generally held at 2.80 and higher.

No. 3 future contract was firmer on active covering and commission house buying, promoted by the AAA announcement that there would be no reallocation of beet sugar to other areas. Final prices were 5 to 8 points net higher on sales of 39,750 tons. The No. 4 was steadier in sympathy with the No. 3 and closed unchanged to 1 point net higher with sales of only 1,850.

Range of prices (No. 3):

| | High. | Low. | Close. |
|---|---|---|---|
| September | 1.82 | 1.77 | 1.82b |
| January | 1.93 | 1.88 | 1.93b |

| July | 2.03 | 2.03 | 2.03b |

b-Bid.

Refined was unchanged at 4.25 to 4.30 for fine granulated with a fair withdrawal demand reported.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Coffee futures were irregularly lower today under trade selling of late months in Santos contracts and hedging against African coffees in the Rio.

Santos opened unchanged to 2 lower and closed unchanged to 5 lower; sales 13,000. Rio opened 2 higher to 2 lower and closed 2 higher to 8 lower; sales 6,000. Closing quotations: Santos, September 6.48, December 6.68, March 6.79, May 6.83, July 6.85; Rio, September 4.46, December 4.45, March 4.47, May 4.52, July 4.54.

Cost and freight offers included Santos Bourbon 4s at 7.00 to 7.20. Spot coffee steady. Santos 4s 7¾ to 8. Rio 7s 5¼ nominal.

AVERAGE PRICE.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at 10 southern spot markets was 6 points up at 8.35 cents a pound. The average price for the past 30 market days was 8.59 cents a pound.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Cotton turned higher today following opening losses as moderate Wall Street and local buying revealed a scarcity of offerings. December advanced from 8.28 to 8.37, and closed at the high, with final prices 4 to 7 points net higher.

The market opened 1 to 2 points lower with the influence of steady Liverpool cables offset by a small volume of southern and foreign selling. Trade buying absorbed these offers and for several hours prices moved irregularly over a range of a few points. Firmness of stocks and grains in the afternoon attracted some buying and further complaints of crop deterioriation in eastern and western parts of the belt contributed to the advance.

Exports today 10,135 making a total of 146,172 for the season thus far. Port receipts 23,198; United States port stock 2,402,553.

With traders anticipating the possibility an announcement from Washington outlining terms of the cotton loan might be issued over the week end, there was little disposition to make fresh commitments.

Weather conditions in the south were generally favorable with ony a few widely scattered showers. Dry conditions in parts of Oklahoma and northwest Texas were unrelieved but, generally, Warm, sunny weather is needed over the belt from this time forward.

Cotton goods markets remained quiet. Spot cotton interests reported that foreign and domestic inquiry for spot cotton was limited.

COTTON PRICES RALLY IN FINAL DEALINGS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19.—(AP) Improved securities and increased covering by shorts in the last hour of trading rallied cotton prices from a slight early decline here today. The market closed steady at net advances of 6 to 9 points.

In addition to the covering, trade buying on the scale-down and a shortage of contracts helped the late rally.

Port receipts 10,098; for week 84,395; for season 181,645. Exports 10,237; for week 60,148; for season 145,526. Port stocks 2,410,746. Stock on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 20,769; last year 11,730. Spot sales at southern markets 6,749; last year 26,784.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Stirred by correct indications be[forehand] of notable freight ra[te] changes that would facilitate ex[ports], corn rose 1 1-2 cents [a] bushel today and wheat 1 cent.

Highest prices of the day, bo[th] for corn and wheat, were curre[nt] in the final transactions. An add[ed] stimulus as to corn values cam[e] from estimates that 600,000 bush[els] of corn had been bought to[day] for export.

After the day's dealings we[re] ended, formal announcement wa[s] made that railroads would reduc[e] reshipping rates from Chicago [to] the Atlantic seaboard 10 cents [a] hundred pounds for export grai[n]. This means a saving of 6 cents [a] bushel on wheat and 5.6 cents [a] bushel on corn, effective Octob[er] 1 to December 1.

Corn values developed a pro[nounced] upward trend almo[st] from the outset. Helping to hoi[st] the corn market was notice tha[t] the Commodity Credit Corporatio[n] had extended from September [to] November 1 the time withi[n] which the corporation would pur[chase] from banks and other lend[ing] agencies eligible paper ev[i]dencing loans made under th[e] 1937-38 corn loan program. Thes[e] loans are on the basis of 50 cen[ts] a bushel.

Wheat prices were inclined t[o] lag owing to uncertainties regard[ing] United States government ex[port] subsidy plans. Besides, im[mediate] overseas demand fo[r] North American wheat was smal[l] with purchasing confined to som[e] Pacific coast lots and a little ne[w] crop Canadian.

STEEL OUTPUT TO RISE IN BIRMINGHAM AREA

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 19.—(AP)—A sharp upturn in industrial activity in the Alabama steel district was predicted today as company officials announced three new furnaces would be in operation by next week.

Steel production will rise several points to 53 per cent of capacity, with announcement that Republic Steel would operate a new 150-ton open hearth furnace at Gadsden, Ala., Pig iron output also will increase with two more furnaces blown in at Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company's Ensley plant.

Work on a $5,000,000 steel box car order from the Southern Railway will get under way about the middle of next week, said officials at the Bessemer plant of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company.

Bank Clearings

Although rising quite sharply from the low level of the week preceding, volume of bank clearings for the current period continued under the total for the same 1937 week. The drop, however, was considerably shortened from that reported a week ago.

Aggregate clearings for 22 leading cities of the United States, for the week ended Wednesday, August 17, according to Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., amounted to $4,674,850,000, against $5,326,912,000 last year, a loss of 12.2 per cent. The year-to-year comparison for the preceding period showed a decline of 18.2 per cent.

The week's turnover at New York increased to $2,765,232,000, but was still 9.2 per cent under the $3,046,804,000 for the like 1937 week. For cities outside of New York the amount was $1,909,618,000, compared with $2,280,108,000 last year, or a decrease of 16.2 per cent.

Among outside centers, New Orleans showed another rise of 5.4 per cent, and Richmond a gain of 11.1 per cent. The more important declines at other cities included: Pittsburgh, 32.8 per cent; Detroit, 30.9 per cent; Cleveland, 25.6 per cent; Cincinnati, 25.3 per cent; Chicago, 22.3 per cent; Kansas City, 22.0 per cent; Buffalo, 21.1 per cent, and Portland, Oregon, 21.1 per cent.

Bank clearings at leading cities, compared with those of 1937, are given herewith; also, the daily average bank clearings for the months of June, July and August to date:

Money Market.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The British pound went into reverse in exchange dealings today and turned an early small loss into a financial gain of 3-16 of a cent. Changes elsewhere were also narrow in quiet dealings.

Money circles apparently felt the political horizon had blown clear for the time being, and a further touch of confidence was added by Premier Daladier's strong stand in support of the present value of the franc.

The French unit showed a gain of .00¼ of a cent and the discount on forward francs narrowed. The belga was .00½ of a cent higher while the Swiss franc lost .01 of a cent and the guilder .02 of a cent.

Closing rate follows:

Former Carpenter, Now Farming, Assails Laws Limiting Planting—Salesman Visits City, Finds Business in South on Up Grade.

By Jack Spalding III

An ex-Atlanta carpenter, whom hard times sent back to his small Cobb county farm, swore yesterday he would never leave it again, ig he could get his hands on a little capital.

"I'm farming today for the first time in 40 years," C. J. Maddox said yesterday. "I lost my job and had to go back to the land. And I like it a lot better than working in the city. I'm my own boss out there, and can do pretty nearly what I please." However, with no capital, Maddox finds himself unable to raise much more than he and his stock can eat, so he's regretfully looking forward to the return of better times, a job, cash, and a boss.

"Only thing I don't like about farming today," Maddox explained, "is this damned law that keeps you from planting what you want. If I want to plant me 10 acres of cotton, I don't want nobody to tell me I shan't do it. And I believe if we have another election on the subject, it will go the other way."

FORMER FARMER DOESN'T LIKE IT.

On the other hand, W. E. Jackson, of Birmingham, left an Oconee county farm to become a carpenter, and in his words "wouldn't go back for hell."

"An independent life? Hooey! Not today. If you raise any cotton in spite of the weather and the boll weevil, you can't get it ginned until the government gives you a ticket.

"I've been a carpenter for 12 years, and I'm sticking to it for the rest of my life. Times are hard, but when I get a day's work, I get paid for it. Now, my son-in-law works like a slave on his farm all year, and he doesn't know until the last minute whether he's going to make any money or not. This year, he probably won't."

SALESMAN SEES BUSINESS PICKUP

Leon Strauss, of Chicago, travels the southeast with a line of linen supplies for hotels and hospitals. "Business," he said, "has been awful. And though there still isn't any real business worth mentioning, folks are thinking times are going to pick up, and have started buying from me."

Strauss is making his annual Florida trip, to sell supplies to whatever managers have arrived to make ready for the season. But his Florida business is a mere drop in the bucket.

"A 400-room resort hotel, open for three or four months, only needs to buy as many sheets and towels per year as a 100-room commercial hotel," he explained. "And would you believe it?" he asked. "The resort hotels that ask the fanciest prices use very poor merchandise. You pay a lot and they give you nothing."

3,019,593 ON WPA

'7-Month Goal' Reached in Month.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The WPA announced today its employment rolls had passed the 3,000,000-mark set by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins as a probable peak for the first seven months of the current fiscal year.

The year began July 1.

As of August 13, WPA rosters listed 3,019,593 persons, an increase of 23,934 over the week ended August 6. This was the largest enrollment since early in 1936, when the number was above 3,035,000. It was almost twice the 1,524,000 figure of a year ago.

Woman Picks Trunk For Death Chamber

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—A trunk was the death chamber of Mrs. Hope Draper, 44, who was listed by police today as a suicide victim.

Police Lieutenant Mitchell said the woman, whose slight body was found in the closed receptacle, died by inhaling or swallowing an anesthetic.

PASTOR CONFESSES KILLING HIS MAID

Given Life Term Within 24 Hours After Confession.

BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Less than 24 hours after he had confessed the murder of his 16-year-old housemaid, the Rev. Heio Jannsen, 51, Evangelical Lutheran pastor at Krem, near here, was in the state penitentiary here tonight serving a life term.

In a hastily called district court session at Mandan, shortly after midnight, Janssen pleaded guilty to poisoning Alma Kruckenberg, the maid, because she had threatened to reveal the minister was responsible for her pregnancy.

State's attorney Sperry said Janssen signed a confession admitting he put poison in some wine he gave the girl. Then he set fire to the parsonage. Investigation of the fire led to discovery of her body and questioning of the minister.

DON COSSACK CHOIR INJURED IN CRASH

23 Members of Troupe Hurt in Germany.

BERLIN, Saturday, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Twenty-three members of the famous Don Cossack choir, which planned to go to the United States next week to fill a concert engagement, were injured last night when their bus crashed into trees near Weissenturn in the Rhineland.

Thirteen were seriously hurt. Forty members were aboard the bus, which was en route to Bad Ems from Bad Nejenahr.

DUMMY TORPEDO SINKS NAVY BOAT; 5 SAVED

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—(UP)—Their boat struck by an erratic dummy torpedo, three United States navy divers and two seamen were rescued by the destroyer Hamilton late today 20 miles off Newport.

The boat, equipped with salvage rigs used in retrieving torpedos shot in target practice on the navy's range, sank in 80 feet of water off Castle Hill. The torpedo had made a normal run until close to the target when it "hooked" and headed directly at the boat, struck its side and tore open seams.

D. A. V. NAMES COMMANDER.

Creeping Recovery in Securities Follows Week of Downswings

Gain in Business Loans Is Considered Constructive, Hughes Asserts.

By GEORGE T. HUGHES.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Performance of the stock market this week has been in striking contrast to that of the week before.

From Monday, August 8, to Saturday, August 13, inclusive, every session registered a decline. From Monday, August 15, to Friday, August 19, inclusive, every session found the industrial shares higher at the close than they were at the end the day before, even though the gains were sometimes only fractional.

It is true that, up to Friday, the response of the railroad stocks was not so uniform, but, on balance, they, too, scored a gain, though not a large one. The utilities lagged still further behind, but exhibited no weakness.

On this week's creeping recovery, volume fell off sharply. There was no million-share day, whereas, on the reaction, there had been two. This week, the smallest turnover for a full five hours' trading was 450,000 shares on Thursday; the week before, the corresponding figure was 809,980 shares.

The picture, then, is of comparatively heavy selling for one week, after which the liquidation dried up and was succeeded by cautious, almost timid, buying on greatly reduced volume. Probably it is too early to say that the reaction is over and that the list is ready for a new forward movement, but that has often been the sequence of events in the past, when, after an intermediate decline, a bull market regained its stride.

Convincing reasons for expecting another rise are not easy to give. One might be that the market had revealed itself to be immune, or nearly so, to unfavorable news, such as the cutting of dividends and poor earnings statements. Certainly, it has not been affected by domestic political developments.

Tension in Europe at Times has seemed to be a factor, but the only result was to cause traders to withdraw to the sidelines and investors to withhold new commitments. It did not seem to stimulate liquidation.

The gain in business loans reported by the local Federal Reserve member banks was constructive. It was the second week the item had advanced, this time $10,000,000, following a gain of $17,000,000 in the previous statement. If a turn has really come in the trend of commercial borrowings from the banks, it is a good omen for both business and the banks, to say nothing of the stock market. In Chicago, a gain of $6,000,000 was reported.

Business Trends In Financial News

(Copyright, 1938.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Among the favorable and unfavorable items in the day's business news are the following:

FAVORABLE.

Production of cars and trucks in United States and Canadian factories totaled 23,940 units this week, against 13,790 last week and 93,339 a year ago. Most of this week's rise was due to the resumption of operations by Ford Motor Company.

Revenue freight car loadings in week ended August 13 totaled 589,561 cars, recording a greater-than-seasonal increase of 5,511 cars over previous week. Compared with like 1937 week, a decrease of 184,221 cars was shown.

Business loans by reporting members of Federal Reserve System in 101 leading cities showed increase of $10,000,000 in week ended August 17.

Engineering construction awards for week ended August 17 totaled $44,079,000, increase of 3 per cent over like 1937 period.

No Unfavorable items.

JOHNNY—Dr. Hereward Carrington, the "Psychic Detective" will present a crime dramatization during the "Johnny Presents" broadcast to be heard over WGST at 7:30 o'clock tonight. This new series, known as the "Psychic Detective," is based on material furnished by Dr. Carrington, one of the leading authorities on physical phenomena and director of the American Physical Institute. Jack Johnstone, radio dramatist, writes the dramatizations.

Popular selections of "Music in the Morgan Manner" will be played by Russ Morgan and his orchestra.

DRAMA—"By the Grace of Dishwater," a comedy of New England folk by Merritt P. Allen, will be presented as another original radio drama during the new series to be heard over WAGA at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The much put-upon Noah Perkins appears again in Mr. Allen's play and as usual Noah is plotting to defeat what he considers a nefarious scheme. In this case he is hoping by means of a spelling bee to get out of washing dishes.

SWING—Tito, his Swing Accordionists and Songstress Doris Fisher head the guest list of the "Saturday Night Swing Club" when the broadcast is heard over WGST at 7 o'clock tonight.

Tito and his fellow members of an accordion trio have been popular features of several network shows recently. Miss Fisher combines an unusual vocal style with a talent for composing and she will sing one of her own compositions on the program tonight, with Leith Stevens and the regular Swing Club band.

Program music will include:

"The Flight of the Bumble Bee" (Tito and Swing Accordionists).
"Sidekick Joe" (Doris Fisher).
"Summertime" (Leith Stevens orchestra).
"Cyclone" (Tito and Swing Accordionists).
"Don't Let That Moon Get Away" (Doris Fisher).
"Lullaby Rhythm" (Leith Stevens' orchestra).

DANCE—With Lulu Belle and Scotty back from their vacation, the "National Barn Dance" cast will broadcast their program from a specially constructed stage at the Wisconsin State Fair and will be heard over WSB at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Hoosier Hot Shots, girls' trio; Arkie, Maple City Four, DeZurik Sisters, Bob Ballantine, Henry Burr, Lucille Long, the Novelondeons, the Hayloff band and the orchestra will feature a variety of musical numbers. Tom, Dick and Harry, vocal trio, will be guest artists.

FIRE THREATENS COLORADO VILLAGE

350 CCC Enrollees and Volunteers Battle Blaze.

TOLLAND, Colo., Aug. 19.—(UP)—More than 350 CCC enrollees and volunteers fought tonight to halt a forest fire that threatened to destroy this mining village of 250 persons.

The flames were roaring only two miles south of town, but forestry officials hoped a light wind blowing in the opposite direction would save the buildings.

New fire fighters were recruited tonight from the Red Feather Lake CCC camp, 15 miles away. A. A. Brown, fire specialist of the United States Forestry Service, started from Denver to take charge of the fight.

TO REDUCE RATES.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—J. S. Brown, Board of Trade transportation department manager, said today eastern railroads have announced their intention to reduce reshipping rates on grain from Chicago to Atlantic ports for export 10 cents per 100 pounds.

SARDIS POSTAL CLERK CHARGED WITH THEFTS

Harold F. Bargeron, 25, post office clerk at Sardis, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing from the mails, it was announced by Post Office Inspectors J. A. Miller and J. N. Towns. Bargeron was bound over to a federal grand jury under bond of $1,000 after a preliminary hearing before the United States commissioner at Augusta.

According to the inspectors, the defendant had removed approximately $100 from letters over a period of two months.

Mother Slain, Man Held In Relief Check Fight

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP) Max Harris, 38, was held without bail today on a charge of killing his mother because she asked him for $11 from her relief check so she could pay the rent.

Detective Santamorena said Harris had $4,500 in the bank, plus $265 which was secreted in his home and $25 in his pockets.

When his mother asked for rent money, the detective told Magistrate McKiniry, Harris beat her so severely she died four days later.

JUSTICE RUSSELL TO CAST HIS VOTE FOR GEORGE FOE

Senator's Father Says 'My Choice Is Lawrence S. Camp.'

Chief Justice Richard B. Russell Sr., of the state supreme court, revealed yesterday that he has settled his "choice upon Lawrence S. Camp" in the four-cornered race for Georgia's No. 1 seat in the United States senate.

The chief justice said he was making his choice on what he said was the "very clear" statement of President Roosevelt that if he were eligible to vote he would cast his ballot for Camp. The chief justice revealed his choice in a letter to Kenneth A. Campbell, chairman of the Fulton County Camp for Senate Club.

At the same time Chief Justice Russell made it clear that if his ballot meant the carrying his county for ex-Governor Talmadge over Senator George he would vote for Talmadge.

Letters Follow.

The following exchange of communications was made public yesterday by Campbell:

"Hon. Richard B. Russell Sr.,
"Chief Justice Supreme Court,
"State Capitol,
"Atlanta, Ga.
"My Dear Judge:

"Some weeks ago you wrote the President of the United States and asked that he make it clear to the voters of Georgia which one of the four senatorial candidates he deemed most suitable for that important position.

"On August 11, the President made his position very clear that if he were eligible to vote as a Georgian he would cast his vote for Lawrence Camp.

Make Position Known.

"Knowing that the Hon. Eugene Talmadge has attempted to lead the voters of this state to believe that they each have your support I think it only fair to you and most timely that you let the electorate of this state know your true feelings in the matter.

"As an old friend of yours, and as president of the Fulton County Camp for Senate Club, I am asking that you reply to this letter in writing and that you give me your permission to make public your feelings.

"With every best wish, I am
"Yours sincerely,
"KENNETH A. CAMPBELL."

"Hon. Kenneth A. Campbell,
"Atlanta, Ga.
"Dear Kenneth:

"In reply to your letter of the 18th I would like to say that on August 11th the President made his position very clear, in saying that if he were eligible to vote as a Georgian, he would cast his vote for Lawrence Camp for United States senator from Georgia. And that settled my choice upon Lawrence S. Camp.

"I do not know that the Hon. Eugene Talmadge has attempted to lead the voters of this state into believing that he has my support. But I will say that as I have only one humble ballot to cast, that if I become convinced that my vote will be necessary to prevent the county in which I live from being carried for Walter George, I will cast my ballot for Eugene Talmadge, to make certain the defeat of Walter George—whom I have long been satisfied is a mere servile tool of the great utilities trusts.

"Sincerely your friend,
(Signed)
"RICHARD B. RUSSELL SR."

HUGH HOWELL HITS STATE'S EXPENSES

Attacks 'Extravagances' of Rivers' Administration, Pledges Tax Reduction.

CHATSWORTH, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Hugh Howell, continuing a pointed attack on the "extravagance" of the Rivers' administration, carried his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination to an audience here today.

Speaking in Blairsville yesterday, Howell told a crowd "If it were possible for Ed Rivers to fool the people of Georgia again," it would mean "huge increases in all forms of taxes, together with new taxes, including a sales tax."

Howell continued: "When Ed Rivers took office, he began to spend more money than was coming in. He soon squandered the $7,000,000 that had been accumulated in the treasury. He raised taxes of all kinds, and he passed 3,700 pages of tax laws, some of which created new taxes, some raised old taxes, some created boards to collect more taxes, and some created boards to spend more taxes, but all of them mean more taxes.

"Of course, this means tremendous deficits in the state's business. These will have to be paid by the taxpayers.

"Spending faster than it came got Rivers out on a limb, and he hedged by doubling many forms of taxes and increasing the ad valorem tax to the constitutional limit. He is still spending faster than the money is coming in, and, in all probability, by a sale of the Western & Atlantic railroad. He has never said how he will pay these debts, but it is to be presumed that he will begin to add more taxes.

"I have promised the people of Georgia that these taxes will be reduced; that there will be no sales tax, and that every unnecessary department of state and every unnecessary official and employe will promptly be cut off."

Lynching Bill Not Pertinent Issue, Camp Tells Covington Audience

By AL B. RICHARDSON.

COVINGTON, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Lawrence S. Camp told a Newton county home-coming crowd today the anti-lynching bill was not a pertinent issue in the Georgia senatorial race.

"Senator George is trying to make a lot of his opposition to the bill," Camp said. "I want you to know that when I am in the senate I will spend as much time fighting an anti-lynch bill as Senator George has spent going about over the state bragging about the one hour he spent talking against it in the senate."

He declared George had been obligated to power interests since he first ran for the senate in 1922.

Campaign Contributions.

"I have records to show that in 1922 George had as one of his largest campaign contributors Frank Shumate, a lobbyist for the Georgia Power Company," Camp said. "And again in 1926, among the senator's largest campaign contributors was Frank Shumate.

"There is not much wonder, then, that in 1928 when an effort was made to have a senatorial investigation of power trust influence on elections that Senator George made one of the hardest fights of his life against the resolution proposing the investigation."

Camp enlarged his allegation of Republican attempts to elect George. "For the first time in the history of this state Republicans in Georgia have been advised to go into the primary and vote. To vote for George. I thank goodness they are not being advised to vote for me.

"I tell you here and now, I am a Democrat from the top of my head to the bottom of my toes."

Communism in Georgia.

"There has been a lot said recently about Communism," Camp asserted. "But the people of Georgia are not worried about Communism—the isms they are worried about are 'big businessism' and 'Gannetism'."

"If you want to continue the great humanitarian, liberal, Democratic program that Franklin D. Roosevelt has started and see it carried through you want to send me to the senate. And I want here and now to invite you to join me in this fight for ourselves."

Camp said George opposed wages and hours legislation. "If he were much interested in the plight of the laboring man as he says he is he wouldn't have called the labor bill, as he once did, a 'wild dream'."

Talmadge Raps New Deal, George In Speech Made at Cartersville

Fought Administration Five Years Before Senior Senator, Former Governor Avers; Cites Speech at Macon Convention in 1934.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 19. (AP)—Addressing a courthouse square crowd, ex-Governor Eugene Talmadge said in a senatorial campaign speech today he was fighting the New Deal five years before Senator Walter F. George.

"It took Walter F. George a long time to find out about the President," he said, "and it took the President a long time to find out about Walter F. George.

"My fight on the New Deal began in 1933, just five years ahead of the senior senator, and the big newspapers of the state. They have at last awakened and realize that the measures I fought for for years must be accepted as true democracy.

State Convention.

"At the Democratic state convention in Macon, Ga., in October, 1934, when I called attention of the people of the state to the waste and extravagance of the federal government, Senator George took it upon himself to defend this same extravagance and made a statement in which he said: 'Sink or swim, survive or perish, as for me, I will stay with Franklin D. Roosevelt 100 per cent.'

"He used the same words in making a speech for my opponent, Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., in Fort Valley, Ga., in 1936. Senator George is following his old policy of changing on every issue. He has always followed this policy. He was elected to the United States senate on a platform opposed to the League of Nations, yet he voted for the same thing, which was the World Court.

"He tried to kill the REA by amendments and then voted for it. He voted for the economy bill which cut off at one time 440,000 helpless veterans and yet he boasts of helping these veterans. This same measure, the economy bill, also cut off many civil service employes.

Spoke Against Bill.

"He spoke for more than two hours against the farm bill, yet two days later he voted for it, and now he is against it again. Some of you farmers write him and find out where he stands on this bill to enslave the farmers on September 1.

"Since the President has kicked him off of his coattail, the only crowd that has anointed him has been Fitzgerald Hall, president of the N., C. & St. L. railway; Fred Wilson, of the power trust, and the big bankers and corporations of the nation.

"I want no anointment from either the President or the corporations. This is a bad year for coattail swingers. The masses of the people are going to anoint me on September 14, and when I go to the senate I will be able to represent the people instead of the president and the power trusts."

M'RAE PRAISES TOWNSEND PLAN

Prosperity Picture as Aftermath of Adoption Painted by Candidate.

CAIRO, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Prosperity for cotton and tobacco farmers was pictured by William G. McRae in a senatorial campaign address here today as an aftermath of proposed adoption of the Townsend old-age pension plan.

Describing himself as "the only true liberal in this race" for the seat of Senator Walter F. George, the Atlanta attorney came here from Pelham to present his platform to Grady countians.

Critical of all of his three opponents, he said:

"While I am speaking about Senator George I wish to point out that he is opposed to the payment of old-age pensions. Although he voted for the social security act in the senate, he bitterly condemned the supreme court of the United States for upholding the constitutionality of that act."

He said tobacco was taxed at more than 100 per cent of its value; reported total federal income taxes paid by all corporations in 1934 amounted to $397,000,000, while users of tobacco paid $425,000,000.

"If a tax of 2 per cent is placed upon all of the 784 different commodities now on the market, the tax on tobacco will be considerably reduced. If this tax can be reduced, more tobacco will be consumed, restricted production will be unnecessary, and your profits will increase.

"If the professional politicians had the courage to treat everyone fairly we would have no unjust discriminations. Unless we eliminate the gigantic bureaucracy which has been built up in the past few years all of us will be completely regimented in a few more years.

"If we can put money in circulation which the bankers cannot take out of circulation, we can preserve our independence from both the money-changers and the bureaucrats."

FLORIDA PUBLISHER, J. E. WORTHINGTON, DIES

LAKE WALES, Fla., Aug. 19.—(AP)—J. E. Worthington, 62, publisher of the Lake Wales Highlander since 1920, died at his home here today.

Worthington came to Florida from Michigan in 1911 and was city editor and managing editor of the Tampa Times for 10 years. He was prominent in Odd Fellows, Rotary and political circles in south Florida.

PRESIDENT'S CHOICE IS BACKED BY RALLS

Camp Supporter Upholds Right of F. D. R. To Enter Primary.

All that President Roosevelt has said "was that if he had a vote in Georgia he would cast it for Lawrence Camp," said Hamilton Ralls in a speech here last night in support of Camp's candidacy for United States senate.

"Is it wrong for the head of the Democratic party in the United States to say that, particularly when he is at the same time the elected head of this nation, attempting to carry out not only the mandate of the American people, but the mandate of the overwhelming majority of the Democratic voters of this nation," Ralls asserted.

He said Senator George had said the main issue is "have the people of Georgia the right to choose their own representative in congress," and added:

"All of us agree that the voters of this state have that right and that they are going to exercise it on the 14th of September but not as he (George) would have them do it. Who has denied them that right? Certainly not President Roosevelt."

Asking if Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland or Woodrow Wilson had hesitated to express a preference, Ralls continued:

"Why deny the same privilege to the present head of the Democratic party and the existing head of the Democratic administration?

"Senator George told his audience at Waycross, 'You want a man who can say "r.o" '—by that same token is not the President entitled to his own 'no' also?

"What in effect the President has implied is this: 'I say no to him who talks Democracy and votes Republican. I say no to him who claims to be a full-time Democrat in Georgia, but who is a well-known part-time Democrat in Washington. I say no to him and all who do not realize that a new order has come in America and that the old order has gone forever.' "

MAN FALLS TO DEATH FROM HIS HOTEL ROOM

A man registered at a hotel at 105 1-2 Marietta street as L. Phillips, 35, was found dead last night in the rear of the building.

Police said an inquest will be held today to determine if Phillips fell or jumped. He had been living at the hotel a month, Ted Ferry, manager, said.

The body was taken to the establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son.

GEORGE POINTS OUT PARADOX IN PURGE

Declares New Deal Backing Senator With Identical Record.

"Edgar Dunlap, stand up!"

"Glory To Old Georgia."

Dunlap, athletically built one-time candidate for national commander of the American Legion, arose, smiling broadly and waved. As he mounted the platform the band and an organ commingled the strains of "Glory, Glory To Old Georgia."

His voice trembling, Dunlap said he was "glad to stand again with George where I stood with him (when he resigned) and added "You can't scare Georgians."

Senator George characterized Dunlap's action in resigning as "a challenge that will reverberate throughout the nation. . . . He performed a forthright duty for a great cause, the cause of a free ballot in Georgia."

Going further, he said, "if because of his interest in my campaign, he loses his official head, why and how can the President justify the candidacy of another federal officeholder in this campaign, with all his deputies actively assisting his campaign."

General Harris decried the presidential intervention in the contest against George, told his hearers if they "obeyed the command" delivered at Barnesville "you will regret it, and I hope the President will live up . . . to regret it."

Senator George said he favored relief but added "no amount of relief can ever justify appropriation and expenditure of public money for the purpose of destroying free elections in America."

No Obligation.

He told his hearers "the acceptance of a single dollar from the federal government does not place the obligation on a single soul to be directed or controlled."

Discussing farm relief through parity payments from the federal government, the senator said, "I rather suspect you'll get the most of your benefit payments before September 14," the date of Georgia's Democratic primary.

One reason he opposed government reorganization was that he did not want "to put the vast army of federal workers under the power of one man," George said.

"You may say that no President would ever use that power," the senator asserted. Then he paused, spaced his words and added: "But I don't know. Yesterday, Edgar Dunlap lost his job."

COTTON AUCTIONED FOR CANDIDATES

OCILLA, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP) Campaign chests of Senator Walter F. George and Eugene Talmadge received cotton benefits today as result of an Ocilla cotton auction. The average price was sligthly less than 9 cents per pound.

A "George bale" sold for $125 in a spirited bidding. It weighed 501 pounds. A "red-gallused Gene Talmadge" bale of 532 pounds went for $190. Talmadge, Lawrence Camp and William G. McRae spoke. Senator George was unable to attend.

Wife of Desperado Sentenced for Aiding Him.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Judge Dennis sentenced Mrs. Barbara Bird, wife of Charles Bird, midwestern desperado, to 30 days in jail today upon her conviction of being an accessory in one of her husband's seven holdups here in recent weeks.

Contrasting "the black side against you," and the "other side of the ledger," Judge Dennis told the blond 24-year-old mother, her offense of aiding her husband was "a natural one," and "something almost any wife would do."

The judge took cognizance of her expected child, saying he did not wish "to add to the trouble of your children" by causing her second child to be born in jail. Her 14-month-old son, Charles Bird Jr., is with her parents in Cleveland.

She was quickly convicted yesterday after her husband pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 45 1-2 years in state's prison.

RENO 'DIVORCE JUDGE' DIES IN HIS 75TH YEAR

RENO, Nev., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Judge Thomas F. Moran, 74, who in 27 years on the Washoe county district court bench granted scores of divorces to prominent persons, died here early tonight after a long illness.

The veteran jurist, who announced his retirement July 22 and was eligible to receive a pension for life, had been ill for more than a year.

M'CARTHY TO SHOW AT FOX TONIGHT

"Letter of Introduction" will be shown at the Fox theater at 11:30 o'clock tonight for a special preview. Heading the cast are Adolphe Menjou, Andrea Leeds, Edgar Bergen with the inimitable Charlie McCarthy, and George Murphy. As the story embraces incidents in Bergen's rise to fame with McCarthy, excellent comedy opportunities were offered in its development. Because of the unique style of comedy employed by Bergen and Charlie, most of the incidents dealing with the pair, and practically all of the dialogue between the two was written by Bergen, recognized as the master comedy constructionist and writer.

Mrs. Witcher presented the "boss" with an apple pie, which he quickly reduced to shreds with a slashing pocket-knife attack.

Rivers Is Trying To Ride 2 Horses, Mangham Says

COVINGTON, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Governor Rivers, by "trying to play both sides in the race for the United States senate," has assured his own defeat for Governor, John J. Mangham declared in a campaign speech delivered here today.

"Governor Rivers went to Barnesville and almost knocked down the speaker's stand in an effort to show that he was 100 per cent for President Roosevelt and Lawrence Camp. Yet, at the same time you will find right here in your community a lot of the Rivers' men working for George.

"How do you explain that? I have quit trying to explain it other than by saying that Governor Rivers is trying to ride two horses at once and is trying to fool you people. If you fall for this stuff it's your own fault because I have been telling you four and five times a day that Rivers is nothing but a big double-crosser.

"Rivers evidently has the George people fooled, because some of them are supporting Rivers. He also has some of the Camp people fooled, because some of them are supporting Rivers. But the big question is whether he has got you people fooled. Who do you think he is for anyway?"

"The safest way for Georgia to return to a sane and sound government is to elect John Mangham, who will give you just that kind of a government, nothing more nor nothing less."

CANTON, Ga., Aug. 19.—Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton of the marriage of their sister, Miss Kathryn Lee Wallace, to John William Rymer, which took place quietly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton on August 5 at 4 o'clock. Rev. E. T. Booth performed the ceremony in the presence of members of immediate families.

The bride wore a new fall frock of navy crepe with a chic navy felt hat, other accessories were also in navy. A shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley completed her costume.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace and a sister of Mrs. William Thornton, Herbert Wallace, of Canton, and Mrs. Mac Roper, of Murphy, N. C. She graduated from Canton High school in 1935 and since her graduation has been connected with the Tribune Printing Company as society editor.

Mr. Rymer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Rymer and a brother to Miss Sara Rymer. He graduated from Canton High school and attended Mt. Berry Schools at Rome, and Georgia School of Technology in Atlanta. He is connected with the Canton Cotton Mills.

Neighborhood Club.

The Atlanta Avenue Neighborhood Circle met recently at the home of Mrs. Lillian Battle. Mrs. James Cerniglia, the president, presided over the business session. Afterward a game of bunco was played, the winner of high score being Mrs. Gene Brooks and the winner of low score was Mrs. Mark Wages.

Present were: Mesdames Frank Fechter, J. L. Ivey, R. B. Fox, Frank Magbee, James A. Bellflower, Gene Brooks, J. H. Schofield, J. T. Kimberly, N. E. Pittman, J. D. Brown, James Cerniglia, W. D. Zink, S. L. Webster and M. L. Wages. Mrs. G. F. McCullough was a visitor.

Andrews - Drew Wedding Plans Are Announced

Miss Sara Andrews and Harold Drew have completed plans for their marriage and announcement is made today that the ceremony will take place September 2 at the Ormewood Presbyterian church.

The marriage service will be read at 8 o'clock by Rev. W. N. Crane, and a program of music will be presented by Miss Helen Schaid, organist, and Homer McNeely, soloist.

H. B. Andrews will give his daughter in marriage, and she has selected for her maid of honor her sister, Miss Dorothy Andrews. Mrs. Wyatt Bean, cousin of the bride-elect, will be matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Harriet Andrews, will be junior bridesmaid.

Groomsmen will be Judson Townley and Wyatt Bean and ushers will include Lawrence and Donald Drew, brothers of the groom-elect; Milton Townley and Ashley Moye. Mr. Drew has chosen his brother, Paul Drew, as his best man.

After the ceremony the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Andrews, will entertain at an informal reception at their home on Gilbert street, and after a short wedding trip Mr. Drew and his bride will reside in Atlanta.

Kappa Sigmas Plan Barbecue for Today

Atlanta Alumni Association of Kappa Sigma fraternity will give a barbecue this afternoon in honor of all active members, pledges and rushees. The affair will be held at Lakemoore, the country estate of Wiley L. Moore, on Roswell road, two miles beyond Buckhead.

The entertainment program will include swimming, boating, athletic and card games, and dancing. Fifty guests will attend. Officers of the alumni group, in charge of the entertainment, are Harold Cavenaugh, president; Diddy Murray, vice president; Devereaux McClachey, treasurer, and Jack Palmer, secretary.

Bolton O. E. S. To Celebrate Birthday.

Bolton Chapter, O. E. S. No. 143, will celebrate its 21st birthday on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic temple at Bolton. Past matrons and patrons and charter members of the chapter will be the honor guests.

The chapter was instituted on August 17, 1917, with Mrs. Delia Turner and Dr. Ray Moss as first worthy matron and patron. A complete history will be given by Mrs. R. D. Webb and life memberships will be presented to Mrs. Jessie Loud and Mrs. E. P. Alsobrook.

An electric signet of a modern design will be dedicated by Mrs. Pauline Dillon, past grand matron of Georgia, and a member of the appeals and grievance committee of General Grand Chapter. Mrs. Lauert Mitchell will furnish musical selections.

Miss Hardwick Celebrates Birthday.

Mrs. Richard H. Hardwick will honor her little daughter, Claire, on her sixth birthday today at a swimming party and luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club.

The guests will assemble at the club at 11:30 for a swim, after which luncheon will be enjoyed at a gaily decorated table on the terrace. During the afternoon they will attend a motion picture matinee. Invited are Misses Hardwick, Jean Martin, Sally Clay, Rowena Rice, Patsy O'Gara, Betty Watson, Laura Hoppe, Sarah Sutherland and Beverly Burnett.

Miss Greene, Fiance Are Honor Guests.

Dr. and Mrs. James Byram and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blair were hosts last evening at a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Byram on Morningside drive, honoring Miss Frances Greene and her fiance, Jack W. Patterson.

The affair followed the rehearsal for the couple's wedding, which takes place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the First Baptist church.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. A. B. Greene and Mrs. Frederick S. Patterson, mothers of the bride-elect and groom-elect.

The guests were limited to members of the Greene-Patterson bridal party and members of the two families.

Miss Ross Feted.

Mrs. Robert T. Edwards was hostess last evening at her home in West End at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Mary Ross, whose marriage to Pearce Belcher Jr., of Pelham, takes place on August 27.

Miss Vogel Honored.

Assisting Mrs. Vogel were Misses Margaret Hendrix, Doris Hendrix, Grace Hendrix, Laverne Partain, Eleanor Ivy, Mary Ann Atkins and Mrs. R. M. Higgins.

Mrs. Rhodes and Dr. McWhorter Wed at Home Ceremony in Athens

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 19.—Statewide interest centers in the announcement made today of the marriage of Mrs. Alexander Rhodes, dean of women at the University of Georgia, to Dr. Robert Ligon McWhorter of the classics department of the university.

The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the bride's home in the presence of members of the bridal pair's families. Rev. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of the First Baptist church in Athens, performed the ceremony, and Michael McDowell presented a musical program.

The bride wore an afternoon model of blue marquisette with a shoulder spray of white orchids. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. McWhorter left for a trip to the east.

Dr. and Mrs. McWhorter are members of families whose names are prominently linked with southern history. They are widely known throughout the south and have a wide circle of friends who will learn of their marriage with cordial interest.

It's Nice to Know Beauty and Charm Have Their Off Days

Eleanor Whitney Named Movie All-American Girl

By Ida Jean Kain.

An interview with a movie star can be good, bad or indifferent according to the star's disposition—or whether she needs the publicity. Nevertheless, the writer always feels constrained to present the interviewee in as good a light as possible, even though she has to fight down a sense of guilt at concealing what goes on behind the scenes from the reader.

So many good things, however, are always being said of the motion picture stars that it is easy to get an exaggerated impression of their beauty and charm. We almost take it for granted that they are always glamorous, have sweet dispositions that make them exude charm at all times, and are beautiful under all circumstances. Not all of this is true. Most of them are charming and most of them are beautiful, but they have their off days just like the rest of us. I thought you would be glad to know that.

Now, how would you like it if you were waiting for an interview with a beauteous blonde with a widely publicized sweet disposition, and overheard her appealing to the Almighty and saying, "Do I have to see that woman now?" Later, of course, she murmured the conventional "So delighted to see you." But I didn't really feel better about it until I had her demonstrating her exercises. It was a hot day, too.

The going isn't always like that. When the photographer came over for a still of an interview with Eleanor Whitney. . . . Well, anyone would hesitate to have a picture taken with little Miss Whitney. She's that cute! But this little star was right there with "Wouldn't you like some movie makeup?" So I nominate her for the All-American girl of the movies.

And if I were to name the star who is the least affected, it would be a real beauty who must remain anonymous. I said, "What lovely hair you have. Do you brush it a lot?" And she said, "Ha, ha! It's a wig!" And when I asked the color of her own hair she said just as promptly, "Mouse color." It's easy to see the good points of a star when she herself doesn't think she is so terrific.

As you might expect, all the glitter goes to the heads of some of the glamour girls. There was that star who, advised that she would be late for a train connection if she tried to keep a luncheon date, dismissed it lightly with "In that case, I'll have to have a police escort. But I do love the sound of the sirens, don't you?" Ah, well!

After that it was refreshing to talk with Bette Davis, who is completely without affectation and who greets you like a friend from home. "Don't ask me any beauty secrets—because I'm no beauty," she said, which was just the start I wanted, because she is a beauty and a self-made one. She took what she had and made the best of it.

One interviews and learns. With the older, established stars, a little praise is in order, because they really have worked for their lovely figures. And like the rest of us, they appreciate credit when it is due, and are glad to tell their beauty secrets. Not so much credit is due the younger stars. It is easy for them to have good figures, but when they are older and have good figures, it is because they have exercised right along.

Somehow beauty does not seem so far out of reach for the average woman when she realizes that even the screen beauties have flaws to overcome.

Protest Voiced Over the Term 'Office Wife'

By Caroline Chatfield.

A month ago I printed a sharp letter from a correspondent taking exception to any use of the term "office-wife," in this column. At the same time I invited readers to speak their minds on the subject. The results are interesting and the opinions are about evenly divided. Ironically enough, on the very day that the original protest was printed, side by side with it, in several papers, was a syndicated picture of a weeping wife bidding goodby to her husband on his way to the penitentiary, sentenced for shooting his "office wife." Several wives clipped this picture and sent it along as Exhibit A. I admit this dashed me a bit.

Here are some excerpts from all over South Carolina: "It makes no difference who uses the expression 'office wife,' it isn't fit to be used by decent people. It orginated in impure minds, was bred in illicit relations between businessmen and their employes" . . . "There are people who smear every relationship in life by the misuse of words. 'Office wife' is a case in point. It's an insult to the type of businessmen I know and also to the business girls who are my friends."

Georgia: "I've been a stenographer for more than a quarter of a century and frankly I have a sense of nausea every time I hear the words 'office wife.' Our national morals are getting lower and lower every day. The suggestion in this term doesn't tend to raise them."

Minnesota: Evidently these violent objections to such common slang as 'office wife' come from jealous wives who are playing a losing game with their husbands and are consequently sore on life in general. . . . California: "Why should wives wring their hands and tear their hair because somebody coins a humorous expression to describe a man's dependence upon his secretary or stenographer?"

North Carolina: "I'm a typical office wife and will be proud to have my daughter follow in my footsteps; no reservations, no regrets; a clean slate." . . "The term is born of loose morals, condoned by the cohorts of Satan to snare others into evil;" . . . "I cannot put into words the hot resentment I feel when somebody uses the term office wife in my hearing. The word wife is sacred and I don't think it should be defiled in this way."

Illinois: "Here's my okay on the term 'office wife.' Where's our sense of humor?" . . . "I can remember when the term 'private secretary' was one of opprobrium but that prejudice passed away. 'Office wife' implies to me merely that the business woman is capable of running a man's office as his wife runs his home."

Thanks for the buggy ride, readers, and for the reminder that there are two sides to every question. So help me—I'll think twice before I write those words again.

Greta Garbo will portray the role of "Madame Curie" in the forthcoming production by that name, soon to get under way by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Stokowski Returns With Counsel To Answer Questions of Press

By Sheilah Graham.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19.—One good woman is worth three handsome men—according to M.-G.-M., which will lend Universal three males—Robert Montgomery, Robert Young and Jimmy Stewart—in exchange for the film rights on "Madame Curie," to be portrayed by Greta Garbo. . . . Interesting to note that Leopold Stokowski, Greta's European playmate, had a lawyer with him to answer questions of the press when he returned to this country a few days ago. I think several nit-wit stars should follow suit.

Olivia De Havilland's latest beau is David Niven, who admits he is sending her flowers. "Which," says David, "I rarely do." . . . Olivia's sister, Joan Fontaine, assures me she has no intention of eloping with Conrad Nagel. "When I get married, it will be a proper wedding—with Mummy, Olivia and everyone there. An elopement is too undignified," says Joan. Is it because Mr. Nagel is so dignified that he finds such favor with Miss Fontaine?

Basil Rathbone tells me that he considers the "Dead-End" kids "an awful bore." It would be amusing to get the comments of the said "kids" on Mr. Rathbone. . . . Nothing to that Joan Crawford-Cesar Romero rumored twosome. Joan is merely using the Brooklyn-born Cuban to practice dance routines for her next picture. . . . I am told that the reason Sam Goldwyn wishes we would all discontinue those gags about him is that it proves embarrassing to 13-year-old Sam, Junior, who cannot boast about his father to his school friends, who unfortunately read the movie columns.

Ginger Rogers is hiding from her studio, which wants her to make exploitation photographs for "Carefree." . . . Jack Oakie is a trifle bitter about his broken marriage. "This wife business is the most expensive thing I've ever come across. Why did I do it?" wonders Jack. . . . When Howard Hughes returns to picture producing, he will film the story of Amelia Earhart, authored by husband George Putnam. The late aviatrix will be portrayed by Katharine Hepburn, who, in addition to resembling Miss Earhart, is also a special friend of Mr. Hughes.

Dick Powell tells me to tell you that the annual $10,000 he pays his servants supports six families, and that, if there were more men who had more servants, there would be less unemployment. . . . Little Sybil Jason, now attempting a picture comeback, says sadly that, even in her heyday, her pocket money was only 50 cents a week. . . . Marlene Dietrich has been sending cyprus trees from France to friend Countess Di Frasso. Which reminds me of an incident at a recent Di Frasso soiree. The guest of honor was an Italian who had recently disported himself on the battlefields of Spain. When the Countess introduced him to Errol Flynn, she gushed, "You two have a lot in common—you have both been in Spain during the fighting." The Italian, of course, is a "Rightist." Flynn says he is a "Leftist." The two gentlemen spent the evening glaring at each other.

On August 23, 12 years ago, Rudolph Valentino passed on. This year, as in the past, the faithful will mark the day in memorial services for the departed screen hero. . . . The reason behind Clarence Brown's recent trip to Italy was to get Il Duce's permission for the screening of "Idiot's Delight," which was refused. Serves Metro right for asking Mussolini. Since when have foreign dictators had the right to decide that this or that Hollywood picture shall not be made? . . . Norma Shearer, first lady of the movies, is visiting the New York home of Helen Hayes, first lady of the theater. It says a lot for the gentle nature of these two that they get along so well.

MY DAY: Pathetic Letter Received From the West Coast

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mrs. Scheider and I left Hyde Park yesterday afternoon a little after 4 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Gray left just before this to go back to our old home in Tivoli, N. Y., for a few days. I would have felt very sad to see them go if they were not returning on Sunday to spend a little more time with us.

The drive down was very pleasant and we made good time. But, as we neared the city and I saw the lines of traffic going out of New York, I realized it would not be well to leave the city at the hour when most people were leaving their work for the day.

This was the first time that Mrs. Scheider has been in New York city since early June, so when we crossed the Henry Hudson bridge she noted the fact that it was now a two-way proposition. I was so busy talking that I went by the toll official and she wasn't able to drop her 10 cents into his hand. I had to back up to pay the toll. The official looked a little annoyed and I did not blame him, for realized that I had treated him very much the same way we use to treat the rings we caught as we went by on the merry-go-roun

I thought we might be tempted to go to the theater last nigh but it was so warm that after dinner on the porch I did a litt writing before going to bed. It seems cooler today and I think will rain.

I expect to spend a good part of the day going through the thing which we have in storage with John and Anne, in the hope th they may find some things which may be useful to them in furnish ing their apartment.

A pathetic letter has come to me dealing with the conditions workers who harvest and can fruits and vegetables up and dow the west coast. Of course, these conditions are not confined the west coast—they exist wherever we have migratory worke who follow the crops through the different seasons.

This letter points out the fact that housing conditions are ba that the children have little opportunity for schooling and th wages are not of the best. I do not need this letter to point o these conditions, because they are already familiar to me. T problem is a very difficult one. The nature of the industry mak it necessary to have a migratory population of workers, and yet do not feel that the industry itself has ever made a concerted effo to get these workers together with the owners and work out so plan by which housing, schooling, health and general living cond tions could be safeguarded.

I realize that this is not easy, but it would be far easier if the were more organization and good will on both sides. In certa places the government has taken some steps to help improve hou ing for these groups. I do not know whether it should remain government function, for the only way really to deal with industri questions is to have the industries and workers co-operate, and on ask such help of government as may be found necessary.

The Lady With a House Continues Writing Diary

By Elizabeth McRae Boykin.

Monday—Took a long walk in the rain today—a warm gentle mist it was, but we were pretty damp by the time we got back to the farm house where we're stopping and the big old wood cook-stove where we dried our clothes. But what a grand time we had, little boy trotting along barefooted till he got tired—then his daddy carried him piggy-back for three miles. "That much better work-out," said his six-foot-three of highness.

Tuesday—We're on an auto trip through New England and having an elegant time stopping overnight in tourist homes along the way. Last night we stayed in a house built in 1807 and probably by a ship's carpenter so smooth and well fitted were all the joints and moldings. And maybe you don't think that makes housekeeping easier. Cracks in woodwork are the bane of my life. Not meaning to explain away the spotlessness of that house—plenty of elbow-grease and enthusiasm is needed in the slickest of houses.

Wednesday—Can hardly wait to try this idea out on my sewing machine—fine white batiste curtains appliqued with cut-outs of flowered chintz. (Or maybe 'twould be better to use a flowered dress cotton so the curtain would be more washable). I'd like these curtains in a room with lavender striped wallpaper . . . and lavender braided rag rugs.

Thursday—We stopped off to say hello to some friends who spend their summers on an old Maine farm they picked up for a song—(around $800 for the house and a couple of hundred acres). They're as cultured a family as we know and many summers without town diversion accounts, we think, for the self-reliance and heartiness of the three children, now nearly grown. And they have a charming and comfortable summer home, even if it doesn't have lights, gas, plumbing or telephone! They made us stay over for the evening because there was a baked-bean supper at the church over the hill. Which we wouldn't have missed for anything.

Friday—We've settled down at last and I've spent a good part of the day repairing the ravishes of travel. And at very long last I've fallen for something I've always snubbed—fancy finger nail polish. Theoretically I don't approve, but it makes me feel rather devilish, which is good for a lady's morale once in a while and doesn't really threaten her morals. But there's quite an art to getting the stuff on—what a mess I made the first time or two I tried to put it on myself!

Saturday—We're staying at a place that's practically next-door neighbors to Booth Tarkington at Kennebunkport. He lives in a big old white house furnished with old furniture and deep jewel-toned rugs. What a man—he writes about life up and down the block, yet physical disabilities keep him in a world apart and aloof.

Sunday—Our New England hostess told us proudly that she makes a specialty of southern fried chicken and Virginia ham. When it was lobster and clams that we came for! However, we shouldn't crab—there's plenty of everything along these shores.

TODAY'S CHARM TIP

A thought to ponder over on a discouraged day is that glamorous women are rarely pretty. They're interesting always, and they work their own miracles of charm.

New Daytime Dress by Barbara Bell

All you ladies who love straight lines, simplicity, and look extremely chic in tailored things—here's a design to delight your hearts. It's one of the best new ways we've seen to look tailored without looking severe! The skirt and sleeves are straight and cuffed. The blouse is charmingly softened by gathers and trimmed with a round collar and bow.

This smart design looks equally well in cotton, silk and wool. For new, why not have it in flat crepe or silk print—small-figured or polka dotted? Later, by means, make it up in challis, flannel or jersey.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1515-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38; 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 3 5-8 yards of 39-inch material; 1 1-8 yard ribbon for tie belt; 5-8 yard for bow; contrasting collar and cuffs would take 3-8 yard.

Price of pattern 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell Fall and Winter Fashion Pattern book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns.

When the Bid Is Seven No-Trump

By Harold Sharpsteen.

There is one redeeming feature about a double-squeeze never to forget:

So long as the top card of the two-or-more-card threat suit is a winner, the rank of the remaining cards in the suit is of no consequence, because opponents must retain the same number of cards in the suit to control it.

(Dummy)

D—A Q 7 2
C—A 4 3

W ..... E

S—A Q 10 6 4
H—Q 5 4 3
D—K 8 6
C—2

(Declarer)

The bid is seven no-trump. You may have preferred the contract be played in spades, but partner had a different idea.

Suits May Break.

West opened a small diamond so that is something in your favor. You count five spade tricks, three hearts, three diamonds and a club. If hearts or diamonds break 3-3, seven no-trump is a lay down.

Your first job is to find out which suit will accommodate you with four tricks.

But They Do Not.

Three leads of diamonds finds West still clinging to the jack, but if you have become "squeeze conscious" by now, keep in mind, dummy's little deuce is a one-card threat over West's big diamond jack. But try the heart suit now, your worries may be over, anyway.

Three rounds of hearts finds East with a fourth good heart, but your own small heart constitutes a one-card threat against East's heart.

Two Single Threats.

So do not give up, yet. You have established a one-card threat against both opponents . . . the first essential for a double squeeze provided you can find yourself a two-or-more-card threat suit to further tantalize both opponents with.

Your only possibility is the three-card club suit in dummy hand which does not look very imposing . . . but it will do . . . and very well.

Numbers Important.

For so long as you hold the commanding card of the suit, the rank of the other cards makes no difference. Number of cards is important.

Date for a dip in the ocean. But don't go away. Let us see this deal through.

'Til tomorrow. . . .

Health Authority Receives A Pound of Propaganda

By Dr. William Brady.

Daily in the mail comes a pound of propaganda, most of it resembling as nearly as possible bona fide copy which a newspaper correspondent might turn in, some of it especially prepared to get by a medical or health editor if any, and some being so raw that one wonders whether any of it ever gets into print. The last type is exemplified in a fake news bulletin describing a "New Invention" that not only reveals the cause of obscure disease but uncannily eradicates the disease from the system, no matter whether it be tuberculosis, insanity, cancer, catarrh or just nervous weakness.

If you use the mails to sell some simple soul stock in a non-existent mine you are likely to go to jail, but the penalty for such fraud as that perpetrated by this "New Invention" will probably amount to no more than the profit you make from a single sucker, if the government does happen to catch you in the act. The nostrum and quackery business is so firmly established in this country and it has built fortunes for so many of our now aristocratic families that Uncle Sam is extremely diffident about discouraging it even now.

Believe it or not—surely somebody believes it or the vendors could never sell their product in this way—the "New Invention" can prevent coming diseases . . . and the fake bulletin explains how:

"Until disease-causes are washed into the sewer it is almost useless to speak learnedly about diets, sweat baths, adjustments, massage, mind-cure, exercises, blood-building, etc., for the condition of the bowels affect (sic) the whole man, even his religion, pocketbook, temper, love, brain, disposition and his very soul. So long as hidden disease-causes are at work, science is helpless, bowels remain costive, mind gloomy, temper ugly, moods notionate (sic), sleep restless, joints rheumatic, stomach ulcerous, complexion bad, influence paralyzed, liver enlarged, heart fitful. . . ."

In other words you don't feel so well.

If that paragraph doesn't cover your complaint, do not lose hope. There are several other paragraphs in the bulletin, and somewhere in one or another place you will find the miracle machine takes care of secondary trifles such as high blood pressure, gas pockets, intestinal parasites, dropsy, catarrh, infection, heart disease, mucus, impactions, lack of nerve force, liver complaint, headache.

In fact, if your capacity to believe still holds out, this "new invention" is the only bowel-flusher and water-drill that brings results to doctors, nurses and patients (let us say nothing here about morticians).

Well, people can be educated—but that is a slow process. It is slow because they already know so many things which ain't so.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

I like wheat germ. Wife says too much of it will hurt me. Is that correct? (B. S. A.)

Answer—I know of no injury likely to occur from eating large quantities of wheat germ. Most people would enjoy better health if they ate a few ounces of it daily.

Victim of Inefficiency.

I suffered for a month, afraid to have ulcerated teeth extracted, especially as two dentists I visited at the beginning, told me it was dangerous to pull them while the swelling was up. Then came your article, and I went at once to an up-to-date dentist, and had six bad teeth extracted, practically without pain, and no unpleasant after-effects. (A. H. K.)

Answer—Many quaint old-fashioned dentists still practice the dentistry of 1890. Competent dentors today endeavor to drain alveolar abscess (abscesses at root of tooth) by prompt surgical intervention, saving the tooth if it is not too badly damaged by the infection, extracting it if it is beyond saving. When a fusty practitioner mumbles in his beard about the "danger" of treating the trouble while swelling is present, he is a good one to avoid forever after. Likewise the tooth carpenter who hints that you have "caught cold" or that you may "take cold" in it. Such ideas are alibis for ignorance and incompetence.

Symbols or "Signs" Give Simple Clues to Dreams

SYMBOLS OR "SIGNS" GIVE SIMPLE CLEWS.

What odd things trouble us in dreams! We agonize over a handful of pennies—a splotch of mud—a buzzing bee.

But the distress of our dream selves does not appear so foolish when we find out what such images mean. Many of them are warning signs from the unconscious mind. They're symbols of the secret fears and desires which nibble at our happiness.

That handful of pennies may stand for an unreasonable dread of losing some prized possession. Mud hints we're morbidly haunted by repulsive thoughts. The buzzing bee may reveal a cowardly fear of "stinging" criticism.

How can we know our dream images have such meanings? By studying thousands of dreams, psychologists have found that people plagued with similar problems have similar dreams.

A person fearful of growing old is likely to dream of a grinning cat—with the perfect teeth associated with youth. A shy type probably will dream of appearing partly dressed in public.

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, chief—all share a common dream language. You can easily learn how to read it—get light on your emotional problems.

A dream in which you cower childishly before a policem hints you're too afraid of peo in authority. Develop confiden Or do you dream of a dark roo Do you have the common falli dream?

Paul Arrives Unexpectedly and Begs Joyce to Set a Date for Their Marriage

By KATHLEEN NORRIS.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

"You're wonderful!" Paul said.

"It's so good to see you again!"

"Claire said she wrote you I was coming."

"She did, and she was sweet about it; she wanted me to come up, as I did two years ago. But I couldn't! But, Paul, you weren't to arrive until today."

"And I didn't, darling!"

"You didn't arrive today!"

"This morning at 10. Claire met me and we went into town and had lunch with Dad. At two I was on my way. This is the car a fellow and I brought across the continent."

There was a bench under the oak; she had drawn him to it; they were both seated. A lull came in their eager talk, and they looked at each other. Paul said that Claire looked fine and his father looked fine, and asked for Joyce's father. His face flushed a little and he added:

"You've had it rough. I'm so sorry. I—you had my letter?"

"You sent me a lovely letter." Joyce's face wrinkled; she bit her lower lip. "It's made a tremendous change here," she went on, not very steadily. "That was why I couldn't go to Claire and wait for you; Dad's so much alone. He's—you'll see; he's much quieter than he was."

"Poor kid!" Paul said. There was another silence. "And Dodo's married," he stated rather than asked.

"Oh, yes; and with two babies! Jacky and Mary. Mary's getting so adorable!"

"And Lissy?"

"Yes, and she and Archie have great expectations too. It seems so sad. Mother loved babies so, and she'd have three grandchildren already. But they do help Dad."

Paul regarded her with great satisfaction. "Gosh, you're thin!"

"Well, I am a little thin now, but it's all right. I eat like a hired man and I sleep ten hours a night. But I've been awfully busy; there's something to do every minute."

"You're doing it all now, I suppose?"

"Where's Michael?"

"Oh, he's here. We couldn't live without Michael. He's fixed that old cabin in the canyon—it's quite cute! And his cousin's here. Arthur Tallant—Captain Arthur Tallant of the Royal Somethings. You're home," she added simply, "for how long this time?"

"For keeps. How does that sound?"

"Heavenly."

"I finished two weeks ago. I had to go up and see my aunt in Boston, and pick Tony up. It took us about a week to get started."

"And now what?"

"Dad thinks I can loaf for a while and go into the firm about the first of August." Paul put his arm about her. "And if, in about six weeks, you and I should step off," he began. "How about it, Joyce? I lost you once through being a fool. But I'll never let you go again."

"You didn't lose me."

"I know, but I acted like a skunk the time we were down there at Del Monte—let you go home on the train, didn't write for months—"

"It didn't matter. I didn't really belong in that group. I couldn't compete with Elisa," Joyce said, with a smile for the remembered miseries of that visit. "What's become of her?"

"I don't know. I never saw her after that. Shall we tell your father today, Joy? This is March. Why not early in May?

"That would give us all June and July for a honeymoon," Paul said, enthusiastically. "We could take the car and go up to Banff and fool around—go down to Santa Barbara. My mother's rolling in dough now. She's going to take a place in Santa Barbara. She's divorced again, or rather, it never was a marriage—this third one."

"Oh, horrible for her!" Joyce exclaimed. "Did he desert her?"

"Oh, no; she was the one that found it out. You see, her second husband—the man she lived with only two months—died last December," Paul explained amusedly, "and he had a tremendous lot of money. So mother had a lawyer fix it that her divorce from him never was legal, and she left Pete cold in Paris, and came over here and started a claim on Louie Crowder's money. And she got it. She'll be here in 10 days, and she wants me to drive her down to Santa Barbara to look for a place. And why not you, too?"

Oh, but I couldn't leave Dad!"

"Why, but look here, you're going to leave him for good, aren't you?"

"Yes, I know." Her face was flushed with exquisite color. He thought he had never seen her as lovely as she was this afternon.

"But—we've planned if I did," she explained, "that Dodo and Charles will live here with Dad, and Isabelle Dunker will stay on after she has her baby. It can be right here with Dodo's babies—"

"Who is this Isabelle, anyway?"

"She's a widow, and she was starving—actually starving. She was widowed last August, and the baby is coming in a month and she hadn't a cent or a friend. They'd just come here from Kansas when he was killed. So she came up here, and we all just love her! But let's talk about us. I've not seen you for so long, I've not heard your voice for so long that it all seems like a dream!"

"It's years," he said soberly.

"More than two. It was the summer Dodo was married."

"We'll tell 'em here, and tell Dodo tomorrow. How far away does Dodo live?"

"The milk ranch is about 50 miles. But she's here in Merriwell now with Charley's family. They're having hard times on account of milk and butter being so terribly overproduced."

"Say, listen, how long has this depression been your favorite topic?" Paul asked with a grin. "As far as you're concerned, it's over. We tell the folks tonight; how's that? Then you and Dodo talk over the date, and how you want it. I don't care; I don't suppose we want a big fuss, do we?"

"Oh, no!" the girl agreed eagerly.

"Well, we'll be married somewhere. If my mother has a place in Santa Barbara, she'd like it there—or Claire would let us use her town apartment; that doesn't matter. Then Mr. and Mrs. Paul von Schwerin get into their car—and away! Does that sound good to you?"

"It sounds too much happiness."

"Listen, Joy — here's about money: We'll get piles of presents of course, chairs and clocks and things, and silver, and Mother'll give us a big check. So that'll start us off with a bang. Then I'll have about four hundred a month from some bonds, and the firm will pay me something to start with—a hundred anyway—and we'll spend our week ends with Dad and Claire to save money, and because it'll mean a lot of fun—there's always something going on at the club. We can do it on that, can't we?"

"We'll be rich," the girl said.

"We'll be rottenly poor!" Paul altered it. "But Mother'll come through; she's got all kinds now."

Joyce sighed from sheer happiness, leaned her shoulder against him, and felt his arm about her. Somehow she didn't want to talk about the money.

The long soft shadows of the spring afternoon lengthened. Joyce was suddenly on her feet. Paul would stay for dinner and she must make it festive. She took him into the kitchen, introduced him to Isabelle.

"Feels like winter out," William Ballard said.

"I was telling Joyce I wouldn't know this room. 'Member what it looked like when you first came over here?"

"It was a bleak-looking place! But we've grown fond of it, Joyce and I." Quite suddenly Joyce's heart ached fiercely for her father. She went over and put her arm around his neck.

Michael and Arty came in just before dinner. Paul was introduced to the strange Englishman, and dinner was served. Joyce looked about the circle of the men with great satisfaction. Pink candles burning. Isabelle bringing in the fried chicken and new asparagus, three men about the board keeping the conversation moving. Not so bad a result, considering the despairing outlook of four years ago!

Joyce thought that she had never been so happy in her life.

"It's good to see you so happy, Joyce," Michael said to her later in the evening when Paul had gone.

If there was a questioning note in his voice she did not hear it.

"It's good to be happy!"

"You're going up to visit his people?"

"His father and stepmother, yes. He comes back for me on Friday. And later we may drive down to Santa Barbara to see his mother."

"Definite plans?"

The girl flushed and laughed.

"Well, pretty definite. For autumn sometime, I imagine."

"What he said at dinner—about Canada, you remember? — made me think it might be sooner."

"I know. He said June. In fact, he said May. But this is March; that's too soon! I've been thinking about him," Joyce said seriously, with a little upward jerk of her head that indicated the direction her father had just taken on his way up to bed. "I don't want to—shock him with too much change. I'd rather wait and see how things go with Dodo and Charley here. And then there's Isabelle's baby. I shouldn't feel comfortable if everything weren't finished off here. But I don't know," she added. "I knew Paul was coming back of course, but now it's happened, it seems too much like—breaking things up, like leaving more than I'd gain—I don't mean that of course—because when you love a person—"

UNCLE RAY'S + Corner +

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

A great deal is asked in a short space by Miss Violet I. M. Hiltz.

"Can you tell me," she writes, "the highest mountain, the largest lake, the longest river in the world? Does Lower California belong to Mexico or the U. S. A.? Also will you give the names of the different races of mankind?"

The highest mountain is Mount Everest, which rises to a height just a bit more than five and a half miles. Mount Everest is a peak in the Himalaya mountains, in south-central Asia.

The largest fresh-water lake is Lake Superior. It contains over 31,000 square miles, and is about 20 per cent larger than its nearest rival, Victoria Nyanza, the largest lake in Africa.

If we class the Caspian as a lake, it ranks as the world's largest lake, but its water is salty, not fresh. Although commonly called a "sea," this body of water is not joined to any ocean, and sometimes is classed as a salt lake. The Caspian sea (or lake!) is five and a half times as large as Lake Superior.

The longest river? That is another hard question! If we count the Mississippi-Missouri as a single river (as it really is) it is the longest in the world. The Nile in Africa and the Amazon in South America are strong rivals.

The penisula known as Lower California belongs to Mexico. It is not part of the state of California, even if it does touch the southern California border! Lower California is slightly larger than the state of Wisconsin.

The hardest question of all is about the races of mankind. Scientists do not agree as to the best way to set people apart. Some say there are only three or four "races" but others divide the human race into many races. One expert has named "six groups and 29 races." The races include Bushmen, Melanesians, Ethiopians, Australians, Berbers, and so forth and so forth.

A more common way to divide the human race is by color of skin. Thus we have the white, yellow, brown and black races, or we may say the Caucasian, Mongolian, Malay and African races. Sometimes we also hear of a red, or American Indian, race.

There is a great deal to be said about races and the time may come when we shall have a whole series of stories on the subject.

Crackers Rally in 7th To Defeat Smokies, 6-3, in Series Opener

★★★ ★★★ ★★★ ★★★ ★★★ ★★★ ★★★

Grant Rice - Melvin Pazol - Roy White - Thad Holt - Tom McRae - Johnny Bradberry - Kenneth Gregory

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A thought persists among many baseball fans of Atlanta that, after the season ends, Buster Chatham will be given his release.

But he won't.

The Atlanta Baseball Corporation won't stand in Buster's way if he has a chance for better things. If there is a chance for him to land a managerial job with some other club, he can have his release.

But as far as letting Buster go is concerned, that's the remotest thought from the club's mind.

President Earl Mann is the authority for this statement.

Chatham will be retained by the Atlanta club either as a utility player or a regular on the infield. They may make a third baseman out of him.

It's certain that Johnny Hill is going to be sold to the majors. And so the Crackers will need a third baseman. Chatham should make a good one.

Probably the main reason why some fans think Chatham is slated to go is because of the fact that he was given a night recently in Atlanta.

There is nothing to that. Buster was given a night because he was entitled to one. It was not a farewell present.

I don't think it ever has been brought out, but the Atlanta club thought so much of Chatham that he was presented a check for $1,000.

With this check, plus the half a grand donated by the fans and other gifts, Buster had probably the greatest night—or day—ever given a minor league player.

And, as said, it was nothing in the nature of a farewell. He is too valuable a man for that.

If Buster Chatham leaves Atlanta after this year it will be only because he so desires. He will be groomed either for third base or for the role of utility player for next year.

There is a chance some other Southern league club may want him as a manager. Undoubtedly there will be two or three changes after the season ends.

Two or three clubs show considerably more on paper than they have produced on the ball field.

A managerial opportunity is the only thing that could induce Chatham to leave, however. He is perfectly frank when he says that "when I leave Atlanta as a player, I am perfectly willing to hang up my glove. I wouldn't feel right playing anywhere else. The people have been grand to me and I hope I have, in turn, been able to please them."

THERE WAS TALK.

There was talk during the season when Buster was sick and out of the lineup that if he were to be disposed of the Atlanta club would give him his unconditional release and allow him to make a deal for himself.

It was logical, at the time, that such a thing might happen. Malaria had caused Buster to ask to be taken out of the lineup.

But he seems now to have licked the ailment and is, naturally, a real asset to the club, just as he has been a real asset in the seven years he has been wearing a Cracker uniform.

He can play either infield or outfield well. And he is, as the saying goes, a "green fly" to the opposition, either as a batting threat or a defensive player.

President Mann's idea on the matter should put at rest all rumors. "We will not stand in Buster's way if he can better himself. He can have his unconditional release. But our plans are to use him either as a third baseman or utility player next year."

THEY KICK ABOUT UMPIRES.

Earl Mann was a spectator at the Henry Armstrong-Lou Ambers fight the other night in Madison Square Garden.

When the decision giving a third title to Armstrong was announced, Mann was dumbfounded. "And they kick about umpires," he said.

Mann was among the many thousands present in the garden who did not see how Ambers possibly could be shorn of his title after dishing out the punishment he did to Armstrong.

Mann thought the clinching argument was that Ambers had Armstrong out on his feet to such an extent that 15 seconds after the bell for the final round, Armstrong stumbled into the wrong corner and clung to the ropes. He didn't know where he was.

Armstrong's handlers had to go over and get him and virtually carry him back to his own corner.

The fight experts almost unanimously picked Armstrong. And then, when Ambers stunned them with his ability to stay in there and battle cheek-to-cheek with the little brown man, they were unwilling to give the defending champion the credit he was due.

No so-called champion in the history of the game ever was treated to such a deafening chorus of boos. Nor has any defeated champion since Jack Dempsey received such an ovation.

It was different in Ambers' case, however. He was not beaten. Armstrong, who had more than 20 stitches taken in his mouth; Armstrong, who spit blood the last seven rounds of the fight; Armstrong, who still was on the dressing table an hour after the fight ended; Armstrong, it was, who got the beating.

He was given a third title. That will be great stuff for a return match.

Still and all, it was such a fight that if Ambers had to be given the worst end of it, a draw was no more than fair.

Armstrong was a decided disappointment to this writer in that he can't box a lick. He has no real defense for hard punches.

He holds three crowns now. But, as Ambers' manager pointed out, "he won't be able to defend a one of them in less than six months' time. It will take him that long to recover from the beating Ambers gave him."

And that's a fact.

THE NEXT THING.

Boxing, on a large scale, is such a funny business that the next thing for the general public to expect is a triumph for Max Baer over Joe Louis.

That would make for a great rematch, too.

No one would, of course, suggest there is anything remotedly underhanded about the conduct of the affairs of boxing.

But boxing is big business and the public pays the way. There must be a real attraction. And what would go over bigger than for Baer to belt over Louis?

The answer is, nothing—unless it would be a rematch between Ambers and Armstrong and have the former win back one or two of the titles now held by the little brown man.

This may never happen, but it seems like, somehow, that it could.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY.

Top-seeded Louis "Lulu" Faquin, will battle Lykes Boykin, Columbia, while Atlanta's Don Buffington meets sixth-seeded Dick Morris, Winter Park, Fla., this afternoon at the Northside Tennis Club in the semifinals of the annual Georgia state net tournament.

However, features of this afternoon's play will be the finals of the women's singles when two unseeded shotmakers meet for the title. Mrs. Archie Comer, comely Miami star, will meet Mrs. David Jones, Atlanta and former Wimbledon player, at 4 o'clock for the feminine crown.

Faquin yesterday accepted the challenge of George Pryor, of Selma, Ala., and thoroughly trounced the fifth-seeded player, 6-3, 6-1. Morris, on the other hand, displayed neat form and blasted his way to a 8-6, 6-2 victory over Young Billy Turner, of Chevy Chase, Md.

VALLEBUONA OUT.

Mrs. Comer proved her worth with a victory over first-ranked Gladys Vallebuona, Atlanta, in the women's singles. The smiling Miamian won the first set, 7-5, and was leading in the second, 3-2, when the Atlanta brunette fainted on the court and defaulted.

There was little doubt of the outcome of the match since Mrs. Comer had forgotten her nervousness of the first setto and had the situation well in hand. She apparently was just beginning to "open up" with her powerful drives when the mishap occurred.

Mrs. Jones "upset" second-seeded Polly Taylor, 6-3, 6-3, and will be slightly favored over Mrs. Comer in the finals today because of her tournament experience. Mrs. Comer has only participated in six meets and is a bit nervous and not yet "tournament tough."

However, she is one of the classiest players in the meet, covering the court superbly and always rising to meet any crisis.

It will be a real battle.

SEMI-FINALS.

The men's semi-final matches are scheduled to start at 2:30, they being the best of five sets, while the women's affair will go the usual two out of three.

Faquin, by virtue of his convincing win over Pryor, is generally figured to win the meet. But young Dick Morris, Rice star, has shown the best form in the tournament and will be tough to whip. Both are favored in their matches today.

The Faquin-Pryor match yesterday, billed as the feature of the whole tournament, was frankly a disappointment. Pryor displayed none of the zip and fire shown in his matches against "weak sisters" of earlier rounds. He contented himself with merely patting the ball back.

This was just what Faquin wanted and he made the most of it.

RALLY WINS UPSET.

In the men's doubles, Champ Reese and Morris rallied to eliminate the fourth-ranked team of Pryor and Campbell Gillespie, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. David Jones and Hunter Bell teamed to whip the third-seeded team of Malon Courts and Red Enloe, 13-11, 6-4.

Top-ranked Faquin and Johnny Hyden found little trouble with Buffington and Weldon Seleskey, 63, 6-2, while J. T. and Preston Chambers blasted Jim Vuille and Buddy Enwright, 6-0, 6-2.

Top-ranked Buffington and third-seeded Charles Rice gained the junior finals. The former whipped Cortez Suttles, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1, while the latter disposed of Rea Tenney, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

MEN'S SINGLES.

Quarter-finals—Dick Morris, Winter Park, Fla., beat Billy Turner, Chevy Chase, Md., 8-6, 6-2. Louis Faquin, Memphis, beat George Pryor, Selma, Ala., 6-3, 6-1.

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

Semi-finals—Mrs. Archie Comer, Miami, beat Gladys Vallebuona, Atlanta, 7-5, 3-2, default. Mrs. David Jones, Atlanta, beat Polly Taylor, Atlanta, 6-3, 6-3.

JUNIOR SINGLES.

Semi-finals—Don Buffington, Atlanta, beat Cortez Suttles, Atlanta, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Charles Rice, Atlanta, beat Rea Tenney, Atlanta, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.

MIXED DOUBLES.

Quarter-finals—Comer-Faquin beat Camp-Suttles, 6-3, 6-4. Fowler-Preston Chambers beat Fleet and Fleet, 6-4, 6-1. Jones and Jones beat J. T. Chambers-Taylor, 6-3, 6-2.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

Quarter-finals — Chambers-Chambers beat Vuille-Enwright, 6-0, 6-2. Reese-Morris beat Pryor-Gillespie, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. Faquin-Hyden beat Buffington-Seleskey, 6-3, 6-2. Jones-Bell beat Courts-Enloe, 13-11, 6-4.

McLarry Gets Gate As Southern Umpire

President Trammell Scott Scores Polly For Removing Players From Games.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Howard "Polly" McLarry, veteran Southern Association umpire, said tonight Major Trammell Scott, league president, had notified him of his release, effective immediately.

McLarry said he received the following telegram from Scott, who is in Atlanta:

"On account of your continued inability to umpire satisfactorily without having to remove players from the game, you are herewith given your release effective as of this date."

McLarry left tonight for his home at Leonard, Texas, where he owns a farm. He said he might retire after 28 years in the game, but added: "I might get itching feet before next spring; baseball has been mighty good to me."

"Frankly, it came as a surprise," he said. "I was under the impression that I was doing a good job, and felt that the fans and clubs in the league as a whole were satisfied with my work. I'm not blaming anyone. The president paid me off in full, the league doesn't owe me a dime, and I'm not complaining. That's baseball."

Sports Editor Ben Epstein, of the Arkansas Gazette, quoted McLarry as saying:

"I would appreciate it as a great favor if you would make it plain that I was fired and not released upon request as many possibly would believe. I didn't quit because the pressure was getting tough in several spots in the league where they are battling to remain or reach first division. I was fired and your guess is as good as mine."

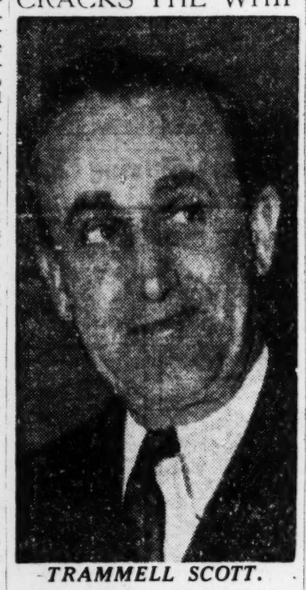

In his "Sports Gazing" column, Epstein said Manager Doc Prothro, of the Little Rock Travelers, and Larry Gilbert, of the New Orleans Pelicans, praised McLarry as one of the best umpires in the league.

McLarry came to the southern in 1933 after umpiring in the Western league for four years. He officiated in the Dixie Series of 1935 and 1937 and has worked every Shaughnessy playoff since the system was inaugurated in the southern.

He was an active player for many years, breaking into the game with Austin, Texas, in 1911. Later he saw service with the Chicago White Sox, Topeka, Kan. Chicago Cubs, Los Angeles, Binghamton, Memphis, Reading and Nashville. He managed the Selma (Ala.) club in 1928.

Refusing to comment on the McLarry case, President Trammell Scott said last night that as yet no successor had been appointed to McLarry.

CUBS PIN HOPES ON GREAT DIZZY

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs will lay their fading pennant hopes on the line against Pittsburgh tomorrow and shoot Dizzy Dean and his $185,000 arm against the Pirates in a long gamble on battling their way back into the National league championship fight.

Gabby Hartnett, the wounded old lion who leads the Cubs, made that decision today. Troubled because an injured thumb is keeping him off the field and because his team has lost four games in five starts since returning home, Gabby hasn't given up yet on the Cub chances of getting back into the title running.

"Diz may turn on just what we need tomorrow," the Cub pilot said. "If he does we may start clicking."

With the Chicago club exactly eight games back of the league-leading Pirates and needing at least three wins to approach a contending position, Dean is being placed in a spot—and he may surprise those who are convinced he "hasn't got it any more."

Dean, who cost the Cubs $185,000 in cash and three players, will enter tomorrow's game a "1,000 per cent hurler" with six wins and no defeats. Back of that record, however, lay one Dean disappointment after the other. Pitching brilliantly in one game to boost Cub hopes, he has looked bad in the next.

Australia To Meet U. S. for Davis Cup

Quist and Bromwich Beat Henkel and Metaxa To Cinch Five-Match Series.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Australia today won the right to oppose the United States for the Davis cup when its doubles combination of Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich overwhelmed Germany's Henner Henkel and Georg von Metaxa, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, in exactly one hour at the Longwood Cricket Club.

It was the Aussies' third straight victory of the five-match series and reduced the remaining two singles matches tomorrow to the status of exhibitions.

Two matches down and three to go when today's doubles encounter started, the Germans were hopelessly outclassed by the battering Australians.

ONLY IN THIRD.

They made a fight of it only in the third set, when, trailing 2-4, Metaxa held his own serve and the losers broke Quist's. This made it 4-4, but the Aussies then got together and cracked Henkel's service for the fifth time in six attempts.

Taking up where they left off yesterday, Quist and Bromwich had no difficulty racing through the Germans. The Australians twice broke Henkel's service, once at love in the fourth game, which gave them a 3-1 lead, and again in the last game of the set. With Henkel still off his game, a good share of the load fell upon Metaxa, and he was not quite up to taking care of the two Aussies himself.

The Australians continued to attack without mercy in the second set, and all the Germans could salvage in this chapter was a game on Metaxa's own service.

POUND BALL.

Meanwhile, with Bromwich pounding the ball hard with his two-fisted forehand, the Australians broke Henkel's serve for the third time, in the fourth game, and Metaxa's once, in the sixth.

The Germans were forlorn figures as the Aussies kept hammering away in the final set to run up a 4-2 lead. At this point, the Nazis made their only stand, Metaxa taking his own service and then going to break Quist's. But the Australians came back to take Henkel's and Bromwich held his to end the match.

Win or Get New Jobs Official Tells Tribe

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—(UP) The league-lagging Cleveland Indians were warned today to win the American league pennant or look for new jobs.

Vice President C. C. Slapnicka, angered by the Tribe's losing streak that has put the team 10 games behind the New York Yankees, snapped:

"If we can't win the pennant with this team, then we'll have to break it up."

SKEET TOURNEY TO START TODAY

Southern States Event Opens at West End Club at 10 O'Clock.

Atlanta's skeet shooters will be host to the Southern States Skeet tournament today and Sunday at the West End Gun Club traps. Today's program will start at 10 o'clock with a 50-bird preliminary.

The 20 gauge and small bore championships will be fired during the afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.

A feature of the two-day program will be the 150-bird Southern States championship.

Events have been scheduled for juniors, professionals and women's championships in addition to those for the senior shooters.

Officials of the West End Gun Club, the hosts, have provided 25 silver trophies for the winners in the six divisions, as well as the winners of the two and five-men team events.

A special prize will go to the high gun for the two days' firing.

This shoot will be the last in the southern states before the Grand National in Tulsa, Okla., on August 30.

Team Here Scores 17 Runs in Ninth Inning

All records for amateur as well as professional baseball in Atlanta were broken yesterday afternoon when the Cluett-Peabody team sent 17 runners home in the ninth inning to route National Biscuit in a game at Mozley park.

Available records fail to reveal an instance when a team even approached that record here. Another amazing thing about the feat is that the Cluett-Peabody boys were completely bottled up by the pitching of Davis for eight innings before scoring 22 men to the plate in the eventful ninth.

Hank Greenberg Clouts 3 Homers To Pass Ruth's 1927 Pace

SPUD CHANDLER DOWNS A'S, 5-3; GEHRIG HOMERS

Jimmy Foxx Gets 33d as Red Sox Take 4th Straight.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Led by big Hank Greenberg, who drove out three homers to bring his season total to 41, the Detroit Tigers swept a double-header with the St. Louis Browns yesterday, taking the opener, 8 to 7, and the nightcap, 7 to 4.

Hank Greenberg

The wins extended Detroit's victory streak to five straight.

Greenberg homered off Oral Hildebrand with the bases full in the fourth frame of the opener. In the last of the ninth he hit for the circuit with the sacks empty off Fred Johnson to break up the game.

In the second game Greenberg homered in the first off Howard Mills with two mates on. The day's clouting put him ahead of Babe Ruth's pace of 1927 when the record of 60 was established. Ruth did not hit his 41st homer until August 27. Until today Greenberg's best homer total was 40, set in 1937.

George McQuinn, Brown's first baseman, hit safely in both games to extend to 29 the number of successive games in which he has hit.

Another streak was halted when Billy Rogell, Tiger shortstop, rolled out in the third inning of the opener after having received seven successive bases on balls in three games.

The New York Yankees' American league head lit the 10-game mark. The world champions combined a 14-hit attack with Spud Chandler's six-hit pitching to whip the Athletics, 5 to 2.

The victory was Chandler's 12th against three defeats for the season.

Lou Gehrig whacked his 23rd homer of the season to pace the three-run attack in the second. Thornton Lee held the slipping Cleveland Indians to seven scattered hits and the Chicago White Sox pounded two tribal pitchers for 13 hits to win, 7-2.

Bobby Doerr broke up a pitchers' battle between Fred Ostermueller and Monte Weaver when his single with two down in the ninth gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

He drove in the Sox's slugging first baseman, Jimmy Foxx, who had walked and been sacrificed to second. It was Foxx who started Boston's scoring in the fifth when his mighty homer over the left-field fence, his 33d for the season, drove in Vosmik ahead of him.

Boys' High Holds 1st Practice Today

Boys' High's first football practice of the season will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Maggess' fishing camp on the shores of Lake Burton, in north Georgia.

A majority of the squad will leave the city in cars early this morning for the two weeks in the mountains. Several candidates left early Friday morning on their bicycle (pedaling their way to the mountains.) Bicycle riding was prescribed by Coach Shorty Doyal early in the summer to strengthen some knees which gave the Purple coaches plenty of worry last fall.

Some 50 youngsters are expected to make the trip to Lake Burton today, with others expected during the last week.

FOEMEN SOUGHT FOR BEN BROWN

Chong, Celli and Lesnevich Considered for Next Fight Here.

Three opponents, two of whom hold decisions over Ben Brown, are being considered for a 10-round fight with the Atlanta middleweight at Warren arena within a fortnight, it was revealed last night.

Ralph Chong, the Chinaman who beat Brown at Miami last March, is one of the three under consideration. The others are Tony Celli, crack New York Italian, and Gus Lesnevich, also of New York, who is now ranked third light-heavyweight in the world. He won a very close decision over Brown at Miami last winter. Chong and Lesnevich are the only ringmen to defeat Blasting Ben in two years. Both are a class heavier than Brown, but the Atlantan wants a chance for revenge, if his conquerors will venture down this way.

Brown looked highly impressive last Tuesday night in drubbing Tony Fisher, beating the Newark boy so badly his second jumped into the ring to stop the slaughter in the sixth.

Matchmaker Virgil Warren II will announce Brown's opponent Sunday, he says.

BUFORD WHIPS IOWA TEAM, 8-3

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 19.—Buford's Shoemakers remained undefeated as they started the second week of play in the national semi-pro tournament here with a victory over the Algona, Iowa, team, 8 to 3. Algona has the only colored team in the tourney.

Five teams fell out of the tourney last night with two defeats. Four others besides the Shoemakers still boast unblemished records in the 1938 meet.

The Georgians started with a home rune by McSwain, center field, scoring Shipley ahead in the first, and moved steadily away. It was Algona's first loss in three games played.

Prep Grid Players Hold First Workout

Joel Hunt and Alexander Coach Rival Groups; Boys in Surprisingly Good Shape.

By ROY WHITE.

Georgia's senior prep football players sweated through two hours of hard work Friday afternoon on the Rose Bowl field in the first practice for the all-star game next Friday night at Grant field. The game will feature the first annual coaching clinic, sponsored by the Georgia Athletic Coaches' Association.

Coach Joel Hunt and his Georgia assistants had charge of the northern group in one corner of the Rose Bowl field, while Coach W. A. Alexander and his Georgia Tech aides took the southern group to another corner for practice.

Wallace Butts, Georgia's new end coach, took a large group of ends for some individual instructions, while Coach Hunt and Gabe Tolbert, of Tech High, had the northern backfield at work.

Bobby Dodd took the southern backs to one end of the field and began punting and passing, as Alexander and Mack Tharpe, the Jacket line coach, worked with the linemen.

Josh Cody, the big man who heads the football forces at the University of Florida, spent last night in Atlanta. He was en route to Nashville for a visit with relatives and friends, but will again stop in Atlanta next Friday to attend the prep football game at Grant field.

There were more spectators on the sidelines than players on the field with the onlookers equally divided at both ends of the field.

Much to the surprise of the coaches, a majority of the players came to the Rose Bowl field on fine condition Friday afternoon. Their skins are well tanned and no time was lost in getting right into the heart of the work.

The tackling dummies at both ends of the field were in constant use most of the afternoon and both coaches had the youngsters blocking and charging with each other in body contact.

It was a bit unusual to see the players going through the work that ordinarily would not come for at least two weeks, but with the game coming next Friday night, no time will be lost in rounding both squads into shape.

Friday's program was opened with registrations and a general assembly at the Tech armory during the morning. Track and basketball was discussed during the early afternoon with football coming during the last two hours of the day's work.

Two long football practices are scheduled for today, starting at 9 o'clock this morning and again at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Coach John Patrick, of Oglethorpe, will discuss spinners and reverses from 11 to 12 o'clock in the Tech gymnasium, after Coaches Hunt and Alexander have worked on blocking, tackling, and ball carrying.

Track will again be taken up at 1:30 o'clock with George Griffin in charge. One hour will be devoted to javelin and broad jump.

Coach Roy Mundorff will talk on basketball from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock, with football taking up the last two hours.

FRANKIE PARKER UNABLE TO GIVE REDHEAD BATTLE

Hunt Puts Up Stiff Battle Before Losing in Five Sets.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—(AP) The Newport casino's huge tennis trophy appeared almost in Don Budge's grasp today when he gained the final round by overwhelming Frank Parker, of Beverly Hills, Cal., 6-3, 6-1, 6-3, in the easiest match of the world's premier amateur star has had since he started his drive for his third casino victory.

Budge can gain permanent possession of the handsome bowl, replica of the one Big Bill Tilden retired in 1929, by defeating Sydney Wood, of New York.

Wood became the other finalist by nosing out his doubles partner, Joe Hunt, of Los Angeles, 6-2, 3-6, 5-7, 6-3, 8-6, in a brilliant match that found each trying to storm the net against the other. Wood outlasted the powerful Hunt to win by the closest of margins.

Budge also will figure in the doubles final, the lanky carrot-topped Californian and his Davis Cup partner, Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, qualified for the title round by wearing down Wayne Sabin, of Los Angeles, and Elwood Coke, of Portland, Ore., 15-13, 6-4, 7-5.

HALTED BY DARKNESS.

Just who will play Budge and Mako was not determined, for darkness overtook the other semi-finalists when Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, of Austin, Texas, led Hunt and Wood, 13-15, 6-3, 6-2.

Budge, who complained of muscular twinges in his right arm yesterday when he was extended by Allison in the quarter-finals, had that trusty weapon in prime shape for Parker, who made the fatal error of trying to play a baseline game with the international champion.

Budge's terrific forehand and backhand placements boomed over the net in such monotonous fashion that the usually steady Parker became rattled. Parker was able to make ony one really strong stand against Budge, in the fifth game of the third set, when the loser broke through service by returning four unbeatable chop strokes.

CARELESS START.

Hunt dropped his first set in careless fashion and did not hit his usual stride until he was two games down in the second. Then he crowded the net and pulled out five games in a row and won the set.

Budge and Mako and Hunt and Wood qualified for the semi-finals yesterday, and this morning Allison and Van Ryn entered the second last doubles round by defeating Lewis Wetherell, of Los Angeles, and Robert Kamrath, of Austin, Texas, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, while Sabin and Cooke were turning back Frank Kovacs and Robert Harman, of Oakland, Cal., 6-3, 6-3.

Marble, Wynne Meet In Essex Net Finals.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 19. (AP)—It will be blonde Alice Marble, the former national champion, against 21-year-old Nancye Wynne, the spectacular newcomer from Australia, in both finals of the Essex County Club's invitation women's tennis tournament here tomorrow.

TWO-CLUB MEET IN SEMI-FINALS

Semi-final rounds in The Constitution's novel two-club tournament will be played today and Sunday.

Tom Brown, who eliminated Luke Barnes, the medalist, and Gene Gaillard, a semi-finalist in the recent city amateur tournament, will play Sunday afternoon in the upper half of the title flight.

Weldon Johnson and Sam Riddick, two members of the Piedmont park golf team, will meet Sunday afternoon in the lower half of the championship flight.

An effort is being made to play both semi-finals together Sunday afternoon, so that spectators may watch the matches.

Semi-final matches in all other flights are being played at the convenience of the players.

Cobb Hits 300 Mark In Utah Trial Run

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 19.—(AP)—John Cobb, of England, streaked across the desert today in a test run of his low-slung, silvered Railton speedster at a top speed of approximately 300 miles an hour.

Captain George E. T. Eyeston, who also is here from England to attack his own world record for the measured mile, witnessed his rival's flashing performance.

Eyston set the present mark of 311.41 miles an hour here last November.

"The car performed perfectly, and I am ready to go after the record attempt without another test run," said C[illegible].

Key Cubs Hold Lead In Softball League

In the Little Monarch softball league this week the Key Cubs retained their lead over the Morningside Crackers by defeating the mighty midgets, 5-3, although the Crackers won two out of three games. They defeated the Mighty Midgets, 6-2, but dropped a 1-0 contest to the Little Colonels in the second game of a doube-header after winning the first by a 7-2 score.

Next Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. the Morningside Crackers will play the Key Cubs a double-header at the Morningside playground, while the Little Colonels will tangle in two games with the Mighty Midgets at the Pass Junior High school diamond. On Thursday at 2 o'clock an all-star team will be picked at Morningside playground.

JIMMY RIPPLE HOMERS IN 6TH AS GIANTS WIN

Bill Lohrman Pitches Four-Hit Ball to Beat Phillies.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Jimmy Ripple, filling in for the ailing Mel Ott, smashed a homer inside the park with a mate on base in the sixth inning today to break a tie and give the Giants a 4-to-2 victory over the Phillies.

The win enabled the Giants to pick up a half game on the National league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates and climb to within 4 1-2 games of the pace-setters, who were idle.

Rookie Bill Lohrman went the route for the first time this season and held the futile Phils to four hits, all of them in the first four frames. It was his eighth victory against one defeat.

Wild Bill Hallahan, who succeeded Claude Passeau in the fourth, after the latter strained his back while pitching, was charged with the defeat.

The Giants started the scoring in the first inning on George Myatt's double and Danning's single, the first of Catcher Hank's three hits. Ripple came off the bench to play when Ott turned up with an ailing back.

Cookie Lavagetto's single scored Buddy Hassett in the 11th inning last night to break a scoreless duel and give the Dodgers a 1-to-0 victory over the Boston Bees behind Freddy Frankhouse's three-hit pitching, at Brooklyn.

PAYNE IS WINNER IN CHECKER MEET

The three times Georgia state checker champion, Garland Payne, last night became the southern champion when he defeated W. H. Patterson, of Lawrenceville, Ga, in an all-Georgia finals. He won from Patterson with two wins and two draws, after eliminating Harland Richards, of Nashville, Tenn., earlier in the day in the semi-final round with two wins to one loss and one draw. Payne, who hails from Macon, is only the second Georgian ever to hold the southern title in the 30 years' existence of the Southern Checker Association. The other Georgia champion was G. C. Raymond, of Augusta, who won the title five times.

Patterson, who lost in the finals, reached the final bracket once before in the southern meet. That time he was beaten by Hunt, of Nashville, Tenn., who later won the national championship. Johnny Mitchell, from Cordele, Ga., also reached the semi-final round which gave Georgia three of the semi-finalists, indeed a fine record for the state. Mitchell lost to Patterson with three draws and one defeat against him in the match.

Payne, in attaining his championship, lost only one game, that to Richards in the semi-finals. In the first round he eliminated J. R. Shillinglaw, of York, S. C., three wins and no draws. E. E. Styles, of Greenville, S. C., was his second-round victim. The score in this watch was two wins and one draw for Payne.

RAJAH HORNSBY TO BALTIMORE?

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—John B. Ogden, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, said today that Manager Bucky Crouse will finish the season as manager but that he will be succeeded next year by "an experienced baseball man."

Ogden would not say whether he had any particular person in mind but the name of Rogers Hornsby has been mentioned prominently for the post. Hornsby now is managing Chattanooga.

"Crouse and I are the best of friends, but it's just a case of Bucky being caught in the middle," said Ogden. "Crouse can have a job with us as long as I can give him one. We'll pay him a good salary to go with one of our farm clubs next year if he wants."

A's, Phils Might Play Night Ball Next Year

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—(AP) Officials of both clubs indicated tonight that the Phillies and the Athletics may play night baseball at Shibe park next year.

"Night baseball is a distinct possibility," said Roy Mack, vice president of the Athletics, American league club.

"The fans have proved they want night games," said Gerry Nugent, president of the Phils, National league team. "The success of night ball at Cincinnati and Brooklyn has eliminated whatever doubt existed."

Tide Gridder Suffers Appendicitis Attack

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 19. (AP)—Fred Anderson, substitute center with Alabama's Crimson Tide, underwent an appendicitis operation here today.

Anderson, who went to the Rose Bowl last winter, but did not play in a regular season game, was the third pivotman lost from the Tide's 1938 squad.

Amateur Baseball

ATLANTA COMMERCIAL LEAGUE.

Central Cafe and Merita Bakeries will clash in the feature game of the Atlanta Commercial Baseball League this afternoon at the Central diamond. The Cafe nine is leading the league undefeated this half with Merita Bakeries in second place with one loss. Merita won the first-half championship while Central has the advantage of being the only club in the league to defeat the Bakers this season, having defeated them in their last meeting. All games will start at 3 o'clock.

THE SCHEDULE.

Merita Bakers vs. Central Cafe, at Central. Umpires, Clegg and Peacock.
Dixisteel vs. Miller Service, at Glenn field.
Southern Railway vs. Gordon St. Berean Class, at Mozley park. Umpires, Woodward and Scott.

DIXIE LEAGUE.

Underwood Methodist has planned to give the undefeated Post Office club a tough game this afternoon in the Dixie league feature as the clubs meet at Piedmont park. Underwood upset Adamsville last week, marking the latter's first defeat of the season. N., C. & St. L. and Brookhaven are evenly matched for a close game at Camp Gordon. Each team has lost three games out of five. All games will start at 3:30 o'clock.

THE SCHEDULE.

N., C. & St. L. vs. Brookhaven, at Camp Gordon. Umpire, L. W. Brown.
Holy Innocent vs. Adamsville, at Adamsville. Umpire, Patrick.
Underwood vs. Post Office, at N. W. Piedmont. Umpire, Cunningham.

CHATTAHOOCHEE LEAGUE.

Norcross and Crabapple will meet in the feature game of the Chattahoochee Amateur Baseball League this afternoon at Crabapple. Norcross went into the league lead last week and Crabapple plans to unseat them. Three games remain to be played in the league schedule. All games will start at 3 o'clock.

THE SCHEDULE.

Norcross vs. Crabapple, at Crabapple.
Glover vs. Chamblee at Chamblee.
Milstead vs. Tucker, at Tucker.

GEORGIA LEAGUE.

Three games are scheduled in the Georgia Amateur Baseball League this week with Hapeville meeting Georgia Duck at Kirkwood in the feature game this afternoon. After a two-week absence from the diamond, Atlanta Linen will play Mt. Carmel Christian at Mt. Carmel in another thrilling game. White Provision, league leaders, will clash with Southern Railway Shops. All games will start at 3:30 o'clock.

THE SCHEDULE.

Atlanta Linen vs. Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Carmel. Umpire, Gray.
Sou. Ry. Shops vs. White Provision, at Waterworks. Umpire, Kendricks.
Hapeville vs. Ga. Duck and Cordage, at Kirkwood. Umpire, E. W. Brown.

ATLANTA TEXTILE LEAGUE.

Fulton Bag and Whittier Mills are still tied up in the Atlanta Textile league race, both havinga perfect rcored for the second half of the season. Whittier meets Marietta, team that has won only one game this half, and Fulton plays Exposition who has won more than half of their games. Scottdale and Piedmont will furnish a good exhibition as they are both pushing Holeproof for the bottom position.

SCHEDULE.

Exposition Mills vs. Fulton Bag at Fulton. Taylor, umpire.

WAR ADMIRAL TO RUN TODAY

SARTOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The blankets come off War Admiral again tomorrow and Samuel Riddle's great son of Man O' War had better be ready.

The Admiral, will be heavily backed in the Whitney purse, $3,000-added, but it will be a tough struggle if William Ziegler Jr.'s great mare, Esposa, runs to her true form.

Esposa was only three-fifths of a second off Saratoga's track record in winning the recent Champlain handicap of a mile and a furlong. The added distance of Whitney which is run at a mile and a quarter will be to Esposa's liking for the six-year-old daughter of Espino-Quick Batter can run all day.

Whether she will elect to run in her best form none can say, however. She runs almost as many bad races as good ones.

Only three others were named for the Whitney—the Blair stud's Fighting Fox and Isolater and Mrs. E. Graham Lewis' Great Union.

Mrs. Griffin's Putting Is Best at Druid Hills

Mrs. George Griffin Jr. won the putting contest yesterday in the ladies' one-day tourney at Druid Hills. She turned in 32 putts for 18 holes.

Mrs. George Dean won the prize for "the sealed nine."

MULLINS WINS.

TOBACCO QUOTA MEETING TODAY

Growers and AAA Officials To Discuss Problems at Douglas Session.

DOUGLAS, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP) Representatives of tobacco farmers and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will meet here tomorrow morning to study the controversial question of marketing quotas, turbulent issue of the 1938 record-breaking auction season which closed today in Georgia.

Two Washington officials, J. B. Hutson, AAA administrator, and J. E. Thigpen, assistant chief of the AAA tobacco section, will take part in the conference. Homer S. Durden, of Athens, state administrator, also will attend.

They will meet with the county agents and members of the county agricultural committees of more than 50 tobacco-producing counties.

Allotment Problems.

Although no official statement was made of the purpose of the meeting, it was expected the question of quotas would be the chief subject of discussion. Readjustments in a number of the quotas followed early protests of poundage allotments, and it was expected the meeting would seek to iron out other problems arising from the distribution of allotments to individual growers.

Similar readjustments of quotas have been ordered in other tobacco-producing states, but the entire question also has been routed toward a supreme court decision on constitutionality of the control system.

The meeting here tomorrow will be held in the agricultural college, starting at 9 o'clock.

Growers in Florida and Georgia first attacked the marketing quotas in the state courts. This week the challenge of constitutionality of the quotas was transferred to the federal courts, where an early supreme court review is assured under a new federal statute expediting such decisions.

The marketing quota plan under fire was adopted after a secret vote of growers in all the tobacco-producing states last March. The plan limits the amount of tobacco that individual growers may market without payment of a penalty tax of 50 per cent of the market price, or a minimum of three cents a pound, whichever is greater.

Quotas are in addition to the acreage allotments, and are based on average production over a period of years. A number of growers complained their quotas were too small. The AAA announced that an unexpectedly large number of new growers for whom allowance had to be made in the quotas had upset earlier calculations and immediately began an upward adjustment of the protested figures.

Fourteen of the 15 south Georgia markets closed today, with sales well above 80,000,000 pounds and exceeding $18,000,000, the highest since the markets were established 21 years ago.

The Statesboro market will remain open all next week, it was announced tonight, to handle scattering tobacco still unsold. There will be a full set of buyers.

Official reports on the season's sales will be issued next week by the State Department of Agriculture.

Warehouses will remain open in other market centers, Adel, Baxley, Blackshear, Douglas, Hahira, Hazlehurst, Mette, Moultrie, Nashville, Pelham, Tifton, Valdosta, Vidalia and Waycross, for growers to clear checks held up for quota cards.

In cases where sales exceed the individual quotas, one-half the market price will be held pending final decision on constitutionality of the system.

The AAA made no estimate of the amount of tax money involved, but Tifton alone reported approximately $250,000 in dispute. No estimate was available today on the amount of tobacco sold in excess of the state quota of approximately 76,000,000 pounds. This figure itself is subject to revision upon completion of the readjustment of protested quotas.

SIBLEY, KENNAMER MAY SIT ON LEAF CASE

MACON, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Judges Samuel H. Sibley of the fifth circuit court of appeals, and Charles B. Kennamer of the middle district of Alabama have expressed willingness to sit with Judge Bascom S. Deaver of the middle district of Georgia in the suit brought by tobacco growers against warehousemen, challenging validity of the crop marketing quotas under the AAA.

They will hear the case with Judge Deaver in Valdosta September 23 if they are designated by Judge Rufus E. Foster, senior jurist in the fifth circuit bench.

Under a recent act of congress, all questions involving the constitutionality of an act must be passed upon by a three-judge court before going to the supreme court.

CHARLES DUSTIN RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Charles W. Dustin, 51, southeastern district manager of the Westinghouse Electric Supply Company, who died unexpectedly Thursday afternoon in his office, will be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning at Spring Hill, conducted by Bishop H. J. Mikell. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Dustin had been southeastern manager since 1932 and came to Atlanta five years ago when the offices were moved from Jacksonville, Fla. He was born and reared in Reading, Mass., living in New York city for many years before coming to the south.

He was a Mason and was a member of the Atlanta Athletic Club.

57 STATE CHANGES ASKED IN NEW YORK

Proposed Revisions Are Assailed by Democrats as 'Brazenly Political.'

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP) A five-months' convention to revise the basic law in President Roosevelt's home state wound up tonight with 57 proposed constitutional changes, including a "bill of rights" for labor and what opponents of the New Deal term a "curb" on governmental bureaucracy.

New York's Republican-controlled constitutional convention, eighth held since 1777 under a permanent provision that permits revamping of the constitution every 20 years, also approved in its closing hours a reapportionment of legislative districts labeled by Democrats "unjust and brazenly political."

All measures adopted by the $1,350,000 conclave must meet a popular referendum in November. The document formulated by a similar convention in 1915 was rejected in its entirety, leaving the state to operate under an 1894 constitution plus numerous individual amendments subsequently approved by the people.

The so-called "anti-bureaucracy" proposal, described by Democratic opposition as a "whack at the New Deal," provides for court review on the facts as well as the law in appeals from decisions of state bureaus, except those dealing with taxation, education and workmen's compensation.

Labor's proposed "bill of rights" would stipulate the privilege of collective bargaining by representatives of its own choosing, require an eight-hour day, five-day week for laborers on public works projects and payment of the prevailing rate of wages.

LINDBERGH KEEPS SOVIET PLANS SECRET

MOSCOW, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh passed the day in Moscow without disclosing the purpose of his flying trip here with his wife.

He made repeated telephone calls tao London and discussed with Soviet air officials various plans for trips outside Moscow, but it still was not known whether he and Mrs. Lindbergh were here on a pleasure or business trip. They are expected to remain in the Soviet Union at least a week.

TARZAN AND THE FORBIDDEN CITY No. 84

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Tarzan and Herkuf stepped through the doorway, the warriors set upon them. Fending flailing spears, Tarzan seized the foremost assailant and hurled him across the room. Herkuf grappled with another, but he was weak from his long confinement.

The mighty Lord of the Jungle fought with the strength and desperation of a beast at bay. His two hands were powerful hammers, striking the chins of his adversaries. His arms pumped and swung. His feet danced lightly as he ducked and dodged. . . .

. . . At this moment, another detail of warriors swooped down on Tarzan's friends who were waiting at the entrance to the passage. Helen's heart sank. She was terrified by the thought of returning to Brulor's temple. Even death was preferable to that. . . .

. . . Now Herkuf was struck down, and Tarzan was left to fight alone. Already the ape-man had accounted for three opponents. As he was about to dispatch a fourth, another warrior aimed a blow from behind. The odds against him were too great even for Tarzan!

INEXPENSIVE DISHES FEATURE COOK BOOK

Buying Charts Included in Volume Offered Housewives Without Cost.

The hostess with limited means finds her entertainment problems solved by America's Cook Book, which The Atlanta Constitution is providing without money cost to Georgia home-makers.

Two six months' subscriptions to The Constitution is the "price." In return for the subscriptions The Constitution purchases the America's Cook Book outright and delivers it to persons obtaining the subscriptions.

Interest continues to mount in this movement. Housewives and mothers show particular interest in the special calorie and vitamin tables, the buying charts which make possible many new economies, the discussions of correct procedure from the pen of Emily Post, and other informative features.

America's Cook Book, containing more than 1,006 pages, is the result of 20 years' research and testing by The Home Institute. The book, which sells at $2.50 retail, can be earned with an hour's easy effort.

SMITH RELIEVED IN WEIRTON CASE

NLRB Hearing Storm Center Asked Replacement.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—(UP) Charles T. Douds, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, said tonight he "believed" the NLRB had relieved Trial Examiner Edward Grandison Smith from duty in the case against Weirton Steel Company because of "ill-health."

Douds' statement was the first official intimation here that the elderly Smith had asked, and received, leave from the prolonged case in which the trial examiner has been the storm center.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(UP) An official of the National Labor Relations Board tonight said that Trial Examiner Edward Grandison Smith has been relieved, at his own request, from the case involving Weirton Steel Company.

Leader in Board of Education Praises "America's Cook Book"

Mrs. A. B. Conger of Bainbridge Accords High Tribute to Volume.

MRS. A. B. CONGER.

High praise is given America's Cook Book—pronounced the "last word in cook books" which The Constitution is making available without money cost—by Mrs. A. B. Conger, of Bainbridge, members of the State Board of Education. Mrs. Conger says:

"To be able to plan, prepare and serve an appetizing, satisfying meal, and at the same time stay within the family food budget, is an essential in home making, and should not be regarded lightly either by the bride or the mother whose children have gotten beyond the 'spinach and carrot age.'

"Keeping the family group together in the home has become a major problem of this generation, and the housewife and mother must not discount one of her greatest allies in 'home-keeping'—good food, attractively served. It is true that she must compete with clubs where service is quiet and efficient and food is of one's own choosing; with bright, cheery tea rooms; with lunch counters and corner drug stores, where service is quick; but no effort is too great if she can attract her family to her table two or three times each day.

"A close study of America's Cook Book can be of inestimable value in 'home-keeping.' It adequately answers every problem of the housewife in preparing and serving dishes and meals which are suited exactly to the need of each member of the family. With calories counted and vitamin contents explained; with more than 5,000 tested recipes; menus and service given for formal luncheons and dinners; with suggestions for quick lunches and impromptu entertaining, the book is invaluable.

"Every page of this comprehensive book is important to housewife who wants to raise her housekeeping from the level of drab drudgery to a higher place of efficient service to her family."

New Wing on Newnan's Hospital Will Be Added at Cost of $50,000

Work Also Goes Forward on Proposal To Erect $100,000 City-County Building; Many Cities Plan Construction.

NEWNAN, Ga., Aug. 19.—Plans are now going forward for the erection of a $50,000 addition to the Newnan hospital, providing a new wing approximately the same size of the present building, E. G. Cole, member of the board of directors, said today.

Among changes to be made will be the conversion of the existing ground floor into emergency rooms and operating rooms; a new obstetrical section on the second floor of the new building; relocation of the kitchens, and addition of several new general wards.

The project was one of several, chief of which is the proposed construction of a $100,000 city-county building. Arrangements were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the council building committee with Kennon Perry, architect, selected to draw plans and prepare applications for PWA aid on the project.

Members of the committee are: C. W. Farmer, chairman; C. J. Smith, G. C. Polk, Paul M. Kehely and J. B. Fuller.

Another project contemplated the construction of a new municipal gymnasium. Originally estimated to cost $18,000, the estimate this week was raised to $22,000 by request of PWA officials, who said the additional $4,000 was necessary to carry out specifications set forth in the application for government aid.

Bryan M. Blackburn, chairman of the gymnasium committee, has been informed the application will receive approval within the next few days, and construction is expected to start early in September.

$80,000 ADDITION FOR HARPST HOME

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Aug. 19.—Final approval has been given and plans are now under way for construction of two modern new buildings, to cost $80,000, at the Ethel Harpst Home in Cedartown. The structures will include a modern brick administration building and dormitory combined, and a residence for Miss Ethel Harpst, founder of the home.

Funds for the construction have been donated by Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer, of New York, who has aided the Cedartown institution in the past. The donation was made through the Methodist Woman's Home Missionary Society a few weeks ago, and was formally accepted at a meeting of the executive board of that organization, sponsor of the home.

O. C. Poundstone, Atlanta, is architect in charge of construction plans.

News of Gate City Told in Paragraphs

Resolution indorsing the petition of the Fulton county negro school teachers for a raise in pay was forwarded to the Fulton county board of education yesterday by the Parent-Teacher Association of College Park, headed by T. P. Grissom, president.

C. L. Wood, candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination from the fifth district, subject to the September primaries, spoke last night at a rally held by his supporters at Bankhead avenue and Ashby street. Mr. Wood is opposing Congressman Robert Ramspeck, incumbent.

Chief D. T. Dailey, of DeKalb county police, has accepted an invitation to address a session of the annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs in Toronto August 29 to 31, it was learned last night.

Allan D. Shell, 23, of a Jones street address, was arrested yesterday in DeKalb county when police chased his liquor-laden car several miles. Police said the car contained 100 gallons of untaxed liquor.

Vacancies in the ratings of signalman and radio operator exist in the Atlanta naval reserve unit, it was announced yesterday, and persons interested in joining have been requested to report at the naval reserve armory, Georgia Tech campus, on Thursday nights.

Families originally from Bremen and Waco, Ga., will hold an all-day reunion at Grant park tomorrow, it was announced last night.

CONVICT IS KILLED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Was En Route to Tattnall After Escape; Guard Hurt.

SOPERTON, Ga., Aug. 19.—A recaptured convict was killed in a highway accident here today as he was being returned to the Tattnall prison, and the guard driving the car was injured seriously.

The convict was Thomas Vaughan, sent up from Lumpkin county in 1937 for auto theft. He escaped May 4 of this year and was recaptured several days ago in Atlanta.

Troy McDilda, a guard, was sent to Atlanta to return the prisoner to Tattnall. A short distance north of here the guard's car collided head-on with another car.

McDilda's injuries are serious, but are not expected to prove fatal. Warden J. C. Walton arrived from Reidsville early tonight to investigate the accident.

REBELS PREPARING FOR 'END-WAR' PUSH

Franco Closes Border, Unleashes Furious Air Bombardments.

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), Aug. 19.—(AP) Generalissimo Franco today shifted his Insurgent legions for a new general offensive to bring the two-year-old Spanish civil war to a close before winter.

The preparatory maneuvers were accompanied by a new fury of aerial bombardments along the eastern coast in which British shipping suffered heavily. The actual war fronts were comparatively quiet.

Barcelona was rocked by the heaviest bombing since March, when hundreds died.

The assaults today on the government capital in Catalonia and on two Catalonian coastal villages, Sitges and Vallcarca, 25 miles southwest of Barcelona, were reported to have injured or killed more than 150 persons.

Sink British Freighter.

Government dispatches said Insurgent airmen bombed and sank the 1,363-ton British freighter Stanbrook following reports of an unsuccessful bomb attack on the 2,600-ton Stanforth. The Stanhope Shipping Company owned both merchantmen.

No casualties were reported in either case. The Stanbrook was sunk in the port of Vallcarca. The Stan Forth wirelessed she was "deliberately bombed" of Barcelona, en route to Oran, Algeria, but was not struck.

Reports from the British-leased port of Gandia, south of Valencia, said three Insurgent planes dropped 50 bombs at midday, destroying several houses. No casualties were reported.

There was a trickle of news from Insurgent Spain, however. These advices said Franco's Navarrese, cream of the Spanish forces, and Italian shock divisions were moving to the northern or Catalonian front while Moorish reinforcements took places in central and eastern Spain.

Points at Valencia.

The offensive is expected to be directed principally at Valencia, former provisional capital, and Barcelona which, with Madrid, are the major centers of government resistance.

Insurgent authorities cancelled passes for exit to France as had been done frequently in the past before big offensives started. This measure halted normal traffic of Spaniards leaving Insurgent territory.

A dispatch from Burgos said authorizations for travel across the border would be issued for persons who could "justify" their departure.

DEMONSTRATION SLATED.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 19. The Warm Springs Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a demonstration meeting next Friday morning on the Jonah farm, showing the best methods of constructing and operating a water works and sewerage system on Georgia farms.

STATE DEATHS

MILLEN, Ga., Aug. 19.—Services for Mrs. Elizabeth Matthews Newton, wife of A. Sydney Newton, were held today at the home of Mr. Newton's father, John C. Newton. Mrs. Newton died after a brief illness. She was a member of Millen Methodist church and of the Millen Woman's Club. She is survived by her husband; an infant daughter; her mother, Mrs. Nina Matthews, of Bartow; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Goodrich, of Winter Park, Fla., and Mrs. Bill Hardeman, of Atlanta, and three brothers, T. B. Matthews, of Atlanta; Bascom Matthews, of Bartow, and Coleman Matthews, of Winter Park. Rites were conducted by the Rev. W. E. Scott, assisted by the Rev. T. R. Harvill. Music was by a quartet composed of Mrs. W. H. Sheppard Jr., Mrs. D. W. Harrison, Carey Averitt and L. P. Strickland, accompanied by Mrs. D. W. Johnson. Burial was in Elam churchyard near Millen.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our dear father, Mr. Thomas R. Glover, who passed away one year ago today.

Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet your memory still;
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
